Willacy Furnishes Biggest Surprise With Sheriff's Race; Celaya Race Looms

HARLINGEN—Willacy county kept its place at the head of the Valley political parade Saturday, furnishing the biggest event of the final day for filing by producing two new candidates in the sheriff's race. G. W. McDougald, the Raymondville city marshal, and Lonnie Stone, former deputy sheriff.

The filing by the two new candidates, a double-barrelled surprise for practically all Valley political observers, turned the Willacy sheriff's race into a five-man affair which will gain a large portion of interest in what is conceded one of that county's hottest election years in its history. The three other candidates are Sheriff Joe Turner, Mack Christman and Luther Snow, present tax assessor-collector and former Willacy county sheriff.

Second in interest among Saturday's political developments was the drawing of two last minute opponents in Cameron county by State Representative Augustine Celaya, who himself waited until the final day to file. Gust Butler of San Benito and A. R. Davis of Combes jumped into the fray on the final day to make it a three-way contest.

LINDY FEARS U. S. DRIFTING TOWARD WAR

WASHINGTON—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh asserted Saturday night that the defense of the United States should be constructed with the "cooperation of all American countries," but that "we must insist upon military bases being placed wherever they are needed for our own safety, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

He embraced this idea of western hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery (NBC) in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend" toward involvement in the European war and cease "these gestures with an empty gun."

Is Widely Criticized
Saturday night's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month. On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"—a speech which brought criticism from various members of Congress and praise from some others.

Saturday night he reiterated this viewpoint in these words:

"This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. . . . We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. . . . We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, to Finland, and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we cannot send."

He contended that it was "useless to talk of sending American troops to Europe now, for we would need months of preparation before we could train and equip even a small army."

If Germany wins, he argued, Europe will be a "barrage of fire."

Turkey Stays Neutral On Russia's Orders

ANKARA, Turkey—(P)—The government informed all foreign envoys Saturday night that Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged and that for the present she will continue her non-belligerent status. The notice was given after Soviet Russia, informed sources said, had made known to Ankara that Moscow would prefer that Turkey not enter the war on the grounds that extension of the war to the Balkans was "undesirable."

Drive Extended

Red Cross Total In Harlingen $707

HARLINGEN—The Red Cross drive to raise a quota of $930 will be extended through Monday, officials announced when Saturday, the third day of the campaign, fell approximately $200 short of the goal. The Harlingen total raised to date is $707.

San Benito, meanwhile, climbed to $251.07, jumping from Friday's $75. (San Benito's quota is also $930.)

Red Cross officials in Harlingen are confident the additional $200 needed will be raised Monday, and will continue to keep a booth in the First National Bank.

U. S. Border Patrol To Be Doubled

Training School To Provide 800 New Men For Mexican Border

EL PASO—(P)—Doubling of the U. S. immigration border patrol was projected Saturday along preliminary steps for establishing a training school to provide 800 new border patrolmen along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Local immigration authorities conferred on doubling the border personnel here with James E. Ruffing and Daniel McGrath, assistant U. S. attorney general, who were ordered here by the Justice Department to study methods of intensifying border patrol activity.

Training of the 800 new border patrolmen will be undertaken in the ensuing eight months, it was stated, in details of 100 trainees at a time.

Commenting on doubling of personnel here an immigration service official said that at present there are only 60 patrolmen to cover the 300-mile border along Mexico between the Arizona-New Mexico line, and the Texas line due south of the eastern New Mexico line.

"Soon we will have 120 patrolmen for the area," the official said, "according to word we have just received from Washington. A bill providing for the extra men is expected to reach the president's desk soon."

FDR PLEDGES 'REDOUBLED' ALLIED AID

But Tells France She Must Fight On

TO RUSH ARMS

Answers French Final Plea For Help

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Roosevelt, replying to the "last appeal" of Premier Reynaud for further aid for France, pledged redoubled efforts Saturday to supply munitions, but told him that only Congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight, "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

No Nazi Recognition
And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempts to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France."

It was after making this pledge that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the question of military aid.

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only the Congress can make such commitments."

It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Answers 'Last Appeal'

Reynaud directed to the President last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal." In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high place ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the president's communication was not being given to reporters because it was the same as his radio address which had been published.

Confers With Envoys
Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count De St.

Officers Interrupt Pro-Allied Meeting At Rio De Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO—(P)—A demonstration on the steps of the Municipal Theater, which authorities had permitted on the grounds it would be purely a pro-United States manifestation, was interrupted by police Saturday when it turned into a pro-Allied manifestation.

Brazil has remained neutral in the war and as a neutral has prohibited public manifestations for one side or the other.

The bill is designed to tighten federal laws aimed at subversive elements. It now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate amendments.

Russia Invades Lithuania And President Flees To Germany; Verdun Falls Saturday

REDS CLAIM LITHUANIANS ATTACK THEM

Troops Moved Close To Nazi Border

BERLIN—(Sunday)—(P)—Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

The presumption in informed quarters was that he would be given the privilege of asylum should he appear in German territory.

"The German view is that the developments in Lithuania are a Russian-Lithuanian matter in which the Reich has no direct interest," said an authorized spokesman.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW—(P)—Soviet Russia gained her ultimatum Saturday "free passage" into Lithuania—the little country bordering Germany on East Prussia—an unlimited number of troops of the Red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

To Moscow alone, however, was left the decision as to how many men would be sufficient.

COTTON CROP SAME AS 1939

Latest 'First Bale' On Record Due

HARLINGEN—The Valley's first bale of cotton this season may be the latest in recent history as a result of weather conditions which delayed planting and cotton men were of the opinion that it might be July 1 before the first bale is harvested. The movement was not expected to get generally under way until about the middle of July, many weeks later than usual, according to Frost Bohner of the South Texas Cotton Oil Company.

Drought conditions delayed plantings considerably but rains came at an opportune time and most of the crop was planted during a short period so that harvesting is expected to be fairly uniform.

Rains of the past week have materially increased prospect for the cotton crop, according to Douglas Carroll of the Harlingen Cotton Oil Company. He said the acreage was about the same as last season and that the production should be nearly the same. The Valley produced 93,000 bales last season. He estimated that there would be scattered bales until about the middle of July when harvesting might become general. Cotton, however, is subject to many hazards and these conditions might change overnight, he said. Damage from insect pests has been comparatively negligible with little loss from the cotton flea hopper.

Nazis Discount Aid From U. S. To Allies

BERLIN—(P)—The opinion of informed quarters in Berlin Sunday was that President Roosevelt's promise of further aid for the French and British held out "little prospect of effective help to the Allies."

It was pointed out here that the continuance of material aid from America was conditioned by the president on continued resistance by the Allies against Germany.

Paris Is Ghost Town As Nazi Take Over Saturday

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
PLACE DE L'OPERA, Paris (By Courier Plane to Berlin)—(P)—The Swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated Saturday from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in this German-captured capital of France.

It is recalled that last January 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the Fuehrer twitted the Premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:

"Oh, Monsieur Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."

I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.

Only Austrian Vanguard In Paris

Only the Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.

(The cable was written at 9 a.m. Saturday.)

That Hitler himself is due here soon is taken for granted.

(The Tribune de Geneve, of Geneva, Switzerland, carried a special Paris dispatch Saturday night saying that German troops were busy "preparing the Palace of Versailles for the arrival of Chancellor Hitler.")

Paris, Almost Empty, Seems Dead
We arrived Friday night in this city that seems dead. I just do not recognize Paris again. Seventy per cent of its population has fled.

From the Hotel Crillon, where once President Wilson of the United States addressed French crowds, the Swastika is flying. Before the tomb of "Un Soldat Inconnu" were standing old women, young women, bearded old men and boys in their teens. Many of the older women were sobbing softly.

Never could one forget that deeply touching scene.

Germans Pay Honor To French Dead

As we approached the tomb in company of our guides from the army their looks hardened for a moment. They appeared to relax somewhat, however, when the German officers removed their caps, stood still, then saluted the symbol of the brave French soldiery buried there.

To countless American tourists who know Paris it is probably as incomprehensible as it was to me that the old Paris was a ghost city when I entered.

Under arrangements made by Prof. Karl Boemer, chief of the foreign press department of the ministry of propaganda in Berlin—incidentally, a man who has travelled up and down the United States and Mexico and knows America well—we foreign newsmen reached the French capital on the same day the first German troops did.

Vanguards of the German army had reached the city on Friday at 7 a.m.

Former Austrian Leads Nazi Troops

FRENCH SEEK TO INUNDATE MAGINOT LINE

Cabinet Meets, Makes Vital Decision

BASEL, Switzerland—(P)—French efforts to flood the Germans out of the foothold they had secured on the French side of the Rhine, 40 miles north of Basel, were reported Saturday night to have failed.

By The Associated Press

Conquering German armies stormed through the Maginot Line Saturday to pierce France's vitals from the east. Down the center they drove 135 miles southeast of Nazi-occupied Paris behind the Maginot forts.

The Germans claimed Verdun, shrine of French World War valor.

French Staggering

The French army, staggering under these and other terrible blows, struggled on in anguished resolve with what remained of its strength.

Militarily, events seemed to have reached some final turning point. The British, declaring that the Allies' "consultation and agreement" still holds, hinted that Sunday would tell the story of the fight for France.

Politically and diplomatically, the portents of the sweep of German arms were felt around the world, and led President Roosevelt to assure the Allies that the United States would redouble its effort to speed guns, planes, munitions—"with no implications of military commitment"—so long as Allied resistance continued.

President Roosevelt's message went to Premier Reynaud of France, who had beseeched the United States for aid, with "clouds of planes" before it is too late.

French Admit Losses But Still Fight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. The following story however has been received by wire from Associated Press men in Bordeaux.)

Deep behind the Maginot other Nazi columns—more than 100 miles due west of the crossing of the Rhine—plunged over the Siene and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of German-occupied Paris.

French Fight Back

The French fought back with the fury of men in anguish.

The government met "somewhere in France" President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, Admiral Jean Darlan, the navy chief, and General Joseph Vuillemin, the air chief, were there.

Judgment Of Solomon

Baby Switched During Raid, Mothers Sue

THE HAGUE—(P)—Two tearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Solomon" Saturday.

The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out a window to a pedestrian who took it to an air raid shelter.

She accused the defendant of taking possession of it there.

The defendant contended that the baby, now seven weeks old, was her own.

M'ALLEN TAX BOARD ENDS INITIAL WORK

School Values Are Given Raise

McALLEN — The joint McAllen city school board of equalization had completed about one-third of their work Saturday when they finished their study of the renditions of the "original townsite."

Chairman William Reis said all renditions had been studied on the part of the city south of Highway Avenue between South Tenth and South Eighteenth Streets. They began North McAllen study Saturday afternoon.

Lot values on school renditions for 15 pieces of property, situated in the 200 block of South Main Street were raised, Reis said, to put them on an equal basis with the city valuation. This raise represented the only "material change" in valuations, according to the chairman.

A total of 29 pieces of property have been adjusted for school tax purposes to conform with the city assessment.

A large number of variations in the school and city valuations have been uncovered by the board, acting for the first time in a joint capacity. Several changes have been made, particularly in personal property values by the board, Reis said.

To date 73 property holders are listed for a hearing on school valuations and 70 for the city. Most of these represent places where values were rendered lower than those set last year.

A hearing will be held June 20 for property owners outside of the city limits in the school district. Reis estimated it would take the board about two weeks or more to complete initial hearings which began last Monday.

Last year the same board served for 17 days on their first sitting when they revamped the valuations for South Main Street business district.

MAGINOT LINE IS SHATTERED

Indefensible, and that there is no military hope now for France.

The Germans now are not only attacking the Maginot line; they are within it and behind it.

Both statements were made while all of Germany still was hailing the capture of Paris and the high command's announcement that "the Reich's war flag is waving over the Palace of Versailles where in 1871 the German destiny was established and in 1919 the German shame sealed."

Take 200,000 Prisoners
In that earlier communique, the high command asserted the Germans had taken more than 200,000 prisoners in ten days of blitzkrieg and an "inestimable" amount of war materials.

The Germans tried to take Verdun, secure behind its related forts, in February, 1916. By September Germany's offensive had failed.

The French numbered their dead and wounded then at 350,000, the Germans at 330,000.

The storming of Verdun was a tremendous rear attack or a flank-turning movement against the line of steel and concrete fortifications which for long have been a symbol of French security—the Maginot Line.

The other attack—south of Saarbrücken—was a frontal assault near the middle of the German-French frontier.

The Berlin newspaper "Nachtausgabe" commenting on the German victories, outlined three tasks facing the French high command:

First, they must attempt to gather their "best" and "scattered" forces behind Paris. At the same time they must greatly strengthen the Maginot Line unless they intend to carry out a "retreating" fight there. And third they must try to meet Italian pressure which, the paper said, was naturally growing stronger daily on the Alpine border.

The German press, as well as officialdom, stressed the news of the German capture of Paris but gave no hint of whether Hitler intends to go to the French capital.

While the Germans were establishing themselves in Paris, German tanks were dive-bombing the steel and concrete forts of the Maginot Line and artillery was throwing tons of high explosives shells into the French defenses.

"The pursuit between the Seine and the Meuse everywhere is in full force," the morning communique said. "Dissolution of the defeated French armies is progressing. At several points the enemy troops have surrendered without fighting."

The communique noted that the French in the past few days had "hastily put up new divisions from remnants of defeated divisions and reserves," but added that yesterday "south of the Argonne forest the enemy was thrown southeastward and forced off the line of retreat."

With application of heavy pressure on the Maginot Line, it became increasingly apparent, the Germans were trying to repeat the strategy which successfully led to the envelopment of thousands of Allied troops in northwest France.

In the attack on the Saar front, bunkers, artillery and infantry positions, as well as columns of French troops were bombed and shelled by tanks and heavy artillery.

The high command said that this attack, opening Friday, resulted in the capture of numerous defenses, including a strong bunkers group at Saar-Alben west.

Air attacks in the region of Verdun, Metz and Belfort, preceded the capture of the fortified town of Verdun. In the world war it was mainly artillery and infantry. Saturday the Germans used their air force against troop concentrations and movements, against rail lines and roads.

Reporter Goes To Paris With Nazi, Tells Changes

In fact, we correspondents arrived even ahead of the officer appointed commandant for the occupied capital.

That meant no regulations had yet been issued for the conduct of citizens, for the hour of their retirement in the evening, or for a division of powers between local authorities and the occupation forces.

So at street corners the French people stood about rather uncertain just where they fitted into the picture.

Along the Champs Elysees only one cafe was open—all else was dead.

Other avenues radiating from the Place de la Concorde were dead. At the busy Place de l'Opera I counted exactly 11 persons, two of them policemen.

A preliminary tour of the main sights of beautiful Paris indicated that no damage had been done anywhere.

No Damage Reported
I visited the Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Invalides, the Quai d'Orsay, the Place de la Concorde, the museum, the Chamber of Deputies, Place Vendôme, City Hall and the Sarah Bernhardt Theatre—nowhere any damage.

From the American embassy I saw stars and stripes were displayed. Nearby the Swastika waved on the flag staff on the Crillon Hotel.

We approached Paris from the coast via Amiens, Saint Just, Clermont, Creil and Le Bourget, then detouring to Saint Denis.

Lebourget, the great Paris airport, was a shambles. It had been singled out especially for German bombers for destruction.

Creil, too, was badly shelled.

Good Marksmanship
Amiens afforded a strange spectacle in that the German bombers there had given one of their best exhibitions of marksmanship.

All around Amiens' priceless cathedral—the largest ecclesiastical edifice in France—everything had been blown to bits, including the bishop's residence.

The cathedral itself, however, was entirely untouched.

Throughout the 80-mile drive from Amiens to Paris, I had plenty of occasion to note evidences of the vigor with which the retreating French had fought.

When the Germans started from Amiens against the so-called Weygand line June 5, they ran up against a system comparable in many respects to Germany's own Siegfried line, which differs from the Maginot in that it is not linear and massed but is carried far to the rear on a stagger principle.

General Weygand's plan, which the Germans themselves admit was cleverly conceived, lacked time for realization. Hence, the Germans said, it did not constitute a real hindrance to their forward dash.

RUSSIA TAKES LITHUANIANS

big as she pleased very close to the far eastern Russian frontiers.

(Berlin dispatches reported that upon acceptance of the ultimatum, men of the Red army began marching into Lithuania Saturday afternoon, meeting no resistance.)

It was on the basis of the mutual assistance pact—signed on Oct. 10, 1939, after Russia's seizure of eastern Polish territory while Germany was occupying its western sections, that Moscow moved suddenly Saturday.

Accusing the Lithuanians of kidnapping Soviet airmen, of the "murder" of a member of the Soviet army, of entering a Lithuanian-Lavian-Estonian military alliance hostile to Russia and of preparing an attack on a Soviet garrison in Lithuania, Russia demanded the right to send troops unmolested across the frontier.

Changes Government
She also demanded successfully that Lithuania replace its existing government with one "willing" to restrain "the enemies" of the pact, and that the Lithuanian minister of internal affairs and the director of political police be prosecuted "as those directly responsible for previous violations against the Soviet garrison in Lithuania."

The Lithuanians were given a deadline of 10 o'clock Saturday morning; at 9 o'clock, Moscow announced, they gave in.

VALLEY SECS ELECT CHIEF

Don Wallace Fills President Post

PORT ISABEL—Don Wallace of San Benito was elected president of the Valley Chamber of Commerce Secretaries Association at a meeting here Saturday night. Wallace succeeds S. M. Patterson, Mission, resigned.

The secretaries passed a resolution asking Valley towns to designate their various celebrations for certain dates to avoid conflicts between concurrent events.

Paul Vickers, McAllen, and Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes, submitted the matter of a Valley-wide observance of Memorial Day as a holiday. No action was taken since there has been no thorough canvass of sentiment in the various towns. Vickers also announced the annual Fourth of July celebration at McAllen. It was decided to enter a Valley Secretaries' float in the McAllen parade and upon the suggestion of President Patterson of the association the float will be built around the theme "God Bless America."

Blasig called attention to the Halloween celebration on October 31 and the Rio Grande Valley Livestock Show at Mercedes March 22. Jack Hager, Weslaco, reported that his town will again stage its annual cattle fiesta a fall.

Colonel W. E. Talbot, Brownsville, a member of the Texas Aeronautics Advisory Committee, discussed the proposed aviation sites and other national defense projects particularly as this program pertains to the Valley. The secretaries voted to meet at McAllen on the evening of July 4 in connection with the annual celebration in that city.

FDR PLEDGES FURTHER AID

Quentin. White House attaches said, however, that the message had been dispatched prior to his conference.

Details of the President's talk with the two envoys were not disclosed, but Lord Lothian said the question of further aid to the Allies was discussed. Certain points were "cleared up," he said, but no decisions reached.

Both Lord Lothian and Count De St. Quentin emphasized that no formal communications were presented to the President. They said, too, that the White House had not been in communication with the French government during their conference.

U. S. Defense Pushed
At the capitol and in government departments, this country's own defense program was pressed ahead.

The navy announced award of $5,489,308 order for airplane engines to the Ranger Aircraft Engine division of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation.

The federal power commission announced that on instructions from President Roosevelt, it would survey power needs and, in cooperation with other agencies, work out plans to protect the power supply against hostile acts.

The Senate approved and sent to the White House a bill intended to expedite warship building. It provides for consolidation of the navy's bureau of engineering and its bureau of construction in an effort to cut red tape.

The Senate finance committee approved a $1,007,000,000 tax defense bill.

The Senate passed a measure giving the Reconstruction Finance Corporation broad powers to finance production of war materials. The House approved the bill Friday. It now goes back to the House for action on minor Senate changes.

Jeane Jones, federal loan administrator, told reporters that as soon as the legislation became law he would make funds available for certain aircraft production needs.

It was indicated that another early action would be purchases of reserve stocks of strategic war materials, such as rubber, tin and manganese.

While the mechanics of the program have not been worked out, it was said that one corporation might be established to carry out the purchasing program, or there might be several, one for each industry.

Shipping May Increase
Congress members displayed interest in reports that shipping men had sounded out officials here on the question of amending the neutrality act to permit American ships to carry supplies to Allied ports.

It was apparent that if the proposal reached Congress there would be a bitter controversy over it. Senator Austin of Vermont, the assistant Republican leader, said he favored striking the entire "cash and carry" section from the law. But Senator Nye (R-ND) said he and others would oppose any change in the neutrality act.

would not recognize conquests through military aggression, and would not consider valid the forcible infringement of French independence.

The first European reaction to the President's message came in London where British authorities bespoke the "sincere gratitude" of the British people.

Roosevelt's assurance that his promise had no military implications was described as being "fully understood and appreciated" in Britain.

The French front was the focal point of war's great and spreading kaleidoscope, stretching now from the Baltic—where Russia suddenly rushed a new army into Lithuania—to the Gulf of Aden, where British clashed with Italians.

French Line Bends
France's fighting front was a warring line, bending ever inward under the assaults of the Nazi storm of steel, explosives and men.

Through nearly-disrupted and meager communications came word from the French that the Germans were at Chaumont, 135 miles southeast of Paris. In the capital itself, a German guard thudded at the grave of France's unknown soldier of the World War, and the Swastika flag flapped in the wind atop Eiffel Tower.

German troops blasted across the Rhine and into storied Alsace, but the French insisted the Maginot Line was not pierced "at the point of resistance."

Retreat "In Order"
Falling back "in the best of order" the French fought pitched battles with German forces in Champagne, but the Nazis crossed the Seine at Romilly, 65 miles southeast of Paris, and drove on between Aves and St. Dizier, further east.

Nazi forces at Chaumont, between the Marne and the Suize, were advance guards.

It was apparent the French were holding back the offensive on the channel ports. Violent fighting raged west of Louviers, 50 miles southeast of German-held Le Havre.

The German high command, telling of more triumphs, claimed capture of famous, fortified Verdun, a feat the Kaiser's army could not accomplish in four years of war, and said Nazis had gone through the Maginot Line on "a broad front."

No Peace Hope
There is no chance now of a cessation of hostilities, declared a Nazi spokesman, "France and England wanted this war. Now they have it."

The Reynaud government was in session for three and one-half hours, "somewhere in France," presumably at or near Bordeaux, where the ministers considered their republic's grave position.

They are to meet again today, apparently to consider President Roosevelt's reply to Reynaud's "final" appeal for help.

Russia, European enigma, sent strong new Red army forces pouring into Lithuania following Lithuanian capitulation to an ultimatum.

Russia declared that Lithuania, counter to the mutual assistance pact of last October, had ill-treated Russian soldiers stationed there. Hence the Soviet garrison in Lithuania was being augmented.

The Lithuanian government was being changed. The German radio said 200 Soviet tanks had passed the capital of Lithuania, Kaunas.

Russia Moves West
Europe wondered at the implications of the Russian move. In any case, it meant Russia's armed power had moved considerably farther west.

A foreign informant in Stockholm theorized that Russia's new "free passage" into Lithuania might be a prelude to similar moves in Estonia and Latvia from whom Russia also wrestled military concessions last fall.

There was unofficial speculation in Stockholm that Russia, economic partner of Germany, might harbor some regrets over her friendship with the Nazis, now that Germany has expanded into Scandinavia and is in military ascendance in France.

The foreign informant said Russia planned to garrison an army of a half-million men on her three little Baltic neighbors.

Italy felt the weight of naval war and declared her troops had driven across the Alpine frontier to occupy French territory.

The Italians said the French lost a destroyer at Genoa, where a single Italian torpedo boat and coastal batteries staved off an attack of nine French warships.

Italy On Move
Italy's military experts explained an Italian advance over the French frontier as a part of the plan for final conquest of France by Germany and Italy.

LINDY FEARS TREND TO WAR

rope would be dominated by "the strongest military nation the world has ever known" and if we entered the war we "must be prepared to attack that nation."

He charged that an "organized minority in this country is flooding our Congress and our press with propaganda for war," spending large sums, "pushing us closer and closer to the edge."

This nation, he said, "stands today where the road divides, at the signpost of war and peace."

Should it choose war, he added, it would mortgage "the lives of our children and grandchildren," and "every family in the land would have its wounded and its dead."

Now that we have become one of the world's greatest nations, shall we throw away the independent American destiny which our forefathers gave their lives to win?"

He asked, "Shall we submerge our future in the endless wars of the old world? Or shall we build our own defenses and leave European war to European countries?"

BROWNVILLE FAVORS STAND TAKEN BY LINDY

BROWNVILLE — Reaction to Col. Lindbergh's speech was 100 percent favorable, according to H. P. Langworthy who made a canvass immediately following the radio address.

"I questioned almost one hundred persons," he said, "and they were wholeheartedly with Lindbergh. I think we should notify Milton West by telegram and by letter that we want to stay out of war, and that we should do it NOW. I would suggest that someone in each Valley town make a canvass similar to mine, and have a prepared telegram or letter, asking everyone to sign it. Then they should mail or wire it to Representative West, showing him his section does not favor going to war."

Italian and British troops fought on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier. The British claimed capture of the Italian forts of Capuzzo and Maddalena. Royal air force attacks on Libyan and Italian East African positions continued.

Switzerland posted flaring, black-lettered warnings against parachute invasion. An increase in Switzerland's defense preparations indicated that the Swiss intelligence service had turned up disquieting information.

BORDEAUX IS NEW CAPITAL

there is hardly any occasion on the German side to approach the question of French capitulation."

No Hope For France
This reflected the official German view that the vast Maginot Line is a thing on the past, crumbling and French peace with Hitler. Its dispatch was from London.

Official reports, the only ones available, said "a few detachments" crossed the Rhine after the most violent of bombardments.

Line Still Holds
The Maginot Line, however, was not broken at "the point of resistance," Saturday night's communique insisted.

This was at Neuf Breisch, some 40 miles south of Strasbourg. The armies of Paris fell back "in the best of order."

The German armies of Champagne, seeking to engulf the French and to render the Maginot Line helpless from the rear, were

BOARD READY TO GIVE SOCIAL SECURITY AID

Workers Need Not Hire Representatives

BROWNSVILLE — Workers who wish to check the accuracy of their social security accounts for old-age and survivors insurance, or those past 65 who wish to file a claim for insurance payments, do not need to pay anyone to assist them, F. E. Wilson, Manager of the Social Security Field Office in Brownsville, pointed out Saturday. He said that procedures established by the Social Security Board furnish employees with every assistance in checking their accounts and in filing claims for insurance payments.

Recent inquiries received by the field office, Mr. Wilson said, indicate a belief on the part of some workers that they need to pay for the services of an outside person in order to be sure that their rights are protected. He explained that the Social Security Board has the duty of keeping accurate wage records and paying insurance benefits to all eligible persons and that it has established procedures to carry out these responsibilities fully. He added, however, that the Board's procedures do not prohibit the worker from being represented by an outside person if he so wishes.

Forms Available

In explanation of procedures established by the Board, Mr. Wilson stated that any worker who wishes to check the wages credited to him can get a self-addressed form for this purpose at the field office. If he fills this in and mails it, he will promptly receive a report from the Board's central wage-record office at Baltimore, which will show the wages reported by his employer and credited to his account. If he believes there is any error in the amount of wages credited to him, the field office will make every effort to clear up the matter. Mr. Wilson further explained that if the employee still questions the accuracy of the Board's record of his wages he has the privilege of having a hearing before the local regional referee, who is appointed by the Social Security Board but is independent of its Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Service Is Free

Some people, according to Mr. Wilson, have also indicated that they thought they should pay someone to represent them in filing claims for insurance payments. Mr. Wilson explained that the field office is prepared to give all claimants—workers past 65 and the families of workers who have died—all possible assistance in filing their claims for this insurance. This service is free.

He further stated that the board has established procedures by which anyone who questions the decision of the Bureau concerning his rights to insurance payments can ask for a hearing on his claim before a regional referee. If he is still dissatisfied after this review, he can appeal his case to the Appeals Council in Washington. Thereafter he, of course, would still have recourse to the Federal District Court for his district.

Weather Bureau Maps Plan For New Storm Season

No Disturbances Are Likely Until After July

By A. D. HAWKINS

BROWNSVILLE—Rolling up its shirt sleeves, the Brownsville weather bureau staff Sunday girded itself for the most fickle of nature's destructive forces—the hurricane.

Hurricane season officially opened Sunday at 12:01 a. m., and will last until October 31, as far as the Brownsville weather bureau is concerned. There is no need for alarm, however.

Coast Is Clear
The immediate Gulf of Mexico coast is "comparatively free" of the hurricane, according to a half century of records, but the Brownsville weathermen are to maintain a vigilance "just in case."

And, furthermore, the tropical disturbances in the Gulf of Mexico are not expected to get under way with much force until about mid-July.

The word "hurricane," signifying "big wind," is of Caribbean origin. It has come into general use as the name for tropical cyclones.

Just a Typhoon
In fact, it is identical with the typhoon of the China Sea, the baguio of the Philippines and the cyclone of the Bay of Bengal.

First line of defense is the teletype machine installed this past week at the Brownsville weather bureau.

This machine is linked with weather bureaus in Corpus Christi, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and Key West. There are "drops," or connections to the machines, at the Brownsville airport, Lake Charles and Tallahassee, Fla.

24-Hour Service
Over this network there is 24-hour service with all stations receiving reports simultaneously.

Brownsville, at the southwest tip of the network, will get a mass of information: four regular observations daily from regular U. S. stations; two to four observations from vessels in the Gulf, Caribbean and South Atlantic.

Reports from the Mexican meteorological service and Pan American Airways' meteorological bureau, government and PAA reports from the West Indies and observations from even the northern shores of South America.

When there is indication of the development of a disturbance, more frequent reports will be sent. When the disturbance shows signs of movement, advisories will be issued giving the storm's location, strength and direction.

Reports Are Charted
The reports are charted, and interpolated at the local weather office.

The men behind the scenes at the Brownsville weather bureau's city office are Meteorologist W. J. Schnurbusch, official in charge, and his assistants, Myron H. Carpen, C. F. Wilcox, Jr., and W. W. Smith.

They'll constitute what is known among the weathermen as the "hurricane watch."

Hurricanes originate in the doldrums just north of the equator. They move in a westerly direction with a tendency to recurve in a northwesterly direction. When they reach the temperate zone the tendency is to skirt northeastward.

The main body of the hurricane moves forward at a rate of about 12 to 18 miles per hour. The winds around its center, which move counter clockwise, vary in speed from 75 to as high as 100 to 150 miles per hour. The diameter, or center of the storm, varies from 50 to 300 miles.

The hurricane is primarily a water storm. It develops, and gains its energy over large bodies of water. When the storm reaches land, it generally breaks up, or decreases in intensity.

What causes a hurricane?

Up-to-the-minute observations of the hurricane season, which officially started Sunday at 12:01 a. m. will be sent and received over the teletype (above) at the Brownsville weather bureau. The teletype is hooked to a circuit that extends to Key West, Fla. Observer W. W. Smith is shown at the keyboard.

What causes a hurricane?

Weathermen say that it is the result of an accumulation of heat in the doldrums. The air becomes super-heated, and an unbalanced condition occurs. There is a rush of light air upward, and circular air currents are developed.

Because the hurricane is erratic, the weather bureau takes no chances. The last great storms here were in August and September of 1933 when the Valley was hit twice.

Yucatan Is Bumper
The Yucatan peninsula, with its long arm protruding into the Gulf of Mexico, acts as sort of a bumper for the Valley area. That's why the coast near here is comparatively free of the menace.

The year 1933 was a big year for the hurricane, anyhow. There were 21 hurricanes that year in the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, the largest number recorded.

The general average is between six and seven of the hurricane season.

27,000 CARS ARE SHIPPED

Figures On Citrus Movement Listed

McALLEN—A total of 27,238 carloads of citrus fruit were shipped from the Valley during the 1939-40 season, exclusive of canned grapefruit, P. A. Hoidale of Harlingen, in charge of the federal fruit fly control project, announced in a communication received Saturday by the McAllen Chamber of Commerce.

Most of the shipments went by rail, a total of 14,082.4 cars being reported. Truck shipments were 11,973.2, boat 82.5 and express shipments were estimated at 600.

Grapefruit shipments by truck were 7,239, by rail 12,758.5, by boat 39.5, express 300, total 20,877. Orange shipments by truck were 4,734.2, by rail 1,323.9, by boat 3, by express 300, total 6,361.1.

The figures are based on 360-80 pound boxes, 576 bushels baskets and 28,800 pounds in bags as an equivalent carload.

Hoidale said his department was unable to secure the information of citrus canning production.

ricanes a year. In several years there were only two. Only about 50 per cent of these storms reach hurricane intensity, and only about one-fourth approach close enough to U. S. coasts to cause winds of hurricane force.

One of the first signs of the hurricane is the sea swell. The tide rises as the storm approaches. Cirrus, or high feathery clouds, appear and seem to converge often at a point on the horizon. There is a brilliant red sky at sunset or sunrise.

Rain Accompanies Storm
Rainfall generally deluges the hurricane-stricken area. The greatest amount on record is 23.11 inches which fell at Taylor, Texas, in September, 1921, within 24 hours.

The period from July 15 to September 15 appears to be most "satisfactory" for the hurricane in the western Gulf of Mexico area. This area is quite safe during the first month, or six weeks, after June 16 when the season opens.

If, and when, there should be another one headed this way, however, the weather bureau can generally tell within 24 to 36 hours where it will strike.

They Don't Change
There is talk that in the "old days," the hurricane was stronger. Weathermen as a rule doubt this. The hurricane is just about the same. The difference was that in the old days buildings were not quite so stable, and couldn't withstand the storms.

There Was More Destruction
And the difference between a hurricane and the Valley's winter norther is, first, that norther generally don't blow over the 40 mile per hour mark, and second, the wind of the norther is of short duration.

Parents Favor ROTC Unit At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE — In reply to a questionnaire issued by the Brownsville school board, parents to date wholeheartedly favor the introduction of a Reserve Officers Training Corps at Brownsville high school and junior college.

Of the 265 letters mailed parents of eligible youths, there have been 108 replies to date, there have been these are not in favor of ROTC here. E. C. Dodd, superintendent of Brownsville schools, announced Saturday.

Superintendent Dodd urged the parents who have not replied to mail their decisions immediately.

Donna Lions Pledge Anti-Fifth Column Service To Nation

DONNA—President Paul Frenzel presided over the weekly meeting of the Donna Lions club on Thursday at noon. After a vocal solo by Mrs. Esther Barron, the program was turned over to group discussion of the Fifth Column and the writing of a letter to the American Legion pledging the support of the Lions to the cause of patriotic service and propaganda. Visitor for the day was J. W. Langston of Donna.

IN BALTIMORE
LA FERIA—The Rev. and Mrs. Joe Amerine are in Baltimore, Md., where they are attending the Southern Baptist convention. They will return by way of Alabama where they will visit Mrs. Amerine's parents.

The Boy who "HAS NO FUTURE"

He is an American boy. There are some fifteen million lads just like him in America; just as young, just as eager, just as full of promise.

Yet there are people who feel sorry for these boys. They tell us American initiative is dying, American frontiers are gone. They say there is no opportunity and no future for youth in this country.

Do you believe such statements? We people of Central Power and Light Company don't believe them, and we'll tell you why:

Fifty years ago the electric industry had barely begun its existence. The same is true of the automobile industry. It is even more true of the radio and aviation industries. Coming right up to date, here are a few of the things we didn't have as recently as 1930:

Streamline trains. Transoceanic air service. New plastics and resins. Plywoods strong as steel. Fiber glass for insulation and textiles. Synthetic rubber. Synthetic hosiery. Synthetic vitamins. Sulfanilamide and sulapyridine, drugs that are revolutionizing medicine.

There are always new frontiers and new futures in America. In good times and bad, Americans work to make the good things of life better and to make them available to more people at less cost. The employees of Central Power and Light Company are typical: their efforts have helped make it possible for CPL to give far better service than it could give twelve or fifteen years ago, and to charge about half what was charged then. The average customer can now use nearly three times as much electricity as he did then for no more money.

The men of CPL were once American boys. They believed in their own futures and the future of their country. They proved themselves right by working to make the future better for themselves and their fellow citizens. They hope today's young Americans will not listen to defeatism and pessimism, because they know that everyone in America has a future if he sincerely believes he has.

VALLEY TOM DEAL WANES

Canneries To Begin Operations Soon

HARLINGEN—The fresh tomato deal was waning in the Valley, although about 300 cars were moved out this week, and canneries were expected to be in general operation beginning Monday.

Railroads reported total shipments of around 300 cars from the Valley this week, with Saturday's total around 39 cars, indicating that the fresh tomato deal was on the wane with Yonkum, East Texas, Mississippi, Florida and a number of other states shipping.

A few canneries began operating this week but operations did not get under way generally as plant owners waited for supplies of dead ripe tomatoes. The recent rains also delayed start of the canning deal.

The Harlingen canning company reported it planned to start canning Monday and a similar report came from the Schmidt Canning Company at San Benito and plants in Hidalgo county.

WHICH Of These BEAGLE Hounds Would You Choose?

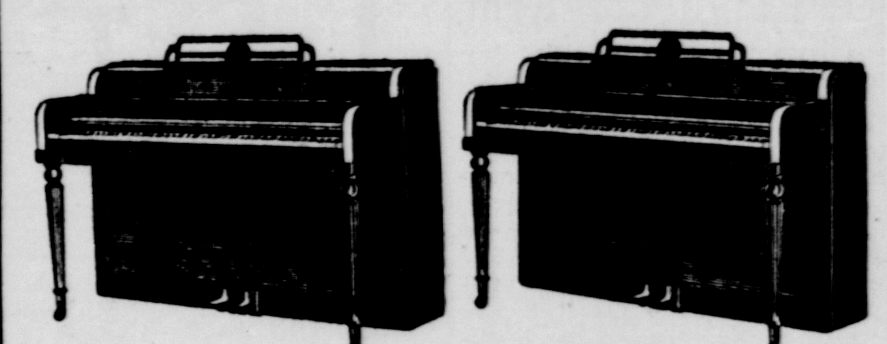

Perhaps you think you could make your choice blindfolded—they look so much alike—but if so, you are very much mistaken. For in spite of their resemblance, there is a tremendous difference between them.

One dog has back of him a long line of famous ancestors. Beagle hounds who were distinguished, not only for their looks, but for what is more important, their PERFORMANCE—a procession of CHAMPIONS. If you choose this dog, you will KNOW what you are getting, for there is no truer saying than, "Like father, like son."

But, alas! we cannot boast of the other dog's ancestry, for his sire has "GONE WITH THE WIND". Judging by his looks, alone, he is just as good hound as the other. But you would GET NO CHAMPION HERE. For in the field, that fox terrier, air-dale, or "who knows what" blood will crop out, and he will fail in the crucial test—the test of PERFORMANCE.

Which Piano Would You Choose?

These pianos, like the Beagle hounds, look very much alike—each is gracefully designed, each beautifully finished. But here the resemblance ends. Back of the first is a long line of distinguished artisans, dedicated to the preservation of the standard of PERFORMANCE set by the piano "families"—makers of "CHAMPIONS".

But as there is no tradition behind the second piano—no great "family" name to be lived up to and to be judged by, there can be no assurance that that tone, which may be sweet now, will be lasting; that the action will remain responsive; or that the sounding board will not warp. Its "sire" may, indeed, be "GONE WITH THE WIND" as many manufacturers and dealers have "gone".

The San Antonio Music Company has been in business for fifty years, and we expect to be here for fifty more. There are no piano "orphans" in our stock, for each has our personal guarantee added to that of the manufacturer. Consequently, we cannot afford to handle any merchandise, even if we should wish to do so, except that in which we have complete confidence. Our long experience has shown this merchandise to be such pianos as:

- Steinway ● Chickering
- Kimball ● Wurlitzer

We hold the exclusive agency for these fine pianos throughout this territory. They are the most famous names in the "Who's Who" of the piano world.

We have a limited number of beautifully illustrated catalogues showing the newest designs in spinets and grands. These catalogues contain a great deal of information which will be of a great help whether or not you have ever been a piano owner. They will be sent, with price list, free upon request, as long as they last.

PLAN TO FORM DRILL SQUADS IS DISCUSSED

Edinburg Volunteer Corps Proposed

EDINBURG — Edinburg people are being asked to express their views on the proposal to organize volunteer drill squads of young men who would be prepared in fundamental military training in the event the nation orders compulsory army service, a group of war veterans revealed here Saturday.

Favorable reception to the plan has come from a number of sources, they said. Those in charge of the informal survey are members of the Edinburg American Legion post, of which Harry Wilcox, Hidalgo county surveyor, is commander.

The plans would be volunteer and the youths would be trained only in the manual of arms and in basic drilling formations. By such a method, the drill squad members would be ready to join the nation's military forces without being classified as raw recruits. In the event a call was issued for their services.

War veterans in other Valley cities were also reported here to be interested in such work.

Under the tentative proposal here, one or more drillmasters, probably ex-service men, would be chosen to direct the volunteers and regular drill periods would be conducted daily or weekly at public parks or play-grounds.

The paving will be done under a WPA project which will pay 47 per cent of the total cost in connection with the work done on each street. Property owners will be assessed the other 53 per cent according to the front rule plan.

MERCY DRIVE TO BE PUSHED

Quota Set At $3,520 Only $865 Raised

BROWNSVILLE — Making a final effort to open purse strings here, the Brownsville chapter of the American Red Cross will unleash an intensive drive Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to secure funds for European refugee work.

Of the chapter's quota of $3,520 only $865 has been raised to date after a month's effort to secure voluntary contributions.

D. B. Briggs, local Red Cross roll call chairman, declared Brownsville would initiate a "blitzkrieg" drive to get the much needed money.

"They haven't been coming through with voluntary contributions so we're going to solicit them personally," he said.

Briggs appealed to Brownsville women to join the menfolk in the drive, and asked for volunteers to assist.

The volunteers are to meet Tuesday at 5 p. m. at the office of C. C. Stewart, assistant postmaster, who is Red Cross chairman here.

Boxes to receive voluntary contributions are still located at the post office, Piggy Wiggy store, First National Bank, Buckingham Service Station, White Kitchen and Den-Russ Pharmacy.

Of the contributions received to date, most have been of large donations. There have been four $100 contributions.

A Red Cross mercy ship was understood Saturday to be enroute to France with medical supplies, food and clothing.

Allies Still Have Seven Billions Cash To Spend

'Quick Assets' Could Purchase War Supplies In America Officials Have Estimated

WASHINGTON — (P) — United States officials estimated Saturday that the British and French empires still have roughly $7,000,000,000 of "quick assets" with which they could purchase supplies immediately in the United States.

The officials, however, indicated that lack of materials to be bought quickly was much more of a problem to the Allies than the availability of cash for payment.

They pointed out that in spite of pressing needs for airplanes ever since the war began, the Allies have had to sign some contracts for planes not expected to be ready for delivery until September, 1941.

War department officials said exhaustive surveys were being made to determine what additional surplus equipment was available for sale to the Allies.

They would give no indication as to what such supplies might be, but emphasized that the department could not sell any equipment in the hands of troops or the national guard.

"We are not de-arming the army," a spokesman said.

The department has already released for sale to the Allies 173 airplanes and more than $37,000,000 worth of varied equipment declared to be surplus. This material is understood to have included more than 500 75-millimeter field guns and 600,000 Lee-Enfield rifles of the World War period. In addition, the navy and marine corps have released 90 planes.

Upper Valley Leaders Agree On Aerial Plan

McAllen, Mission, Edinburg For Proposed Major Border Military Airport

McALLEN — Civic officials of Mission, Edinburg and McAllen were in perfect agreement Saturday on a plan to seek a major airport suitable for military purposes to be located equidistant from the three cities.

City and chamber of commerce officials of the three cities met here Friday afternoon to act upon the proposal at the suggestion of the Texas Aeronautics Advisory Committee. They pledged their hearty cooperation in seeking an airport to serve these three cities and forwarded to J. J. Hurley, committee chairman at Fort Worth, the pledge of agreement.

State Meet Reported

J. D. Courtney, Edinburg chamber manager, and Paul T. Vickers, McAllen chamber manager, both of whom attended the state meeting of the advisory committee at San Antonio, reported to the group of officials that the advisory committee said the proposed tri-city field would not interfere with local fields, and must be from six to seven miles from any one city.

Citizens of the three cities were asked to make their approval or disapproval of the proposed field known to their mayors.

No further action is expected from the three cities until advised by the Texas committee, which makes its recommendations to the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Investigators of the project hope the cost of the field will be borne by the federal government as a defense measure.

Friday's meeting was exclusively for the three cities to enter an harmonious agreement.

Etchison Is Chairman

Mayor Horace Etchison of McAllen was elected chairman of the session on the motion of D. F. Strickland of Mission and Mayor A. A. Aldrich of Edinburg was named secretary on motion of City Commissioner Norman Buescher of McAllen. Mayor Logan Duncan of Mission headed that city's delegation.

Those attending the meeting and signing the accord were: Etchison, Aldrich, Duncan, A. M. Tarbutton, chairman of chamber of commerce air division, Edinburg; P. H. Longoria, Mission; Strickland, Bob Miller, president McAllen Junior Chamber of Commerce; Harry S. Florida Citrus Men Look Us Over

Three representatives of the Florida citrus industry looked over the Valley grapefruit and orange area three days this week before continuing to Arizona and California where they will make similar studies. They are pictured here with Texas state department of agriculture men. Left to right are C. E. McCormick, in charge of Texas shipper's bonding and licensing; Tom B. Swann of Winter Haven, vice president of the Florida Citrus Commission; Charles F. Chastain of Lakeland, secretary of the commission; and Edward G. Floridians Urge Area Publicity

HARLINGEN—Valley growers of citrus fruits are getting the benefits of Florida's advertising campaign and this area should engage in a similar publicity program to promote the use of grapefruit and oranges over the nation, a delegation of Florida men said here Friday.

In the group were Tom B. Swann, of Winter Haven, vice chairman of the Florida Citrus Commission; Edward G. Todd of Avon Park, chairman of the commission's better fruit committee and Charles F. Chastain of Lakeland, secretary to the commission.

The Florida men arrived by plane in Brownsville Tuesday afternoon and made their headquarters at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen until their departure from Brownsville by plane Friday evening for Arizona and California.

"Florida and Texas should be as close together as the three citrus producing areas within the state of Florida," said Swann. "In fact, the ridge section of Florida may be closer to Texas than to the Florida East Coast producing area because it probably thinks more along the lines of the Texas industry than any other," he said.

The Floridians conferred here with L. E. Pratt, chief of the citrus maturity division of the state department of agriculture; and C. E. McCormick, director of the shipper's bonding and licensing division. They were being taken to Brownsville by Herbert R. H. Reck of McAllen, soil analyst who formerly lived in Florida.

It was understood to apply especially to fishing and sports craft. The act had specified that all passenger vessels operating on the open sea be equipped with radio transmission, and a licensed radio operator.

McAllen Population Rise Lags Behind Other Marks

Births Increase Over Deaths; Electrical Connections, Postal Revenue Jumps

McALLEN—Within the last 10 years, everything has grown by leaps and bounds in McAllen except its population.

Time-honored methods of estimating the population of a city were thrown into the discard Saturday after the last enumerator prepared to call the 1940 census count completed.

McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said the preliminary count of 11,824 would be increased—but not substantially—by the final check which closed at 5 p. m. Friday.

While the count represented an increase of 2,850 over the 1930 population of 9,075, it arbitrarily disproves the old methods of estimating the census by the scholastic population.

McAllen should have a population of 15,375—if the old rule of multiplying the school count by five held true. There are approximately 3,075 scholastics in the McAllen metropolitan area.

Since 1930, McAllen births have increased about 1,700 over its deaths for the same period, Registrar of Vital Statistics C. D. Martin said. There were 3,456 babies born here and 1,666 persons buried. Martin discounted those from other cities born here to arrive at his total.

Postal receipts have shown an increase of not quite 50 per cent, indicative of the city's growth, rising from $36,939 for 1930 to $54,193.57 for 1939.

Electrical connections by the Central Power and Light Company have illustrated a like increase within the past five years, jumping from approximately 969 in 1935 to 1,528 in 1940. The same holds true with connections made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, listing 1,133 in the McAllen area in 1931 with 1,940 for April 30, 1940.

McAllen's census count, however, still will not put the city into the 12,000 class, chamber officials disclosed.

CAA OFFICIAL VIEWS SITES

Three Upper Valley Cities Cooperate

McALLEN—Captain H. A. Smith, regional airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Saturday inspected available lands for a proposed airport in the vicinity of McAllen.

City and chamber of commerce airport committees met Saturday morning with Smith and received information regarding government airports, especially those similar to the proposed field to service Mission, Edinburg and McAllen.

John Boyce, chairman of the city airport committee, and others accompanied Smith on his tour of the suggested sites.

The CAA engineer had already submitted a plan at the chamber's request and came here on the directors' invitation to give further advice.

Present were the city committee, N. E. Buescher Robert Miller and Boyce and the chamber committee composed of Chairman H. H. Hensley, Harry Merts, S. L. Miller, Si Casady and Philip Boyce.

'Flag Day' Program Stresses Patriotism

McALLEN—Criticizing severely the enemies of the United States flag, State Representative Homer Leonard pleaded Friday night for greater American loyalty when he addressed the throng filling Archer Park for the "Flag Day" program.

Republican Women To Gather Monday

SAN BENITO — The Republican Women's club of Cameron county will hold a luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel here.

Brownsville women can contact Mrs. R. Mathers for reservations, which should be placed before 10 a. m. Monday.

Leonard briefly gave a history of the flag, turned the tenor of his speech and flayed those who would destroy it. "Forces across the sea would end all of our democratic institutions, if they could," he said, "and it is the American duty and the American way to prevent its happening."

Frequently a cheering crowd interrupted Leonard as he voiced the stirring appeals for American loyalty to its nation.

The program, sponsored by the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, was calculated to stimulate patriotism and to permit residents to renew again their fidelity to the flag. The program was opened by Chamber Director A. D. Dean. He presented American Legion Post Commander Hal Ramsey who called for the presentation of colors by the legionnaires. The McAllen high school band, directed by Hermann Wren, played a program of patriotic music.

'Hitler Will Fall'

Allied, United States Industries Can Build Beyond Hitler's Capacity, Is Belief

LONDON—(P)—Official Britain coupled a prediction of an immediate German "peace offensive" with a declaration that Allied and United States industries would build up "a weight of armaments with which Hitler will be quite unable to compete."

Britain's determination to fight on despite the reverses in France was voiced by Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary secretary of the ministry of information, who declared:

"It will not be on the dry land of Europe that this war will be won. It will be upon the seas and in the air; in distant continents; so soon as unlimited resources of the British empire and of the Americas can be mobilized to turn the scale."

Nicolson, speaking before a Leicester political meeting, declared Adolf Hitler's prophecy that England would be brought to her knees by mid-August "will not be fulfilled."

"And when he finds autumn drawing in, into winter, and the great resources of our own industry as well as those of the United States are building up against him a weight of armaments with which he will be quite unable to compete, he will recognize that victory is no longer possible."

"Then he will turn and twist in the hope of inducing this country and her Allies to make peace that will be no more real than the peace he imposed on Czechoslovakia."

DEFENSE RUSH DELAYS BILL

Status Of West Plan Is Unchanged

EDINBURG—There is nothing private citizens or water leaders of the Rio Grande Valley can do at this time to hasten consideration of Congressman Milton West's proposed for a $54,000,000 federal irrigation and flood control project on the lower Rio Grande.

Such was the admonition voiced here Saturday by Oliver C. Aldrich, president of the Water Conservation association of the Valley.

Aldrich said he and A. L. Cramer of El Paso, both of whom spent two weeks at Washington recently enlisting support for the West measure, had been advised by the Valley congressman this week that the status of the bill is virtually the same as when they left the capital more than a week ago.

Drafts of the measure have been placed before several government departments and bureaus for their approval before it is called up for a vote.

The association president, "rushed" which had gripped Washington by the time he and Cramer arrived there recently is continuing at an even more breathless pace, and that until there is "some letup" in such activity, the Valley measure will have to await its turn.

Aldrich described the haste with which activity is under way by explaining the difficulty the Valley emissaries had in reaching either Congressman West or Senator Morris Sheppard, senior Texan in the upper house.

"Mr. West remained on the house floor throughout each day," said Aldrich, "and the only way we could see him while congress was in session was to call him out. Even then, he left a page boy there so he could be informed the minute a vote on any matter was to be taken."

Aldrich said Senator Sheppard, as chairman of the important senate military affairs committee, is one of the busiest men in the capital.

"We managed to get past several delegations into his office and then could only be allowed a few moments, because he is working on so many different military projects and at the same time taking part in every vote the senate considers."

In spite of such activity, Aldrich added, both West and Sheppard are spending extra hours in giving attention to the Valley measure. Another who is deeply interested in the bill is Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state, to whom the state department more than three years ago assigned the task of heading negotiations for a Rio Grande water treaty between the United States and Mexico.

Welles said he and his staff are working on the bill as fast as they can, but that it will take some time before it can be brought to a vote.

The exchange was able to market in 200 cities as compared to 218 last season in spite of the smaller tonnage handled this season, William A. Brunton, general sales manager, said.

Withdrawal of several associations and loss of fruit by the freeze handicapped the exchange which had built up an outlet for a larger volume of fruit but Brunton said most of the markets that were not used this year were truck markets.

Growers in the five associations using the Stuart Place plant in Harlingen not only have paid for the $70,000 worth of property repossessed there but have gotten back the money they paid in during the first five seasons, W. E. Allen, association manager, said.

Ben F. Barnes, who represents the five-way setup on the exchange board of directors, and G. E. Vance, exchange public relations representative, also spoke.

Brownsville—Appropriate talks and readings by members of the classes, songs, and addresses by Cameron County Judge Oscar C. Dancy and Brownsville School Superintendent E. C. Dodd, made up a Flag Day program presented Friday night at the Brownsville junior college auditorium by the WPA adult education department at the high school-junior college.

An achievement certificate for accomplishments in the English class was presented to Lina Pens, and Maria Raab received an achievement certificate for spelling.

Attendance certificates were presented Maria Raab, Guadalupe Har-ruff, Magdalena Sanchez, Maria Mireles Bebon, Maria Pena, Josefina Leal, Enriqueta Leal, Eugenio Moreno, Augustin Martinez, Francisca Reyna, Jesus Cortes, Nicolas Romo and Maria Reyna.

During the program musical numbers were presented by Mrs. Rita Medina and family, and a piano solo by Hortencia Castillo.

Victor Salinas, one of the department's instructors, was master of ceremonies, and Nick Romo was singing director. Miss Mary T. Johnson, also an instructor in the department, assisted in the presentation of the program.

Oil Field Surveys Finished In Month

AUSTIN—(P)—An estimate that it would take up to five months to complete a detailed survey of Texas' vast oil resources for national defense purposes Saturday brought an order from the railroad commission to "get the job done in one month."

Theft Is No Crime When Witnesses Not Present

SAN JUAN—Vidal Ornelas, about 50, classifies a theft as such only when the thief is seen in action. Tried before Justice of the Peace R. L. Savage of San Juan this week, Ornelas was accused of petty theft—stealing discs from a plow.

"Are you guilty?" the court asked. "No," replied Ornelas.

"Nobody saw me when I took them."

He was fined $100 and costs and committed to the county jail at Edinburg on failure to pay the fine. Assistant District Attorney Hollis Rankin prosecuted for the state.

Officers who investigated the case said Ornelas had been involved in a long series of petty theft cases. Other cases prosecuted by Rankin in the county the past week: Juan Martinez, Mercedes, fined $1 and costs by Justice T. J. Fikes Sr. at that city for use of abusive language; Luciano Rodriguez, Mercedes, found not guilty in the same court on a charge of parking on the highway; and Claude Brown, fined $1 and costs by Justice Savage at San Juan for violating the law of the road.

Defeats Old Golf Rival In Finals

Gals See - Saw From First Hole

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Betty Jameson, women's National golf champion of San Antonio, burned up the Glen Echo course in 8 under par Saturday to defeat Patty Berg, the defending champion, 2 up in a thrilling 36-hole bout for the Trans-Mississippi championship.

It remained anybody's game to the seventeenth hole, where Betty won with a par 4 after Patty was forced to recover from a trap for a bogey 5. All the Texan had to do was halve the home green but Patty's resistance was then completely broke and she overrode the green with her third shot for another bogey 6, while her opponent was in nicely for a par.

The match see-sawed all day and Betty was downhearted coming up to the fifteenth one down.

But here she cracked in the most spectacular shot of the day—a chip-in from a foot off the green. She aimed for nearly two minutes then threaded the needle for a birdie three on the 351-yard hole.

They halved the sixteenth with birdie fours, but Betty was on top to stay.

The nip-and-tuck battle is best described by the fact the girls halved only 15 of the 36 holes. The other 21 were see-sawed back and forth.

Coffey Winner At River Crest

FORT WORTH—(P)—State Champion Bill Coffey of Fort Worth won the 22nd annual River Crest Invitation Saturday, his second major title in the week.

He defeated Don Schumacher of Dallas 1 up in the 36-hole final, drawing even at the 35th hole and winning with a screaming eagle three as against Schumacher's birdie on the 36th.

Last Sunday Coffey captured the state championship in the tourney at San Angelo.

Andrew Chilton, Fort Worth, Number 1 man on the University of Texas golf team, beat Norman Rowland, also of Fort Worth, 1 up on the 23rd in the championship consolation final.

Midget Autos Race At Mission Today

MISSION—Bo Scott and Gordon Sibson will duel for racing honors Sunday afternoon when the summer season is opened at the Legion Speedway in Mission. Dark horse candidates for top place in the seven events will be three other Valley drivers, Joe Schreiner, Earnest Hocker and Bart Beach.

Twelve or more drivers will form the racing program, all Valley men. A strong racing ring will be built up from Valley drivers, members of the Mission Legion post announced, and a series of weekly or semi-weekly race programs scheduled.

More Valley interest will be created through an all-Valley program and in addition, the heavy expense of bringing up-state drivers in will be eliminated.

The Mission track has been pronounced one of the best and fastest in South Texas by drivers who have raced all over the Southwest. A special oil base was used in constructing the regulation size oval last summer and the track has been pronounced in excellent condition for the new series.

For the Sunday afternoon event, 1,000 seats in the shade are available at 20 and 40 cents.

Mercedes, Weslaco Squads Will Clash

MERCED—The Mercedes Lions will play host Sunday afternoon at Lions Park to the Weslaco Panthers, with play beginning at 3:30 p. m.

After taking a lacing recently at the hands of the Panthers, the Mercedes team will be out to even up the score in this second game of a two-game series between the clubs.

Races Postponed

PORT ISABEL—Due to a number of sailboat pilots going to Corpus Christi to officiate in the Buca-neer Days Regatta to be held Sunday, the Port Isabel Yacht Club sailboat races will not be held here Sunday as scheduled.

The races will be held Sunday, June 23, it was announced here Saturday.

Pinch hitter Silvestri of the White Sox was the first batsman to make a home run off Monte Pearson of the Yankees this season. . . . Not until June 5 did Boston lose a game by one run. They had won 10 by that margin, several of them by virtue of Jimmy Fox's ninth inning home runs. . . . Walter Masterson, Washington outfielder, had a great day in the field, June 7, starting two double plays. . . . Although Marvin Breuer of the Yankees has been mighty effective this season, one Cleveland batsman considers him his "cousin," Hal Trosky gathering three home runs off the sensational youngster in two games. . . .

Al Milnar, Cleveland southpaw, had pitched 24 scoreless innings prior to June 11, allowing only two runs in his last four games. In addition to pitching two consecutive shut-outs, Milnar has pitched three games this season in which his opponents have scored by one run.

Vitt Caught Off Guard

WINNING GOLF

By LAWSON LITTLE
Your Follow-Through

My conception of the follow-through is that this part of the swing should be considered more as the result of a well-made swing than the cause of a good swing.

If a player stands to his ball in a position that allows him to swing the club without being tensed or

First I will consider the feet. Hundreds of pictures show us that nearly all the good players have most of their weight on the left foot at the finish of the shot. A closer study of these pictures show us that most of this weight is on the heel of the left foot. The right foot supports very little of the player's weight and the right heel has been lifted off the ground by the turning to the left of the left side; so that only the point of the toe rests on "terra firma."

Working up from the feet, we come to the body. As a general rule the angle of the curvature of the body (the angle formed at the waist by the upper part of the legs and the upper part of the body) is the same as it was at address. There has been no suggestion of straightening up.

The left hip has been advanced forward and turned well to the left so that the player's chest is practically facing the direction of play. Hand Movement

Next comes the hands and arms. For the upright swinger, the hands should finish quite high—I might say "fairly close to the player's head."

The flat swinger should finish with his hands nearer his left shoulder than his head. The finish position is exactly opposite from the top of the backswing. The right arm should tend to be straight and the left elbow pointed toward the ground. Even at this stage of the swing, a firm grip on the club should be maintained particularly with the left hand.

Seldom is the follow-through given much concern by the average player, and this is probably because the follow-through naturally comes well after the ball has been struck. I cannot overemphasize the importance of the player, once in a while, checking up on his follow-through. Because, as the follow-through is the result of a good swing, many faults can be discovered by working back-wards through an analysis of the follow-through. Many times in my own game I can cure a fault by making myself finish the swing correctly. In this, I know that I am contradicting myself, but when I also know that the faulty follow-through comes from the fault that occurs before the ball has been hit, I feel that the contradiction is sometimes justified.

It can be said of the follow-through that the body is permitted to give to the natural swinging of the clubhead. And as balance throughout the entire golf swing, is nothing more than the giving of the body to the swing of the club, the follow-through and the balance are very closely related.

For those students of the game who are more analytically minded, I will attempt to break down the follow-through and explain the actual positions of the various parts of the body when the player is in what I call a good follow-through position.

Wanted—Angler To Catch First Sailfish Or Marlin

PORT ISABEL—Who will be the first to bring in a sailfish or marlin during the 1940 season? Commercial fishermen working near the snapper banks 18 to 20 miles off-shore report seeing many sailfish during the recent period of ideal fishing weather. Schools as large as eight to 10 have been sighted and many smaller groups were seen on several occasions—often coming within a few yards of their boats.

During the recent ideal weather conditions most local anglers devoted their time to catching barrels of king mackerel which like the wild pigeon in by gone days seemed inexhaustible. Many good catches of tarpon were made by up-state and out-of-state sportsmen. For several days tarpon fishing was at the peak of excitement.

The summer northern should blow out by the weekend and ideal fishing conditions should be present again. Fish appetites should have been well satisfied from the recent enormous catches of kings. Fishing Rodeo dates are only six weeks hence and a few good catches of sail or marlin at this time would stimulate interest among the class of sportsmen who participate in the annual rodeo.

Large schools of menhaden are reported to be off shore now and when the menhaden are in fishing is always tops.

Louis Has Hopes Of Celebrating Thursday Night

Godoy Will Face His Big Guns

NEW YORK—(P)—Joe Louis is throwing a party in Yankee Stadium Thursday night to celebrate the end of the third year in his record reign as king of the fight world.

He'll have no cake to carve. So the Bomber figures he'll carve Arturo Godoy instead.

He meets the crouching Chilean for 15 rounds or less in his 11th defense of the world's heavyweight championship—an all-time total which already has doubled the "high" for successful title defenses by any of the 15 previous heavyweight champions.

Joe tangled with Godoy last February and, although coming off with a 15-round split decision, he was subjected to considerable ridicule for the way Godoy's crouching, "squat-tag" boxing baffled him.

"He made me look bad," Louis has explained, and, hurt as always when his pride has been touched by an opponent's unorthodox tactics, the one-time Alabama cotton-pickin' wheeled out his big guns.

Godoy probably is as confident a rival as Louis ever faced. The Chilean is convinced he took Joe's Sunday punches without getting his hair too mussed. So, now he is of the definite opinion Louis hasn't a chance to win.

The betting men, however, advised Arturo to take off those rose-colored glasses. They've installed the Brown Bomber a 1 to 6 choice.

Aggies Will Not Play At Tyler

TYLER—(P)—The Texas Aggies gathered plenty of roses of their own last football season and for the first time in four years will not play in Tyler's Rose Festival game, October 5.

Rose Festival officials announced Saturday, however, they have prospects of a bang-up festival game anyway. The Hardin - Simmons Cowboys of Abilene, they said, will play the Arizona State College Bulldogs of Tempe.

Originally, the game was scheduled for Phoenix but has now been switched to Tyler to round out the annual all-day festival honoring one of the city's principal products—roses.

Dixie Howell, former Alabama University star who led the Crimson Tide to a Rose Bowl victory, coaches the Bulldogs. Frank Kimbrough, brother of Texas A. and M.'s All-American John Kimbrough, is Cowboy pilot.

The Rose Festival encounter will be the third game of the 1940 season for both teams. Previous to the engagement, the Cowboys will meet Daniel Baker and Centenary. The Tempe Bulldogs will meet the University of New Mexico and West Texas State before coming to Tyler.

Several of the nation's prominent football teams have played at the Rose Festival. Scores by years since the annual game was inaugurated in 1935, include:

1935—Temple U. 14, Texas A. and M. 0.
1936—Centenary 10, Baylor 0.
1937—Texas A. and M. 14, Mississippi State 0.
1938—Texas A. and M. 20, Tulsa 0.
1939—Texas A. and M. 33, Villanova 7.

Odessa Goes After Baseball Franchise

ODESSA, Tex.—(P)—Odessa baseball fans busily waged a campaign Saturday to bring the Big Spring West Texas-New Mexico baseball franchise to Odessa.

Tony Rego, Big Spring manager and owner of the franchise, indicated that the sale of 1,500 tickets to an "opening day game" June 26 would guarantee the transfer, subject to the approval of other league managers.

Odessa was a charter league member in 1937 but withdrew because the city was without lights for night play. Since that time, it has obtained a night plant.

ACCEPT CHALLENGE

EL PASO—(P)—Replying to a challenge issued by Babe Hunt last week, Babe Ritchie, Texas heavyweight champion, asserted Saturday night he is anxious for return match with Hunt that he will meet him on a "winner take all basis."

Richie and Tony Herrera, his trainer, said that thus far they have been unable to get Hunt to come to terms for a return match.

Chasing Rabbits Helps Miler To Break Records

MARSTON FITZSIMMONS

By JACK HEWINS

AP Feature Service

POMEROY, Wash.—Young Marston Fitzsimmons runs like a hare—which isn't so strange considering that he trains for the mile event by galloping over the hills where the packrabbits run out on his father's farm.

He has to train there because Pomeroy High School has a track team but no track.

Marston, a slender, 19-year-old with tremendous leg power and virtually untested stamina, has been burning up other people's tracks since mid-way of last season.

That's when the Pomeroy coach decided the school should have a track team. He took a group of boys up to the town baseball diamond, measured out a rough track and put his athlete to work.

Marston wanted to be a sprinter. His flair for finishing last in the dashes caused the coach to decide his protege should be a miler—he certainly couldn't do any worse in that event.

A few weeks later Marston pushed the winner of the state scholastic championship mile to a new state record of 4:27.

This year Pomeroy's track team found even the baseball diamond denied them. So they did their practice running anywhere they could. Marston chose the hills on his Dad's farm and guessed at the distance he was running.

In his first 1940 tussle with a stopwatch he turned in a 4:24 mile—and up to late May he had broken a record in every meet this spring. His goal is the 4:21.3 inter-scholastic mark set by Lou Zamperini.

Reynosa Cards 'Top' Bullfight

REYNOSA—Fermín Rivera, winner of the 1940 "golden ear" in Mexico, will be the matador at the bull fight here July 4 at 8 p. m.

Rivera was acclaimed the "best bullfighter" at the Mexico City ring recently and was presented the golden ear, highest honor a bullfighter can receive.

Appearing with him in Reynosa will be Julian Rodarte, who has been acclaimed widely in Mexico and who in 1939 won the "silver ear," likewise an outstanding trophy.

Both the matadors have fought frequently in Mexico and Spain.

Easy Fishing

PORT ARTHUR—(P)—No hook No line No bait. That was the slogan of Scoutmaster Clem Hall and four of his Troop 74 Boy Scouts as they caught 28 trout "from 10 to 14 inches in length."

While at their summer camp on Village Creek, near Silsbee, the fishermen relate, the four boys pulled their boat up a small stream, swinging backwards, it chanced to corner a sizable school of trout in shallow water. Desperately attempting to get back in deep water, the fish jumped over and into the boat and upon the bank.

Player Trade

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW LABOR CAMP

Lockhart, Nelson Win
Harlingen Work

HARLINGEN—A distinct, self-contained community will be established a mile and a half south of Harlingen on the Rangerville road as a result of contracts let Saturday by the Farm Security Administration for a migratory farm labor camp.

Low Bids Listed

The Associated Press reported that construction contracts for the camp had been to the M. R. Nelson Company of McAllen and John Lockhart of Harlingen. Bids recently were opened in the Dallas FSA office and the McAllen firm was low on the general construction contract with a bid of $114,730. Lockhart was low on a contract to build 224 wooden shelters with a bid of $57,792.

The McAllen firm did the major construction work on the FSA migrant community camp at Weslaco, first one to be opened officially in the Valley, according to Karl Buser of Dallas, district engineer.

The camp, to be built on 120 acres east of the Rangerville road about a quarter of a mile from the Arroyo Colorado bridge, will accommodate 224 families. It will be a self-contained community in that it will have its own sewage disposal system, recreation grounds, laundry and other facilities. A public health nurse will be located there and all applicants suffering from communicable diseases will first be isolated in a special group of cottages. Sanitary as well as comfortable accommodations for migratory farm laborers having bona fide employment is the aim of the program.

Third In Valley

The Harlingen camp will be the third to be located in the Valley and the fifth in Texas. A second camp has been completed at Raymondville but although several families have moved in, it has not been officially opened.

Bids have been taken for a camp at McAllen where a controversy over the site has delayed its erection. Bids also have been taken on camps to be located at Crystal City in Zavala county. Land has been bought for a camp at Princeton, Collin county, in North Texas, and bids for its construction will be received June 21.

Bathing Beauty Revue Is Scheduled As Big Event For McAllen's July 4th.

Many Entries Are
Up For Fete

McALLEN—One hundred letters have been sent to Valley organizations inviting them to sponsor entrants in the bathing beauty revue during the McAllen Fourth of July Celebration. Revue Chairman Scott Crow announced Saturday.

These were sent to chambers of commerce, American Legion posts, civic clubs, commercial and industrial firms, and individuals.

Entries Four In

"Already entries are coming in," Crow said, "and we expect many more the following week."

First, second and third prizes will be $25, $15 and $10. Contestants will be judged 50 per cent on beauty and form, 30 per cent on grace and personal charm, and 10 per cent for most attractive costume.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Paul T. Vickers said arrangements for the old fiddlers and callers contest were nearing completion. The contest will be held at 3 p.m. July 4.

"Mr. J. M. Hall, Weslaco, is the first entry this year," Mrs. Vickers said, "the contest last year had the greatest number of participants of any contest held in McAllen."

Most of last year's entrants are expected to re-enter this year.

New Event Planned

A new feature this year is the women's calling and dance contest. Fifty dollars will be divided as prizes among all entrants.

P. H. Granning, show chairman, said there will be a large revue, featuring girls from nearly every Valley city, at the athletic field the night of the fourth.

Radio Station KTSa, San Antonio, will devote a 15-minute program to McAllen and the Fourth of July celebration June 29, beginning at 1:45 p.m.

ZAPATA PLANS HIGHWAY FETE

Hidalgo Citizens To Attend Affair

EDINBURG—Zapata county is expecting a record turnout of visitors for its Frontier Hilation July 20, celebrating completion of paving on the state highway through the county linking Laredo and the Rio Grande Valley. Hidalgo County Judge Oliver C. Aldrich said Saturday.

The date has been changed from July 6 to July 20, he said he was informed.

"I understand the folks at Zapata are getting ready to barbecue enough beef to feed 20,000 people," the judge commented.

He added that he expected to attend and predicted that a large number of Valley residents will be there.

Tentative plans have already been made at McAllen to send a delegation to the hilation. (The latter word is a shortened term meaning "high-way celebration.")

County Judges M. J. Raymond of Webb, M. B. Bravo of Zapata and H. G. J. of Starr are joint chairmen of the celebration.

Exhibits Wanted

McAllen July 4 Fete

McALLEN—General Manager George Chapapasa Saturday urged that truck, auto and tractor dealers make their entries for the industrial parade of the McAllen Fourth of July Celebration.

The parade will be held the morning of July 3. There will be no entry fee, he said.

"We want to make this a big, successful feature of the celebration," Chapapasa said. "Free space will be provided for truck, auto and tractor exhibits."

Deadline for the industrial parade entries will be July 1. The parade will be conducted down Main street at McAllen, beginning at 10 a.m.

Huge New Tax Bill For Defense Costs Is Ok'd By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill carrying a requirement that President Roosevelt cut 10 per cent from all non-essential appropriations was approved Saturday by the Senate finance committee.

The bill would create 2,190,000 new income tax payers by lowering existing exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals. It also would increase corporation and so-called "nuisance" taxes (levies on gasoline, theatre tickets, automobile tires etc.) would raise all personal income levies by a flat 10 per cent, and would increase the federal debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

CAMP MEETING SET FOR JUNE

Church Of Nazarene
To Hold Revival

HARLINGEN—The third annual camp meeting sponsored by the Rio Grande Valley Holiness Association will be held at the Church of the Nazarene at Tenth and Tyler streets, Harlingen, from June 20 to 30. Rev. J. M. Hames, evangelist of Greer, S. C., will preach, and special music and children's meetings are being arranged.

Reverend Hames is a widely known evangelist of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, the author of a number of spiritual books and a contributor to a number of religious papers and magazines. His messages are of the type that explore the deeper truths of the Bible, and his coming to Harlingen offers an unusual opportunity to the people of the Valley to hear these fundamental truths so plainly presented.

The meeting is Valley-wide and inter-denominational in character, and while the general public is cordially invited, pastors of all churches are especially invited to participate in these meetings.

Camping and sanitary facilities have been provided for those who have their trailers or other provisions and wish to camp on the grounds.

Besides the children's services, there will be two regular meetings daily, 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Grider And Thomas C. Barber, Jr.

BROWNSVILLE—A beautiful candlelight ceremony, attended only by relatives, united in marriage Miss Laurita Celaya Grider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Starr Grider, and Thomas Caldwell Barber, Jr., son of Mr. Barber Sr., of Mesa City, Arizona, and Brownsville, and the late Mrs. Barber. The rites were read in the bride's family home at 7:15 o'clock Saturday evening by the Rev. Father Francisco Balzola, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church.

A setting of great beauty had been created for the rites with baskets and vases of pink and white gladioli being used throughout the ceremony. White tapers were used in many-branched candelabra, and in floor standards, furnishing illumination. Suspended high in the space made by the circular stairs was a basket of the chosen flowers. The full tiered of the stairs was entwined with fern, with bouquets of the chosen blooms placed at intervals.

The bride descended the stairs with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was especially lovely in a gown following the old-fashioned trend, of silk net worn over heavy duchesse satin. The tight bodice was adorned with rows of lace insertion, with Val lace ruffling extending from the shoulder to form a deep V below the waistline. The same ruffling was used on either side of the row of tiny pearl buttons from the collar to the short, puffed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of row upon row of lace-edged ruffles, which cascaded at the back into a billowy train. She wore long mitts of white lace, and her three-tiered fingertip veil was caught to the head with a tiny, flat cluster of stephanotis. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink camellias and stephanotis, finished with a ruffle of real lace. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch, a gold sunburst with diamond center.

Maid of honor to her sister was Miss Lucie Starr Grider, whose gown of sheer symphony blue silk marquisette, was worn over taffeta. The shirred bodice, with square neckline, had short puffed sleeves, and the skirt was of row upon row of graduated sizes of row upon row of lace-edged ruffles, which cascaded at the back into a billowy train. She wore long mitts of white lace, and her three-tiered fingertip veil was caught to the head with a tiny, flat cluster of stephanotis. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink camellias and stephanotis, finished with a ruffle of real lace. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch, a gold sunburst with diamond center.

daffodil yellow. Their bouquets were centered with the blue agapanthus and tied with blue satin.

Best man to the groom was his brother, Bill Barber.

Mrs. E. E. Sadler, at the Hammond organ, played the accompaniment for the nuptial solos, Thine Alone, and Gounod's Ave Maria, sung by Hugh B. Lamb. She played the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin for the processional and during the ceremony, Evening Star from Wagner's Tannhauser.

The rites were read at one end of the long room, in the bay formed by three windows. Wrought iron floor candelabra held white tapers, lighting a bank of pink and white gladioli. Two tall, white cathedral tapers flanked the satin-covered prie-dieu at which the couple knelt.

Immediately following the ceremony, there was a large reception. Greeting guests at the door were Mrs. Jesse Dennett and the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Augustine Celaya, Sr.

In the dining room, on a table laid with a handsome cloth of cut-work linen was the bride's cake, a huge, round, four-tiered confection, embossed in floral design, and topped with a bride's bouquet centered with an orchid. In front of this to either side were crystal candelabra holding white tapers, and gardenias in crystal containers long, low arrangement. Elsewhere about the room were the pink and white gladioli in crystal containers, and white tapers.

Presiding at the cake, after the bride cut the traditional first slice, was her aunt, Mrs. Augustine Celaya, Jr. Serving the punch, set on a table on the porch, were Miss Ann Strain of San Antonio and Miss Jane Strain of San Antonio.

This 'N' That

WORTHY Of imitation by voters everywhere is the individual charge accepted by women attending the Flag Day breakfast held by the four Valley D.A.R. chapters in Harlingen Friday.

Each is to write individual letters to congressmen and senators in Washington urging particular awareness in the handling of two measures now pending.

The letters will strongly urge defeat of the pending measure to require registration of all firearms in the United States, it being readily apparent that lawless and subversive elements will not voluntarily surrender or report weapons, and enforcement of such a measure might cripple possible need for home defense.

The second point to be urged upon representatives in congress is to compel revision of the present proposal for universal conscription to avoid any racial problems arising from billeting Negroes with youths of different racial background.

Mrs. Walter G. Weaver, Donna, who made both issues clearly important in an intelligent and informing talk, pointed to the fact that many boys from the Southland have fled CCC camps because their inherited attitude toward the Negro race was disregarded.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Weaver was making stirring talks about the menace of communism and other isms in this country as long ago as 15 years or more.

ANOTHER DONNA woman, Mrs. Beatrice Drake Frase, drew attention to the failure of most motion picture audiences to stand when the flag is shown on the screen or when the national anthem is played.

In Mexico, for example, she said failure of any person to rise to his feet when the Mexican flag is shown in a film makes one liable to severe questioning if not punishment.

Mrs. Frase, incidentally, is one of the few women from the Valley who will attend the national republican convention to select nominees for the presidency and vice presidency.

She is looking forward to the convention with lively interest.

EVERYONE, NOWADAYS, feels the need to express in action some way the tremendous urge to give assistance to the sorely pressed rear guard of democracy in Europe. But, far too many are overlooking the obvious act—contributions to the Red Cross to alleviate the staggering burden of caring for war refugees.

Don't wait to be asked to give to the Red Cross; take your share to the local headquarters and ask if there is any help needed there that you can lend.

HATS FOR FALL, millinery makers are announcing portentously, are going to look like hats.

They're really going to fit the head and will be adjusted to expose both eyes of the wearer.

No, it's not any great epidemic of going sensible or anything like that.

It's because the pompadour is likely to be the prevailing hair style by then.

And the pompadour, incidentally, was revived by smart Parisiennes because there were no longer hairdressers to keep coiffures in their previously intricate patterns.

THERE'S NO letdown quite so upsetting for the minute—as assuring your very conservative friends that you actually enjoyed that walk with driving rain pelting hard—

And feeling quite superior in the face of their adroitness of getting hair or clothing wet—

And then, facing a mirror triumphant to discover that your dress of some synthetic linen or silk has shrunk exposing from two to three inches of white slip.

OLD-FASHIONED square dancing gives promise of displacing Scottische and "Put Your Little Foot," judging from the unexpected way it's catching on in a number of cities.

They even have experts from university or other centers to serve as callers so the dancers will know what they are to do; of course the dancers soon learn the call rhythms themselves and one or two men learn to give the rousing chants.

Some persons have claimed the trend to more exuberant dancing is just another outlet for people's pent-up nervousness about troubled times.

Be that as it may, there is no need for the Valley to hunt for experts to call off the figures for old-fashioned square dances.

One of the best known in the old days of country dancing was Ben Kyser of San Benito. Jim Hollon Sr. of the same town could give some pointers as well as his wife. Wait until some of the oldtimers catch their kids trying out the "new" square dances. That will be one time when they can show the upstarts how something is done.

Miss Voiers' marriage to Jim Goode is to take place July 2.

Miss Thompson was in fuchsia marquisette, the guest of honor wore a becoming frock of blue marquisette, and Mrs. Laile Thompson was attired in pink net. Mrs. H. W. Voiers, mother of the bride-to-be, wearing black lace, and Mrs. Pauline Good, Kingsville, mother of the groom-elect, attired in chartreuse chiffon, were also in the receiving line.

A profusion of spring flowers was arranged throughout the rooms, combining with the pastel frocks worn by members of the house party to make a pretty scene.

The tea table was elaborately decorated with crushed net, the billowy material being draped on the sides and caught at intervals by wide bows and fresh daisies. Daisies formed the large centerpiece and the punch bowl and other appointments were of cut glass.

Pouring punch the first hour was Mrs. James Ward, San Benito, aunt of the groom-elect. Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Harlingen, presided during the second hour. Assisting at the tea table were Mrs. Leonard Hargrove and Mrs. Adine Cope.

Girl Pilots Find Bars Are Relaxed

They are making room for women in aviation—at last.

In June, 1935 American girls will get flying licenses. When these licenses are stamped, signed, sealed and delivered, the pioneer days of lady pilots will be over.

Some of these new girl pilots confidently expect careers in aviation. Most consider flying merely a pleasant accomplishment, just another subject they studied at school. This summer, if they are so minded, they can fly a hundred miles to attend a bridge party, and fly home again in time for dinner. Nothing to it.

These girls owe their flying freedom to the Civil Aeronautics Authority course given in cooperation with 435 colleges and universities. The price to the student is $40, about one-tenth of the actual cost of training.

The course provides instruction for nine times as many men as girls. There always have been plenty of men flyers, but until now only 600 women have managed to get licenses.

The $40 covers insurance, and it's a feather in the cap of the CAA that insurance for this course is cheap. Figures just released by insurance companies show they consider CAA students 1,100 per cent better risks than other aviation students.

It's a stiff course—harder, probably, than Economics 202, or Biology 4. Ground instruction covers history of aviation, civil air regulations, navigation, meteorology, theory and construction of parachutes, engines, radio. Then, at last, the student gets her hands on the stick of a plane. If she piles up 35 hours of flying time to make herself eligible for a private pilot's license, she can take up passengers, though not for hire. All students get a minimum of 35, a maximum of 50 flying hours.

The purpose of the CAA is to encourage civilian flying, and the purpose certainly should be accomplished. The course will be continued for at least another two years, which means that 2,000 more girls will take to the skies for the pure joy of flying.

The CAA fixed its ratio of men to girls after a Federal Education Bureau survey showed that was the ratio in high school aviation clubs and private flying schools. In another survey, high school girls listed aviation as their second choice in careers, topped only by movie stardom. Maybe that touched the hearts of the CAA.

What are a girl-pilot's chances for a paying career in aviation, expert flyer, if she aspires to be a transport pilot? It isn't too slight, if she hopes to be a stewardess. That's a narrow field. One company, Eastern Airlines, is using men as stewards.

But many related fields are open to girls. The course itself gives employment to a number of women flyers; they're hired to teach flying to boys and girls.

Earl Southern, in charge of the eastern territory of the CAA, says the girl pilot can be a charter pilot, an aerial photographer, a meteorologist, a designer of airplanes—all excellent opportunities in expanding fields.

She can do publicity for an airline, or work in the traffic department. Ruth Haviland, expert flyer, is director of the Women's Department of United Airlines. Mildred Johnson conducts an air shopping service. Mary Nicholson, another fine flyer, is secretary to Jacqueline Cochran, and Miss Cochran uses her plane to speed up the business of her cosmetics house. There are a few women navigators, a few women radio operators, and four or five women with degrees in aeronautical engineering.

Airplane and aircraft engine companies have orders for more than $700,000,000 worth of business. Aviation will double its activity within a year. The air-struck girl has a reasonably good chance to get her name added to the lengthening pay rolls.

Flag Day Observance By D. A. R. Chapters Stresses World Crisis

HARLINGEN—Recognition of international dangers threatening democracy in the United States and reaffirmation of cardinal patriotic precepts on which the organization is based gave a deeply serious note to the fifth annual Flag Day breakfast and program held by the four Valley chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution Friday at the Madison Hotel. Mrs. Beatrice Drake Frase, Donna, was presiding officer.

Mrs. Frase, who is newly elected corresponding secretary for the Texas chapter, D. A. R., was presented gifts from the chapters.

"The D. A. R.'s were first in urging national defense, in warning against isms, and in proper observance of the flag code," Mrs. Frase stated and suggested that it was now the duty of members to "keep their feet on the ground" and not get caught in hysteria and propaganda.

She introduced several members who have made outstanding contributions in D. A. R. activity. Included were Mrs. R. M. Winn, Mercedes, leader in Mercedes' Flag Day ceremonies; Mrs. Leon Brown, Mission, for her work in Texas with approved schools; Mrs. H. C. Groom, Brownsville, state chairman for Ellis Island; and Mrs. D. P. Germane, McAllen, new chairman for national defense for Texas.

Miss Mildred Ormsher heightened the patriotic theme of the meeting with her thrilling song, "The Americans Come." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Virginia Perry.

Speakers for the day were Mrs. J. C. McCreary, Alamo, regent for Rio Grande chapter, and Mrs. Walter G. Weaver, Donna. Mrs. McCreary gave an inspiring tribute to the flag.

Mrs. Weaver's talk, based upon personal experiences and information obtained through D. A. R. channels, included startling facts regarding undercover activities of fifth column groups in the United States. She minimized the threat represented by religious fanatics and uneducated groups, but declaring that serious work of undermining the government is under way in high places. She strongly advocated rifle training for youths in all communities, particularly along the Rio Grande border.

Mrs. Weaver recommended that each woman present write to congressmen and senator from this district opposing the bill to require registration of firearms held by individuals and to urge their vigilance to avoid in the proposed military conscription bill housing or other clauses which would group Negroes and youths of other racial background.

High school senior girls, selected as representatives from their towns for the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage sponsored annually by the D. A. R., were introduced and gold pins engraved with their names were presented by Mrs. Leon Brown, Mission. In the group were Misses Ruth Landry, Mission; Margaret Statham, Edinburg; Betsy Kidder, Mercedes; Lila Beth Caldwell, McAllen; and Ella Beth Melton, Pharr. Miss Josephine Austin of Donna and Miss Katherine Myers of Brownsville also received pilgrimage pins but were not present for the breakfast.

Tables, at which about 80 were seated, were festive with small silk flags, the bases encircled with red verbenas and white oleanders. Before the speaker's place, was a flat arrangement of flowers arranged to represent a flag. Corsages in the three colors marked each cover.

Valley Poet Is Honored By Request

HARLINGEN—Unique honor received the past week by Effa Stark Sanders, well-known Valley poet and wife of Ben H. Sanders, is the high point of a lengthening list of recognitions for her contribution in poetry through a number of mediums during the past several months.

She has received and accepted an invitation from Lilith Lorraine, to occupy a niche in Avalon, a poetry shrine in San Antonio fostered by Miss Lorraine in connection with the Poetry Promotion Congress, a nation-wide group of at least two thousand members.

Mrs. Sanders was invited to select her favorite poem of her own composition, to be hand-lettered, and placed in a plaque with a brief biography and her picture. Mrs. Sanders has chosen "You Are Guiding Me," written in sonnet form and the lines are being hand-lettered by Marion Price, well-known Valley artist who has just moved from Alamo to Harlingen. The frame of native mesquite is being made by C. C. Hatchett famous for his skill in woodcarving.

The biographical sketch will be excerpts from the foreword of Mrs. Sanders' book of poems, "Jewels of Personality," written by Mrs. Maxwell Thomas of Carlsbad, a sorority sister of the Harlingen woman.

The Avalon shrine is to be dedicated in ceremonies set for June 29 in San Antonio and Mrs. Sanders has accepted an invitation to be present.

Three New Locations Being Staked In Area Fields

McALLEN—Two deep wildcats are testing for production in sands below 7,000 feet, another is coring for a 4,200-foot sand and three new wildcat locations are being asked in continued heavy operations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Brooks county will be the scene of two of the new wildcats, one being the West Production Company's No. 1 J. D. Cage, Sec. 31, S. C. and S. F. Survey, seven miles south of Falfurrias. Work is starting on the 134-foot derrick for the 10,000-foot hole, which is scheduled to be spudded in late this month.

The other Brooks test will be the Sun Oil Company's No. 1 Boedeker, for which location is now being staked 1,500 feet west of State Highway No. 66 about 12 miles south of Falfurrias. The test is expected to be drilled to at least 6,000 feet.

Willacy Wildcat
In Willacy county, the Pan American Petroleum Company is clearing location for a new deep wildcat several miles southeast of Raymondville, but few details are available.

This is the first wildcat reported for drilling in several months, since the Humble drilled a deep hole on the western edge of the county.

The Pure Oil Company's No. 1 Garcia Land and Cattle Company, six miles south and a little west of Port Isabel, is making its second test since drilling to total depth of more than 10,300 feet. With 5 1/2 inch liner set from 8,126 to 8,520 feet, drill stem test recovered salt water in sand at 8,400 feet, and the hole was logged back to 7,600 feet, where the new test is reported underway.

The Gulf States Oil Company's No. 2 Josefa Cardenas, Share 156, San Salvador del Tule Grant, central Hidalgo county, is still testing in a set of three perforations at 7,315-20, 7,322-30 and 8,175-82 feet, where gas and distillate showed. No additional results have been announced.

Humble Well Drilling
The Homer P. Lee No. A-2 Yturri, Town and Improvement Commission, Porton, 42, Reynosa jurisdiction, western Hidalgo county, is drilling at 3,710 feet. Fifteen-inch drill stem test of sand topped at 3,284 recovered about 100 feet of mud and some salt water.

Humble No. 3 Mestena Oil and Gas Company, Jim Hogg county wildcat, is drilling at 3,185 feet. The hole was sidetracked at 4,850 feet.

Sun No. 1 Claud King, Survey 511, several miles west and south of the Starr county area of northeastern Starr county, is drilling at 4,250 feet and is due to start coring for sand soon. The test is one and one-half miles south of Sun No. 1 W. G. Lehr, Survey 513, which is being completed as a 30-barrel pumper in sand at 4,127-3 feet.

Magnolia Abandonment
The past week's only wildcat abandonment in the Valley was the Magnolia Petroleum Company's No. 3 Guerra Estate, Share 25-B, Santa Cruz Grant, in the La Reforma district. Total depth was 6,662 feet, where Schlumberger test was run.

New Locations Staked
Two new locations have been staked by Sun at the Sun field of Starr county, where four tests are in the process of completion. The new locations are the Sun No. 4 A. Montalvo, offset to Humble's No. 8 Montalvo on the north edge of production and the No. 9 Speer, one location east of the No. 8 Speer, inside location.

Sun No. 8 Speer, Survey 238, is preparing to test in sand at 4,950-64 feet after setting 5 1/2-inch o. d. casing at total depth of 4,970 feet.

Sun No. 9 Olivares, Survey 239, is being completed in sand at 4,660-70 feet with 5 1/2-inch o. d. casing cemented at 4,700 feet and total depth at 5,000 feet.

Sun No. C-1 Speer, Survey 235, has cemented 5 1/2-inch o. d. casing at 4,990 feet with sand at 4,965-70 feet and is testing for production.

Humble's No. 8 Montalvo, Survey 237, is testing in sand at 4,833-72 feet with 5 1/2-inch o. d. casing cemented at 4,855 feet.

Wallace Beery Appears In Epic Of Early West

'20 Mule Team' Saga Of Death Valley

Combining all the action and thrills of the best adventure films with the uniquely picturesque background of Death Valley and three sterling performances by a trio of the screen's most capable veterans, Wallace Beery, Leo Carrillo and Marjorie Rambeau in "20 Mule Team" emerges on the screen as one of the most thoroughly entertaining pictures of the year.

Saga of the pioneers who braved the Valley's treacherous heat to wrest a fortune from the borax mines, "20 Mule Team" presents Beery in his element as Muleskinner Bill Bragg, his most colorful and thoroughgoing characterization since "Viva Villa!" As his Indian "swampy," Rufe Dele, Carrillo scores as outstandingly as he did in that previous picture, while Marjorie Rambeau proves such a sure-fire feminine teammate for Beery as saloon-owner Josie Johnson that she promises almost at once to step into a new niche of fame. The three are ideally cast together.

"20 Mule Team" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

CURRENT FILMS

ROBERT TAYLOR and Vivien Leigh are perfectly teamed in "Waterloo Bridge," which is booked for showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito; Tuesday and Wednesday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Balancing a tender love story against a powerfully dramatic war background, the picture has everything in the way of brilliant performances, an absorbing romance, spectacular settings, exciting action and unusual photography.

Excellent supporting performances are contributed by Lucille Watson, Virginia Field, Maria Ouspenskaya and C. Aubrey Smith.

RE-UNITED for the first time since their appearance together in the memorable comedy hit, "The Awful Truth," Irene Dunne and Cary Grant are co-starred in "My Favorite Wife," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

The hilarity of the picture results from the marital complications which arise when Miss Dunne, cast as the wife supposedly lost at sea, returns home on the very night her husband is leaving on his honeymoon with his second wife. Cary Grant plays the bewildered husband, while Gail Patrick is seen as the bride. Further complications develop in the plot when the husband finds out that his first wife was isolated for seven years on a desert paradise with a handsome explorer, who, after they are rescued, wants to marry her.

'DOCTOR TAKES A WIFE' IS COMEDY HIT

LORETTA YOUNG and Ray Milland share co-starring honors in the screen's romantic comedy hit "The Doctor Takes a Wife," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Miss Young is seen as a young author who writes books in praise of spinsterhood; Milland, as a young doctor who thinks women are the closest things to poison a medical mind can find. And, in order to advance their respective careers, this delightfully matched couple are required to pose as man and wife, to bill and coo in public and to save their battlings for the privacy of their "love nest."

The featured supporting cast to Miss Young and Milland in "The Doctor Takes a Wife" includes Reginald Gardiner, Gail Patrick and Edmund Gwenn.

SPENCER TRACY SEEN AS THOMAS EDISON

BRINGING movie-goers another amazing proof that lives of great men are inspirational, dramatic, human and entertaining is Spencer Tracy's new starring picture "Edison the Man," which is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco.

Spencer Tracy has always been described as "superb" in every performance. It is difficult to picture him as topping his past amazing performances, yet, as Thomas Edison, he does. His portrayal is as human as your next door neighbor and as genuine as though he himself had lived the remarkable events of the film.

Last-Minute Filings Brings Heated Races

Willacy Furnishes Biggest Surprise With Sheriff's Race; Celaya Race Looms

HARLINGEN—Willacy county kept its place at the head of the Valley political parade Saturday, furnishing the biggest event of the final day for filing by producing two new candidates in the sheriff's race, G. W. McDougald, the Raymondville city marshal, and Lonnie Stone, former deputy sheriff.

The filing by the two new candidates, a double-barrelled surprise for practically all Valley political observers, turned the Willacy sheriff's race into a five-man affair which will gain a large portion of interest in what is conceded one of that county's hottest election years in its history. The three other candidates are Sheriff Joe Turner, Mack Chrestman and Luther Snow, present tax assessor-collector and former Willacy county sheriff.

Second in interest among Saturday's political developments was the drawing of two last minute opponents in Cameron county by State Representative Augustine Celaya, who himself waited until the final day to file. Gust Butler of San Benito and A. R. Davis of Combes jumped into the fray on the final day to make it a three-way contest.

LINDY FEARS U. S. DRIFTING TOWARD WAR
Condemns Meddling With Europeans

WASHINGTON — (P) — Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh asserted Saturday night that the defense of the United States should be constructed with the "cooperation of all American countries," but that "we must insist upon military bases being placed wherever they are needed for our own safety, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

He embraced this idea of western hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend" toward involvement in the European war and cease "these gestures with an empty gun."

Is Widely Criticized
Saturday night's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month. On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"—a speech which brought criticism from various members of Congress and praise from some others.

Saturday night he reiterated this viewpoint in these words:
"This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. . . . We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. . . . We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, to Finland, and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we cannot send."

He contended that it was "useless to talk of sending American troops to Europe now, for we would need months of preparation before we could train and equip even a small army."

If Germany wins, he argued, Europe will be a "European empire."

Turkey Stays Neutral On Russia's Orders

ANKARA, Turkey — (P) — The government informed all foreign envoys Saturday night that Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged and that for the present she will continue her non-belligerent status. The notice was given after Soviet Russia, informed sources said, had made known to Ankara that Moscow would prefer that Turkey not enter the war on the grounds that extension of the war to the Balkans was "undesirable."

Drive Extended

Red Cross Total In Harlingen $707

HARLINGEN — The Red Cross drive to raise a quota of $930 will be extended through Monday, officials announced when Saturday, the third day of the campaign, fell approximately $200 short of the goal. The Harlingen total raised to date is $707.

San Benito meanwhile, climbed $251.07, jumping from Friday's $300.00 to $551.07.

Red Cross officials in Harlingen are confident the additional $200 needed will be raised Monday, and will continue to keep a booth in the First National Bank.

FDR PLEDGES 'REDOUBLED' ALLIED AID

TO RUSH ARMS
Answers French Final Plea For Help

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Roosevelt, replying to the "last appeal" of Premier Reynaud for further aid for France, pledged redoubled efforts Saturday to supply munitions, but told him that only Congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

No Nazi Recognition
And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempts to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France."

It was after making this pledge that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the question of military aid.

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitment."

Only the Congress can make such commitments.
It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Answers "Last Appeal"
Reynaud directed to the President last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal."

In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high price ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"
This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the president's communication was not being given to reporters because it was given to his radio address which had been published.

Confers With Envoys
Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count De St.

Officers Interrupt Pro-Allied Meeting At Rio De Janeiro
RIO DE JANEIRO — (P) — A demonstration on the steps of the Municipal Theater, which authorities had permitted on the grounds it would be purely a pro-United States manifestation, was interrupted by police Saturday when it turned into a pro-Allied demonstration.

Brazil has remained neutral in the war and as a neutral has prohibited public manifestations for one side or the other.

Alien Registration Bill Passes Senate
WASHINGTON — (P) — Legislation requiring registration and fingerprinting of all aliens was passed by the Senate Saturday.

The bill is designed to tighten federal laws aimed at subversive elements. It now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate amendments.

U. S. Border Patrol To Be Doubled

Training School To Provide 800 New Men For Mexican Border

EL PASO — (P) — Doubling of the U. S. immigration border patrol was projected Saturday along preliminary steps for establishing a training school to provide 800 new border patrolmen along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Local immigration authorities conferred on doubling the border personnel here with James E. Ruffing and Daniel McGrath, assistant U. S. attorney general, who were ordered here by the Justice Department to study methods of intensifying border patrol activity.

Russia Invades Lithuania And President Flees To Germany; Verdun Falls Saturday

REDS CLAIM LITHUANIANS ATTACK THEM

Troops Moved Close To Nazi Border

BERLIN — (Sunday) — (P) — Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

The presumption in informed quarters was that he would be given the privilege of asylum should he appear in German territory.

"The German view is that the developments in Lithuania are a Russian-Lithuanian matter in which the Reich has no direct interest," said an authorized spokesman.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW — (P) — Soviet Russia gained her ultimatum Saturday "free passage" into Lithuania—the little country bordering Germany on East Prussia—of an unlimited number of troops of the Red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

To Moscow alone, however, was left the decision as to how many men would be sufficient.

COTTON CROP SAME AS 1939 Latest 'First Bale' On Record Due

HARLINGEN — The Valley's first bale of cotton this season may be the latest in recent history as a result of weather conditions which delayed planting and cotton men were of the opinion that it might be July 1 before the first bale is harvested. The movement was not expected to get generally under way until about the middle of July, many weeks later than usual, according to Frost Bohner of the South Texas Cotton Oil Company.

Drought conditions delayed plantings considerably but rains came at an opportune time and most of the crop was planted during a short period so that harvesting is expected to be fairly uniform.
Rains of the past week have materially increased prospect for the cotton crop, according to Douglas Carroll of the Harlingen Cotton Oil Company. He said the acreage was about the same as last season and that the production should be nearly the same. The Valley produced 93,000 bales last season. He estimated that there would be scattered bales until about the middle of July when harvesting might become general. Cotton, however, is subject to many hazards and these conditions might change overnight, he said. Damage from insect pests has been comparatively negligible with little loss from the cotton flea hopper.

Nazis Discount Aid From U. S. To Allies

BERLIN — (P) — The opinion of informed quarters in Berlin Sunday was that President Roosevelt's promise of further aid for the French and British held out "little prospect of effective help to the Allies."

It was pointed out here that the continuance of material aid from America was conditioned by the president on continued resistance by the Allies against Germany.

Windstorm Destroys Houses At Edinburg

EDINBURG — A short but violent windstorm struck about a mile and a half north of Edinburg Saturday afternoon, blowing down a string of cottages at the Rainbow Tourist Court, and some seven or eight telephone poles.

McAllen experienced a light shower Saturday afternoon, while heavier fall was reported at Rio Grande City.

Paris Is Ghost Town As Nazi Take Over Saturday

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
PLACE DE L'OPERA, Paris (By Courier Plane to Berlin) — (P) — The Swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated Saturday from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in this German-captured capital of France.

It is recalled that last January 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the Fuehrer twitted the Premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:
"Oh, Monsieur Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."

I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.

Only Austrian Vanguard in Paris
The Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.

(The cable was written at 9 a.m. Saturday.)
That Hitler himself is due here soon is taken for granted. (The Tribune De Geneve, of Geneva, Switzerland, carried a special Paris dispatch Saturday night saying that German troops were busy "preparing the Palace of Versailles for the arrival of Chancellor Hitler.")

Paris, Almost Empty, Seems Dead
We arrived Friday night in this city that seems dead. I just do not recognize Paris again. Seventy per cent of its population has fled.

From the Hotel Crillon, where once President Wilson of the United States addressed French crowds, the Swastika is flying.

Before the tomb of "Un Soldat Inconnu" were standing old women, young women, bearded old men and boys in their teens. Many of the older women were sobbing softly.
Never could one forget that deeply touching scene.

Former Austrian Leads Nazi Troops
At their head was a former member of the Austrian cabinet, General Glaise-Horstensau, who generally is credited with having made the Nazis' entry into Vienna possible.

Judgment Of Solomon

Baby Switched During Raid, Mothers Sue

THE HAGUE — (P) — Two fearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Solomon" Saturday. The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out a window to a pedestrian who took it to an air raid shelter.

FRENCH SEEK TO INUNDATE MAGINOT LINE

Cabinet Meets, Makes Vital Decision

BASEL, Switzerland — (P) — French efforts to flood the Germans out of the foothold they had secured on the French side of the Rhine, 40 miles north of Basel, were reported Saturday night to have failed.

By The Associated Press
Conquering German armies stormed through the Maginot Line Saturday to pierce France's vitals from the east. Down the center they drove 135 miles southeast of Nazi-occupied Paris behind the Maginot forts.

The Germans claimed Verdun, shrine of French World War valor.

French Staggering
The French army, staggering under these and other terrible blows, struggled on in anguished resolve with what remained of its strength.

Militarily, events seemed to have reached some final turning point. The British, declaring that the "Allies' consultation and agreement" still holds, hinted that Sunday would tell the story of the fight for France.

Politically and diplomatically, the portents of the sweep of German arms were felt around the world, and led President Roosevelt to assure the Allies that the United States would redouble its effort to speed guns, planes, munitions—"with no implications of military commitment"—so long as Allied resistance continued.

President Roosevelt's message went to Premier Reynaud of France, who had beseeched the United States for aid with "clouds of planes" before it is too late.

FD Answers France
With Germany in possession of vast reaches of the best parts of France, the President gave Reynaud assurance that the United States

BORDEAUX IS NEW CAPITAL

French Admit Losses But Still Fight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. The following story however has been received by wireless from Associated Press men in Bordeaux.)

BORDEAUX — (P) — Germany's armies threw a battering ram across the Rhine and into Alsace Saturday night in the face of the guns of the Maginot Line.

Deep behind the Maginot other Nazi columns—more than 100 miles due west of the crossing of the Rhine—plunged over the Sene and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of German-occupied Paris.

French Fight Back
The French fought back with the fury of men in anguish.

"The government met 'somewhere in France,'" President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, Admiral Jean Darlan, the navy chief, and General Joseph Vuillemin, the air chief, were there.

In their grave position they dealt with the results of Reynaud's "final" pleas for American help, for "clouds of airplanes."

The semi official Havas agency said there would be no separate

Workers Need Not Hire Representatives

BROWNSVILLE — Workers who wish to check the accuracy of their social security accounts for old-age and survivors insurance, or those past 65 who wish to file a claim for insurance payments, do not need to pay anyone to assist them. F. E. Wilson, Manager of the Social Security Field Office in Brownsville, pointed out Saturday. He said that procedures established by the Social Security Board furnish employees with every assistance in checking their accounts and in filing claims for insurance payments.

Recent inquiries received by the field office, Mr. Wilson said, indicate a belief on the part of some workers that they need to pay for the services of an outside person in order to be sure that their rights are protected. He explained that the Social Security Board has the duty of keeping accurate wage records and paying insurance benefits to all eligible persons and that it has established procedures to carry out these responsibilities fully. He added, however, that the Board's procedures do not prohibit the worker from being represented by an outside person if he so wishes.

Forms Available
In explanation of procedures established by the Board, Mr. Wilson stated that any worker who wishes to check the wages credited to him can get a self-addressed form for this purpose at the field office. If he fills this in and mails it, he will promptly receive a report from the Board's central wage-record office at Baltimore, which will show the wages reported by his employer and credited to his account. If he believes there is any error in the amount of wages credited to him, the field office will make every effort to clear up the matter. Mr. Wilson further explained that if the employee still questions the accuracy of the Board's record of his wages he has the privilege of having a hearing before the local regional referee, who is appointed by the Social Security Board but is independent of its Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Service Is Free
Some people, according to Mr. Wilson, have also indicated that they thought they should pay someone to represent them in filing claims for insurance payments. Mr. Wilson explained that the field office is prepared to give all claimants—workers past 65 and the families of workers who have died—all possible assistance in filing their claims for this insurance. This service is free.

He further stated that the board has established procedures by which anyone who questions the decision of the Bureau concerning his rights to insurance payments can ask for a hearing on his claim before a regional referee. If he is still dissatisfied after this review, he can appeal his case to the Appeals Council in Washington. Thereafter he, of course, would still have recourse to the Federal District Court for his district.

GOP Candidates Rent Convention City

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — Candidates seeking the Republican presidential nomination at the national convention June 24 have reserved hotel space here ranging from a double room for Utilities Executive Wendell L. Willkie to 102 rooms for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft backers, exclusive of Ohio's voting delegates, have accommodations in at least six hotels and have already opened headquarters in the Benjamin Franklin.

Next to Senator Taft on the room reservation roster comes Thomas E. Dewey of New York with 78 in two hotels.

New Orleans Ruling Saves Old Quarter From Modernization

NEW ORLEANS — (P) — The protection of a city ordinance designed to restore and preserve New Orleans' French quarter Saturday was thrown about the famous landmark, known to tourists throughout the world.

The ordinance — forbidding any modernization, painting or modification of any edifice in the quarter without specific permit — climaxed a long fight by civic groups seeking to preserve the quaint Old World atmosphere of the quarter, also widely known as the "Vieux Carre" (Old Square).

Colonies' Premiers Pledge Allies Help

Weather Bureau Maps Plan For New Storm Season

No Disturbances Are Likely Until After July

By A. D. HAWKINS
BROWNSVILLE—Rolling up its shirt sleeves, the Brownsville weather bureau staff Sunday girded itself for the most fickle of nature's destructive forces—the hurricane.

Hurricane season officially opened Sunday at 12:01 a. m., and will last until October 31, as far as the Brownsville weather bureau is concerned.

There is no need for alarm, however.

Coast Is Clear
The immediate Gulf of Mexico coast is "comparatively free" of the hurricane, according to a half century of records, but the Brownsville weathermen are to maintain a vigilance "just in case."

And, furthermore, the tropical disturbances in the Gulf of Mexico are not expected to get under way with much force until about mid-July.

The word "hurricane," signifying "big wind," is of Carib Indian origin. It has come into general use as the name for tropical cyclones.

Just a Typhoon
In fact, it is identical with the typhoon of the China Sea, the baguio of the Philippines and the cyclone of the Bay of Bengal.

First line of defense is the teletype machine installed this past week at the Brownsville weather bureau.

This machine is linked with weather bureaus in Corpus Christi, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and Key West. There are "drops," or connections to the machines, at the Brownsville airport, Lake Charles and Tallahassee, Fla.

24-Hour Service
Over this network there is 24-hour service with all stations receiving reports simultaneously.

Brownsville, at the southwest tip of the network, will get a mass of information: four regular observations daily from regular U. S. stations; two to four observations from vessels in the Gulf, Caribbean and South Atlantic; reports from the Mexican meteorological service and Pan American Airways' meteorological bureau.

Government and PAA reports from the West Indies and observations from even the northern shores of South America.

When there is indication of the development of a disturbance, more frequent reports will be sent. When the disturbance shows signs of movement, advisories will be issued giving the storm's location, strength and direction.

Reports Are Charted
The reports are charted, and interpolated at the local weather office.

The men behind the scenes at the Brownsville weather bureau's city office are Meteorologist W. J. Schnurbusch, official in charge, and his assistants, Myron H. Carpenter and W. W. Smith.

What causes a hurricane?

Weathermen say that it is the result of an accumulation of heat in the doldrums. The air becomes super-heated, and an unbalanced condition occurs. There is a rush of light air upward, and circular air currents are developed.

Because the hurricane is erratic, the weather bureau takes no chances. The last great storms here were in August and September of 1933 when the Valley was hit twice.

Yucatan Is Bumper
The Yucatan peninsula, with its long arm protruding into the Gulf of Mexico, acts as sort of a bumper for the Valley area. That's why the coast near here is comparatively free of the menace.

The year 1933 was a big year for the hurricane, anyhow. There were 21 hurricanes that year in the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, the largest number recorded.

The general average is between six and seven of the hurricanes a year. In several years there were only two. Only about 50 per cent of these storms reach hurricane intensity, and only about one-fourth approach close enough to U. S. coasts to cause winds of hurricane force.

One of the first signs of the hurricane is the sea swell. The tide rises as the storm approaches. Cirrus, or high feathery clouds, appear and seem to converge often at a point on the horizon. There is a brilliant red sky at sunset or sunrise.

Rain Accompanies Storm
Rainfall generally deluges the hurricane-stricken area. The greatest amount on record is 23.11 inches which fell at Taylor, Texas, in September, 1921, within 24 hours.

The period from July 15 to September 15 appears to be most "satisfactory" for the hurricane in the western Gulf of Mexico area. This area is quite safe during the first month, or six weeks, after June 16 when the season opens.

If, and when, there should be another one headed this way, however, the weather bureau can generally tell within 24 to 36 hours where it will strike.

They Don't Change
There is talk that in the "old days," the hurricane was stronger. Weathermen as a rule doubt this. The hurricane is just about the same. The difference was that in the old days buildings were not quite so stable, and couldn't withstand the storms.

There Was More Destruction
And the difference between a hurricane and the Valley's winter norther is, first, that norther generally don't blow over the 40 mile per hour mark, and, second, the wind of the norther is of short duration.

Up-to-the-minute observations of the hurricane season, which officially started Sunday at 12:01 a. m. will be sent and received over the teletype (above) at the Brownsville weather bureau. The teletype is hooked to a circuit that extends to Key West, Fla. Observer W. W. Smith is shown at the keyboard.

penier, C. F. Wilcox, Jr., and W. W. Smith.

They'll constitute what is known among the weathermen as the "hurricane watch."

Hurricanes originate in the doldrums just north of the equator. They move in a westerly direction. They have a tendency to re-curve in a northwesterly direction. When they reach the temperate zone, the tendency is to skirt northeastward.

The main body of the hurricane moves forward at a rate of about 12 to 18 miles per hour. The winds around its center, which move counter clockwise, vary in speed from 75 to as high as 100 to 150 miles per hour. The diameter, or center of the storm, varies from 50 to 300 miles.

The hurricane is primarily a water storm. It develops, and gains its energy over large bodies of water. When the storm reaches land, it generally breaks up, or decreases in intensity.

They'll constitute what is known among the weathermen as the "hurricane watch."

Hurricanes originate in the doldrums just north of the equator. They move in a westerly direction. They have a tendency to re-curve in a northwesterly direction. When they reach the temperate zone, the tendency is to skirt northeastward.

The main body of the hurricane moves forward at a rate of about 12 to 18 miles per hour. The winds around its center, which move counter clockwise, vary in speed from 75 to as high as 100 to 150 miles per hour. The diameter, or center of the storm, varies from 50 to 300 miles.

The hurricane is primarily a water storm. It develops, and gains its energy over large bodies of water. When the storm reaches land, it generally breaks up, or decreases in intensity.

What causes a hurricane?

Weathermen say that it is the result of an accumulation of heat in the doldrums. The air becomes super-heated, and an unbalanced condition occurs. There is a rush of light air upward, and circular air currents are developed.

Because the hurricane is erratic, the weather bureau takes no chances. The last great storms here were in August and September of 1933 when the Valley was hit twice.

Yucatan Is Bumper
The Yucatan peninsula, with its long arm protruding into the Gulf of Mexico, acts as sort of a bumper for the Valley area. That's why the coast near here is comparatively free of the menace.

The year 1933 was a big year for the hurricane, anyhow. There were 21 hurricanes that year in the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, the largest number recorded.

The general average is between six and seven of the hurricanes a year. In several years there were only two. Only about 50 per cent of these storms reach hurricane intensity, and only about one-fourth approach close enough to U. S. coasts to cause winds of hurricane force.

One of the first signs of the hurricane is the sea swell. The tide rises as the storm approaches. Cirrus, or high feathery clouds, appear and seem to converge often at a point on the horizon. There is a brilliant red sky at sunset or sunrise.

Rain Accompanies Storm
Rainfall generally deluges the hurricane-stricken area. The greatest amount on record is 23.11 inches which fell at Taylor, Texas, in September, 1921, within 24 hours.

The period from July 15 to September 15 appears to be most "satisfactory" for the hurricane in the western Gulf of Mexico area. This area is quite safe during the first month, or six weeks, after June 16 when the season opens.

If, and when, there should be another one headed this way, however, the weather bureau can generally tell within 24 to 36 hours where it will strike.

They Don't Change
There is talk that in the "old days," the hurricane was stronger. Weathermen as a rule doubt this. The hurricane is just about the same. The difference was that in the old days buildings were not quite so stable, and couldn't withstand the storms.

There Was More Destruction
And the difference between a hurricane and the Valley's winter norther is, first, that norther generally don't blow over the 40 mile per hour mark, and, second, the wind of the norther is of short duration.

Up-to-the-minute observations of the hurricane season, which officially started Sunday at 12:01 a. m. will be sent and received over the teletype (above) at the Brownsville weather bureau. The teletype is hooked to a circuit that extends to Key West, Fla. Observer W. W. Smith is shown at the keyboard.

PLAN TO FORM DRILL SQUADS IS DISCUSSED

Edinburg Volunteer Corps Proposed

EDINBURG — Edinburg people are being asked to express their views on the proposal to organize volunteer drill squads of young men who would be prepared in fundamental military training in the event the nation orders compulsory army service, a group of war veterans revealed here Saturday.

Favorable reception to the plan has come from a number of sources, they said. Those in charge of the informal survey are members of the Edinburg American Legion post, of which Harry Wilcox, Hidalgo county surveyor, is commander.

The plans would be volunteer and the youths would be trained only in the manual of arms and in basic drilling formations. By such a method, the drill squad members would be ready to join the nation's military forces without being classified as war recruits. In the event a call was issued for their services.

War veterans in other Valley cities were also reported here to be interested in such work.

Under the tentative proposal here, one or more drillmasters, probably ex-service men, would be chosen to direct the volunteers and regular drill periods would be conducted daily or weekly at public parks or play-grounds.

Hearing Set

Property Owners Ask For Paving

McALLEN — A hearing on a new paving project planned for three McAllen streets will be held at the city hall at 2 p. m. June 28.

City commissioners at a recent meeting approved a petition from property holders on Maple Avenue from North Tenth to North Twelfth Streets, Eric Avenue from South Main Street to the alley between Main and South Fifteenth Streets, and Kendlewood Avenue between North Fifteenth and Sixteenth Streets.

The paving will be done under a WPA project which will pay 47 per cent of the total cost in each section with the work done on each street. Property owners will be assessed the other 53 per cent according to the front rule plan.

Louisiana Defers Dress Resolution To Tag Lobbyists

BATON ROUGE, La. — (P) — A proposal to require all lobbyists to wear red uniforms, green caps and yellow shoes "so we'll all be on our guard against them" was suggested to the Louisiana senate.

Action on the resolution was deferred.

Hug-The-River Road Opening Is July 20

ZAPATA — Robert Lee Bobbitt, member of the Texas Highway Commission, will be principal speaker here July 20 at the celebration of the opening of the Hug-The-River Highway through Zapata County.

Reports said the celebration will be one of the largest in border history, and officials and residents of Valley counties were urged to participate in the festivities by attending.

U. S. To Publish Details On Valley

BROWNSVILLE — A new book, entitled "North America," written by J. Russell Smith, professor of economic geography at Columbia University, will contain two photographs of Brownsville.

The photographs were sent by the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, which has just been notified that they are being used in the book.

Objectors To War Backed By Baptists

BALTIMORE — (P) — The southern Baptist convention adopted Friday a special recommendation of its social service commission providing for registration of church members who are "conscientious objectors" to war and are opposed to bearing arms.

"Baptists have always believed in liberty of conscience and have honored men who were willing to brave adverse public opinion for the sake of conscientious scruples," the recommendation said.

MERCY DRIVE TO BE PUSHED

Only $865 Raised

BROWNSVILLE — Making a final effort to open purse strings here, the Brownsville chapter of the American Red Cross will unleash an intensive drive Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to secure funds for European refugee work.

Of the chapter's quota of $3,520 only $865 has been raised to date after a month's effort to secure voluntary contributions.

D. B. Briggs, local Red Cross roll call chairman, declared Brownsville would initiate a "blitzkrieg" drive to get the much needed money.

"They haven't been coming through with voluntary contributions so we're going to solicit them personally," he said.

Briggs appealed to Brownsville women to join the menfolk in the drive, and asked for volunteers to assist.

The volunteers are to meet Tuesday at 5 p. m. at the office of C. C. Stewart, assistant postmaster, who is Red Cross chairman here.

Boxes to receive voluntary contributions are still located at the post-office, Piggy Wiggly store, First National Bank, Buckingham Service Station, White Kitchen and Den-Russ Pharmacy.

Of the contributions received to date, most have been of large donations. There have been four $100 contributions.

A Red Cross mercy ship was understood Saturday to be enroute to France with medical supplies, food and clothing.

They were Charles Paul Egly, 27, Ross Hernandez, 18, and Jesus Al-mendarez, 17, all of Galveston, according to Brownsville police.

The charge filed Thursday in Fred Reico's court named Charles Egly, Rosendo Hernandez and Jesus Al-mendarez, all of Galveston, as the thieves.

The Withoff automobile was stolen from Elizabeth street in Brownsville early Wednesday night, and recovered by Laredo officers Thursday morning, Friday, Deputy Sheriff D. D. Norton and W. R. Smith went to Laredo to return the three youths, jailed there, to Brownsville.

Mexican Police Lay Blame For Fighting On Socialist Youth

MEXICO CITY — (P) — Police blamed members of a Socialist youth organization Saturday for a series of street clashes in which 56 persons, most of them law students, were injured Friday by bullets and stones.

The disorders started, authorities said, when members of the United Socialist Youth, which is affiliated with PRM, the administration party, began hurling stones at students of the National University of Mexico.

Allies Still Have Seven Billions Cash To Spend

'Quick Assets' Could Purchase War Supplies In America Officials Have Estimated

WASHINGTON — (P) — United States officials estimated Saturday that the British and French empires still have roughly $7,000,000,000 of "quick assets" with which they could purchase war supplies immediately in the United States.

These assets include gold, cash deposits and American securities.

The officials, however, indicated that lack of materials to be bought quickly was much more of a problem to the Allies than the availability of cash for payment. They pointed out that in spite of pressing needs for airplanes ever since the war began, the Allies have had to sign some contracts for planes not expected to be ready for delivery until September, 1941.

War department officials said exhaustive surveys were being made to determine what additional surplus equipment was available for sale to the Allies. They would give no indication as to what such supplies might be, but emphasized that the department could not sell any equipment in the hands of troops or the national guard.

"We are not de-arming the army," a spokesman said. The department has already released for sale to the Allies 173 airplanes and more than $37,000,000 worth of varied equipment declared to be surplus. This material is understood to have included more than 500 75-millimeter field guns and 600,000 Lee-Enfield rifles of the World war period. In addition, the navy and marine corps have released 80 planes.

Taylor said he was asking the stations to give periodic, complimentary "plugs" submitted by the chairman of the Fourth of July publicity committee. Among other things, they will set forth that the local post of the Legion annually stages one of the state's biggest celebrations in McAllen.

Florida Citrus Men Look Us Over

Floridians Urge Area Publicity

HARLINGEN—Valley growers of citrus fruits are getting the benefits of Florida's advertising campaign and this area should engage in a similar publicity program to promote the use of grapefruit and oranges over the nation, a delegation of Florida men said here Friday.

In the group were Tom B. Swann, of Winter Haven, vice chairman of the Florida Citrus Commission; Edward G. Todd of Avon Park, chairman of the commission's better fruit committee and Charles F. Chastain of Lakeland, secretary to the commission.

The Florida men arrived by plane in Brownsville Tuesday afternoon and made their headquarters at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen until their departure from Brownsville by plane Friday evening for Arizona and California.

"Florida and Texas should be as close together as the three citrus producing areas within the state of Florida," said Swann. "In fact, the ridge section of Florida may be closer to Texas than to the Florida East Coast producing area because it probably thinks more along the lines of the Texas industry than any other," he said.

The Floridians conferred here with L. E. Pratt, chief of the citrus maturity division of the state department of agriculture; and C. E. McCormick, director of the shipper's bonding and licensing division. They were being taken to Brownsville by Herbert R. H. Rock of McAllen, soil analyst who formerly lived in Florida.

Small Craft Exempt From One Radio Law

BROWNSVILLE—Passenger craft of 15 gross tons and under have been exempted until May 17, 1941, of complying with the federal communications act, U. S. customs announced here Saturday.

The exemption is for those small craft navigating not more than 20 nautical miles from shore, or more than 200 miles between ports. It was understood to apply especially to fishing and sports craft. The act had specified that all passenger vessels operating on the open sea be equipped with radio transmission, and a licensed radio operator.

HARLINGEN—Dad, Pops, The Old Man, who valiantly drags home the bacon for the wife and kids some 30 weeks out of the year, will have his day Sunday—if he can find time.

Of course, he may have to get up and take the tots to Sunday school, and stay for church, and run down to the store "for a few minutes" after dinner, and maybe take the family to the beach after his nap, but the day is supposed to be his to do with as he pleases.

It may be that he actually likes the ties, bedecked in white paper and red ribbons, which the girls carefully tie up and with which they proudly garnish his breakfast plate. It may be that the cigars are his favorite brand. It may be that he gets to take off his shoes and wiggle his sock-

McAllen Population Rise Lags Behind Other Marks

Births Increase Over Deaths; Electrical Connections, Postal Revenue Jumps

McALLEN—Within the last 10 years, everything has grown by leaps and bounds in McAllen except its population.

Time-honored methods of estimating the population of a city were thrown into the discard Saturday after the last enumerator prepared to call the 1940 census count completed.

McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said the preliminary count of 11,824 would be increased—but not substantially—by the final check which closed at 5 p. m. Friday.

While the count represented an increase of 2,850 over the 1930 population of 9,075, it arbitrarily disproves the old methods of estimating the census by the scholastic population.

McAllen should have a population of 15,375—if the old rule of multiplying the school count by five held true. There are approximately 3,075 scholastics in the McAllen metropolitan area.

Since 1930, McAllen births have increased about 1,700 over its deaths for the same period, Registrar of Vital Statistics C. D. Martin said. There were 3,456 babies born here and 1,666 persons buried. Martin discounted those from other cities born here to arrive at his total.

Postal receipts have shown an increase of not quite 50 per cent, indicative of the city's growth, rising from $36,939 for 1930 to $54,193.57 for 1939.

Electrical connections by the Central Power and Light Company have illustrated a like increase within the past five years, jumping from approximately 969 in 1935 to 1,528 in 1940. The same holds true with connections made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, listing 1,133 in the McAllen area in 1931 with 1,940 for April 30, 1940.

McAllen's census count, however, still will not put the city into the 12,000 class, chamber officials disclosed.

SAN BENITO—The Republican Women's club of Cameron county will hold a luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel here.

Brownsville women can contact Mrs. R. Mathers for reservations, which should be placed before 10 a. m. Monday.

Leonard briefly gave a history of the flag, turned the tenor of his speech and played those who would destroy it. "Forces across the sea would end all of our democratic institutions, if they could," he said, "and it is the American duty and the American way to prevent its happening."

Frequently a cheering crowd interrupted Leonard as he voiced the stirring appeals for American loyalty to its nation.

The program, sponsored by the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, was calculated to stimulate patriotism and to permit residents to re-

'Hitler Will Fall'

Allied, United States Industries Can Build Beyond Hitler's Capacity, Is Belief

LONDON—(AP)—Official Britain coupled a prediction of an immediate German "peace offensive" with a declaration that Allied and United States industries would build up "a weight of armaments with which Hitler will be quite unable to compete."

Britain's determination to fight on despite the reverses in France was voiced by Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary secretary of the ministry of information, who declared:

"It will not be on the dry land of Europe that this war will be won. It will be upon the seas and in the air; in distant continents; so soon as unlimited resources of the British empire and of the Americas can be mobilized to turn the scale."

Nicolson, speaking before a Leicester political meeting, declared Adolf Hitler's prophecy that England would be brought to her knees by mid-August "will not be fulfilled."

"And when he finds autumn drawing in, into winter, and the great resources of our own industry as well as those of the United States are building up against him a weight of armaments with which he will be quite unable to compete, he will recognize that victory is no longer possible."

"Then he will turn and twist in the hope of inducing this country and her Allies to make peace that will be no more real than the peace he imposed on Czechoslovakia."

The tanker will arrive To Cargo Thursday

BROWNSVILLE—Shipment of the first cargo of crude oil from the Port of Brownsville, originally scheduled for Sunday, will not be made until Thursday.

The SS Spencer Kellogg of the New York and Philippine Steamship Line, which is to load the oil, was reported Saturday to be in drydock at New Orleans.

The tanker is to load between 52,000 and 57,000 barrels of oil from the Davis and Company tank farm here, oil pumped from the Rincon field of Starr county.

Meanwhile, two additional 80,000 barrel tanks are under construction at the Davis tank farm. The company already has completed one 80,000 barrel tank, and three of 55,000 barrel capacity.

The oil is being pumped from the Rincon field to Brownsville at the rate of about 8,000 barrels per day. The SS Medina of the Clyde Mallory Line is due Sunday at the Port of Brownsville to load general cargo for Boston, New York and Charleston. The freighter will sail late Monday. The Philen Shipping Company of Brownsville, is agent.

Youth Confesses

Statement Made In Hidalgo Slaying

EDINBURG—Pedro Sanchez, 17-year-old resident of the El Gato ranch community near Alamo, has signed a statement admitting the fatal shooting last Thursday of Patricia Escobedo, 16, also of El Gato, Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross announced here Saturday. Sanchez remains in the county jail here, and has not sought his release under bond.

Sanchez's statement, said Ross, revealed that the youths had quarreled over each other's attentions to the same girl and that ill-feeling had existed for several months. Escobedo died of bullet wounds in the back of the head and in the kidney.

DEFENSE RUSH DELAYS BILL

Status Of West Plan Is Unchanged

EDINBURG — There is nothing private citizens or water leaders of the Rio Grande Valley can do at this time to hasten consideration of a $34,000,000 federal irrigation and flood control project on the lower Rio Grande.

Such was the admonition voiced here Saturday by Oliver C. Aldrich, president of the Water Conservation association of the Valley.

Aldrich said he and A. J. Cramer of El Paso, both of whom spent two weeks at Washington recently enlisting support for the West measure, had been advised by the Valley congressman this week that the status of the bill is virtually the same as when they left the capital more than a week ago.

Drafts of the measure have been placed before several government departments and bureaus for their approval before it is called up for a vote.

The association president also pointed out that the defense "rush" which had gripped Washington by the time he and Cramer arrived there recently is continuing at an even more breathless pace, and that until there is "some letup" in such activity, the Valley measure will have to await its turn.

Aldrich described the haste with which activity is under way by explaining the difficulty the Valley emissaries had in reaching either Congressman West or Senator Morris Sheppard, senior Texan in the upper house.

"Mr. West remained on the house floor throughout each day," said Aldrich, "and the only way we could see him while congress was in session was to call him out. Even then, he left a page boy there so he could be informed the minute a vote on any matter was to be taken."

Aldrich said Senator Sheppard, as chairman of the important senate military affairs committee, is one of the busiest men in the capital.

"We managed to get past several delegations into his office and then could only be allowed a few moments, because he is working on so many different military projects and at the same time taking part in every vote the senate considers."

In spite of such activity, Aldrich added, both West and Sheppard are spending extra hours in giving attention to the Valley measure. Another who is deeply interested in the bill is Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state, to whom the state department more than three years ago assigned the task of heading negotiations for a Rio Grande water treaty between the United States and Mexico.

The exchange was able to market in 200 cities a total of 218 last season in spite of the smaller tonnage handled this season, William A. Brunton, general sales manager, said. Withdrawal of several associations and loss of fruit by the freeze handicapped the exchange which had built up an outlet for a larger volume of fruit but Brunton said most of the markets that were not used this year were truck markets.

Growers in the five associations using the Stuart Place plant in Harlingen not only have paid for the $70,000 worth of property represented there but have gotten back the money they paid in during the first five seasons, W. E. Allen, association manager, said.

Ben F. Barnes, who represents the five-way setup on the exchange board of directors, and G. E. Vance, exchange public relations representative, also spoke.

Theft Is No Crime When Witnesses Not Present

SAN JUAN—Vidal Ornelas, about 50, classifies a theft as such only when the thief is seen in action. Tried before Justice of the Peace E. L. Savage of San Juan this week, Ornelas was accused of petty theft—stealing discs from a plow.

"Are you guilty?" the court asked. "No," replied Ornelas.

"Nobody saw me when I took them."

He was fined $100 and costs and committed to the county jail at Edinburg on failure to pay the fine. Assistant District Attorney Hollis Rankin prosecuted for the state.

Officers who investigated the case said Ornelas had been involved in a long series of petty theft cases.

Other cases prosecuted by Rankin in the county the past week: Juan Martinez, Mercedes, fined $1 and costs by Justice T. J. Fikes Sr. at that city for use of abusive language; Luciano Rodriguez, Mercedes, found not guilty in the same court on a charge of parking on the highway; and Claude Brown, fined $1 and costs by Justice Savage at San Juan for violating the law of the road.

OIL LEASING DEAL STALLS

McAllen Owners Fail To Join Move Jaunt To Alaska

McALLEN—Although 27 of the 34 McAllen business and professional men having land in the McAllen-Pharr gas-distillate blocks have put their leases into the program, seven property owners, who are still holding their acreage out, may cause the whole program to fail, records of C. H. Swallow, in charge of the leasing program, showed Saturday.

The 27 McAllen landowners who have signed leases either feel that this is their last chance, perhaps for many years to get development, or else they believe the community development, such as the approximate one million dollars to be spent in drilling and building recycling plants, and the probability of getting industrial plants to locate here to consume the gas, is of such great importance that they have signed the leases, Swallow said.

Most of these 27 are urging fellow citizens to sign at once. It was explained that the signing of leases by those who have not yet signed was of far more significance than the mere securing of the acreage.

DUG OUTA SPORTS BAG!

By E. C. "DOC" OSBORN

Here We Go Again

It won't be long now until Joe Louis steps into the ring to defend his heavyweight boxing title against Arturo Godoy (Thursday night to be exact) for the second time.

When the two heavies met before, Louis got the decision and Godoy received a lot of glory and quite a wad of cash for staying with the Brown Bomber.

It was this "staying business" that possibly gave Godoy another shot at Louis' title. And along with this chance came quite a few boxing fans who climbed right on Godoy's bandwagon.

One thing is certain, the ballyhoo boys got busy. Many magazines have carried stories recently telling about how Godoy is going to take the crown from Louis. And even Jack Dempsey is helping to aid the crowd Thursday night by doing a bit of sparring with Arturo and telling how tough he is.

Of course Jack is helping himself at the same time for he is scheduled to meet Cowboy Luttrell, a wrestler, in a "grudge" match in Atlanta.

It may be that this is the time set aside for Joe Louis to step out of the fight picture. We do not think so but if we could just get Mike Jacobs to give us the low-down we could pass the information right on to you. You can be sure that Mike (he is the big boss of the fight game as you know) knows who will win Thursday night.

We are stringing right with Louis Thursday night. Despite the fact that Godoy did stay with the champ, fails to excite us very much. Certainly Godoy did not fighting. It is true he was able, with his odd style, to keep away from Louis' haymakers, but it proved very little in our opinion. And we were pretty disgusted with Louis when the fight was over for we think that a champion should be able to solve the fighting style of any opponent in 15 rounds.

We note where the bookmakers have started out by making Louis a one to six favorite. That is customary and a champion usually starts out at about that figure, particularly such a champion as the Bomber. Between now and Thursday night, the odds will vary a little but it would not be surprising to see Joe a 1-8 favorite at ring-side. There will be some takers for many fans like the long odds and they have something to talk about for many months. We remember well that he happened to meet Dempsey. And we were proud of ourselves as a picker in addition to a small financial gain.

One fellow in Harlingen (name on request) has yet to bet on Louis. He takes the long odds and feels confident that he will catch Joe "going out" and will get even. So in order to keep the records straight, we pick Louis to win over Godoy and we believe it will be with a knockout in the early rounds.

Real Action

If you haven't taken in any of the games at the La Feria girls softball tournament, you are missing something.

It makes little difference how far you have to drive, you will be well paid for your trip for the girls certainly do give you something to talk about. They play the game for all it is worth and there are several teams entered in the tournament that could give a man's team a fit.

This week the weaker teams will go out, leaving the top one to go after the title. This means the going will be tougher and the games harder fought.

We cannot help but pass on the tip to you to attend these games.

American League Chatter

During the last week, Pitchers Niggling and Gorsica won their first American League games while Trotter of the Browns was credited with his first 1940 victory. First defeats for the season were charged against Al Smith of Cleveland, Galehouse of Boston and Russo of the Yankees. . . . Steve Sundra is not as fortunate or as effective this season as in 1939. A year ago, he won his first eleven games. This year, he lost his first three. . . . Elden Auker has looked three times when losing in his last four games for the Browns. He lost to Bob Feller and Cleveland, 3 to 2, to Chicago 4 to 3 and then won from Boston, 5 to 3 and from Philadelphia, 15 to 1. . . . In winning five games in a row, Marvin Brewer of the Yankees allowed only 28 hits and nine runs. . . . Between May 28 and June 7, Jack Knott of the White Sox lost three games by a one-run margin. . . . Walter Judnich, Brown outfielder, had a great day in the field, June 7, starting two double plays. . . . Although Marvin Brewer of the Yankees has been mighty effective this season, one Cleveland batsman considers him his "cousin." Hal Trosky gathering three home runs off the sensational youngster in two games. . . .

Al Milnar, Cleveland southpaw, had pitched 24 scoreless innings prior to June 11, allowing only two runs in his last four games. In addition to pitching two consecutive shut-outs, Milnar has pitched three games this season in which his opponents have scored by one run.

Defeats Old Golf Rival In Finals

Gals See - Saw From First Hole

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Betty Jameson, women's National golf champion of San Antonio, burned up the Glen Echo course in 8 under par Saturday to defeat Patty Berg, the defending champion, 2 up in a thrilling 36-hole bout for the Trans-Mississippi championship.

It remained anybody's game to the seventeenth hole, where Betty won with a par 4 after Patty was forced to recover from a trap for a bogey 5. All the Texan had to do was halve the home green but Patty's resistance was then completely broke and she overrode the green with her third shot for another bogey 5, while her opponent was in nicely for a par.

The match see-sawed all day and Betty was downhearted coming up to the fifteenth one down.

But here she cracked in the most spectacular shot of the day—a chip in from a foot off the green. She aimed for nearly two minutes then threaded the needle for a birdie three on the 35th hole.

They halved the sixteenth with birdie fours, but Betty was on top to stay.

The nip-and-tuck battle is best described by the fact the girls halved only 15 of the 36 holes. The other 21 were see-sawed back and forth.

Coffey Winner At River Crest

FORT WORTH—(P)—State Champion Bill Coffey of Fort Worth won the 22nd annual River Crest Invitation Saturday, his second major title in the week.

He defeated Don Schumacher of Dallas 1 up in the 36-hole finals, drawing even at the 35th hole and winning with a scrambling eagle three as against Schumacher's birdie on the 36th.

Last Sunday Coffey captured the state championship in the tourney at San Angelo.

Andrew Chilton, Fort Worth, Number 1 man on the University of Texas golf team, beat Norman Rowland, also of Fort Worth, 1 up on the 23rd in the championship consolation final.

Midget Autos Race At Mission Today

MISSION—Bo Scott and Gordon Sibson will duel for racing honors Sunday afternoon when the summer season is opened at the Legion Speedway in Mission. Dark horse candidates for top place in the seven events will be the other Valley drivers, Joe Schreiner, Earnest Hocker, and Bart Beach.

The racing program, all Valley men, a strong racing ring will be built up from Valley drivers, members of the Mission Legion post announced, and a series of weekly or semi-weekly race programs scheduled. More Valley interest will be created through an all-Valley program and, in addition, the heavy expense of bringing up-state drivers in will be eliminated.

The Mission track has been pronounced one of the best and fastest in South Texas by drivers who have raced all over the Southwest. A special oil base was used in constructing the regulation size oval last summer and the track has been pronounced in excellent condition for the new series.

For the Sunday afternoon event, 1,000 tires in the shade are available at 20 and 40 cents.

Mercedes, Weslaco Squads Will Clash

MERCED—The Mercedes Lions will play host Sunday afternoon at Lions Park to the Weslaco Panthers, with play beginning at 2:30 p. m.

After taking a lacing recently at the hands of the Panthers, the Mercedes team will be out to even up the score in this second game of a two-game series between the clubs.

Races Postponed

PORT ISABEL—Due to a number of sailboat pilots going to Corpus Christi to officiate in the Bucaoner Regatta to be held Sunday, the Port Isabel Yacht Club sailboat races will not be held here Sunday as scheduled.

The races will be held Sunday, June 23, it was announced here Saturday.

Pinch hitter Silvestri of the White Sox was the first batsman to make a home run off Monte Pearson of the Yankees this season. . . . Not until June 5 did Boston lose a game by one run. They had won 10 by that margin, several of them by virtue of Jimmy Fox's ninth inning home runs. . . . Walter Masterson, Washington youthful right hander, has had a peculiar record. In four innings of relief work against Boston, he allowed one hit and won. In two innings of relief, he allowed New York two hits and lost. Next, he pitched a complete seven-inning game against the Athletics and won, allowing three hits. Then, he tackled Cleveland and went the nine-inning route, allowing four hits, winning again. . . . Boston baseball writers say that although fans around the American League circuit delight in booing Manager Joe Cronin, the latter really thrives on their efforts. In fact, he is said to enjoy the razzing.

Vitt Caught Off Guard

WINNING GOLF

By LAWSON LITTLE
Your Follow-Through

My conception of the follow-through is that this part of the swing should be considered more as the result of a well-made swing than the cause of a good swing.

If a player stands to his ball in a position that allows him to swing the club without being tensed or strained, the chances are much better for him to finish the shot well. He will be relaxed so that the club head will be able to pull his body, arms, hands and feet into a good follow-through position.

It can be said of the follow-through that the body is permitted to give to the natural swinging of the clubhead. And as balance throughout the entire golf swing, is nothing more than the giving of the body to the swing of the club, the follow-through and the balance are very closely related.

For those students of the game who are more analytically minded, I will attempt to break down the follow-through and explain the actual positions of the various parts of the body when the player is in what I call a good follow-through position.

First I will consider the feet. Hundreds of pictures show us that nearly all the good players have most of their weight on the left foot at the finish of the shot. A closer study of these pictures show us that most of this weight is on the heel of the left foot. The right foot supports very little of the player's weight and the right heel has been lifted off the ground by the turning to the left of the left side; so that only the point of the toe rests on "terra firma."

Working up from the feet, we come to the body. As a general rule the angle of the curvature of the body (the angle formed at the waist by the upper part of the legs and the upper part of the body) is the same as it was at address. There has been no suggestion of straightening up.

The left hip has been advanced forward and turned well to the left so that the player's chest is practically facing the direction of play.

Next comes the hands and arms. For the upright swinger, the hands should finish quite high—I might say "fairly close to the player's head." The flat swinger should finish with his hands nearer his left shoulder than his head. The finish position is exactly opposite from the top of the backswing. The right arm should tend to be straight and the left elbow pointed toward the ground. Even at this stage of the swing, a firm grip on the club should be maintained particularly with the left hand.

Seldom is the follow-through given much concern by the average player, and this is probably because the follow-through naturally comes well after the ball has been struck. I cannot overemphasize the importance of the player, once in a while, checking up on his follow-through. Because, as the follow-through is the result of a good swing, many faults can be discovered by working back through an analysis of the follow-through. Many times in my own game I can cure a fault by making myself finish the swing correctly. In this, I know that I am contradicting myself, but when I also know that the faulty follow-through comes from the fault that occurs before the ball has been hit, I feel that the contradiction is sometimes justified.

Wanted—Angler To Catch First Sailfish Or Marlin

PORT ISABEL—Who will be the first to bring in a sailfish or marlin during the 1940 season? Commercial fishermen working near the snapper banks 18 to 20 miles off-shore report seeing many sailfish during the recent period of ideal fishing weather. Schools as large as eight to 10 have been sighted and many smaller groups were seen on several occasions—often coming within a few yards of their boats.

During the recent ideal weather conditions most local anglers devoted their time to catching barrels of king mackerel which like the wild pigeon in by gone days seemed inexhaustible. Many good catches of tarpon were made by up-state and out-of-state sportsmen. For several days tarpon fishing was at the peak of excellence.

The summer northern should blow out by the weekend and ideal fishing conditions should be present again. Fish appetites should have been well satisfied from the recent enormous catches of kings. Fishing Rodeo dates are only six weeks hence and a few good catches of sail or marlin at this time would stimulate interest among the class of sportsmen who participate in the annual rodeo.

Large schools of menhaden are reported to be off shore now and when the menhaden are in fishing is always tops.

Black Wonders Play Black Aces Sunday

SAN BENITO—The San Benito Black Wonders will play the Corpus Christi Black Aces at Kiwanis Park here Sunday afternoon with the umpire calling "Play Ball" at 3:30 o'clock.

The game will bring together two of the best Negro teams in South Texas and a fast contest is predicted.

Louis Has Hopes Of Celebrating Thursday Night

Godoy Will Face His Big Guns

NEW YORK—(P)—Joe Louis is throwing a party in Yankee Stadium Thursday night to celebrate the end of the third year in his record reign as king of the fight world.

He'll have no cake to carve. So the Bomber figures he'll carve Arturo Godoy instead.

He meets the crouching Chilean for 15 rounds or less in his 11th defense of the world's heavyweight championship—an all-time total which already has doubled the "high" for successful title defenses by any of the 15 previous heavyweight champions.

Joe tangled with Godoy last February and, although coming off with a 15-round split decision, he was subjected to considerable ridicule for the way Godoy's crouching, "squat-lag" boxing baffled him.

"He made me look bad," Louis has explained, and, hurt as always when his pride has been touched by an opponent's unorthodox tactics, the one-time Alabama cotton-pickin' has wheeled out his big guns.

Godoy probably is as confident a rival as Louis ever faced. The Chilean is convinced he took Joe's Sunday punches without getting his hair too mussed. So, now he is of the definite opinion Louis hasn't a chance to win.

The betting men, however, advised Arturo to take off those rose-colored glasses. They've installed the Brown Bomber a 1 to 5 choice.

Aggies Will Not Play At Tyler

TYLER—(P)—The Texas Aggies gathered plenty of roses of their own last football season and for the first time in four years will not play at Tyler's Rose Festival game, October 5.

Rose Festival officials announced Saturday, however, they have prospects of a bang-up festival game anyway. The Hardin - Simmons Cowboys of Abilene, they said, will play the Arizona State College Bulldogs of Tempe.

Originally, the game was scheduled for Phoenix but has now been switched to Tyler to round out the annual all-day festival honoring one of the city's principal products—roses.

Dixie Howell, former Alabama University star who led the Crimson Tide to a Rose Bowl victory, coaches the Bulldogs. Frank Kimbrough, brother of Texas A. and A. All-American John Kimbrough, is Cowboy pilot.

The Rose Festival encounter will be the third game of the 1940 season for both teams. Previous to the engagement, the Cowboys will meet Daniel Baker and Centenary. The Tempe Bulldogs will meet the University of New Mexico and West Texas State before coming to Tyler.

Several of the nation's prominent football teams have played at the Rose Festival. Scores by years since the annual game was inaugurated in 1935, include: 1935—Temple U. 14, Texas A. and M. 0. 1936—Centenary 10, Baylor 0. 1937—Texas A. and M. 14, Mississippi State 0. 1938—Texas A. and M. 20, Tulsa 0. 1939—Texas A. and M. 33, Villanova 7.

McAllen Schedules Ball Games July 4

McALLEN—Three softball games and a baseball game are in store for Valley fans here July 4. C. J. Thompson, chairman of the American Legion baseball committee, announced Saturday.

The semi-pro baseball teams of Weslaco and Mercedes clash at 2:30 ball diamond at 5 p. m. The McAllen Masterettes play the Southern Select girls of San Antonio. At 8 p. m. teams in the Hidalgo County League will start a double header. Whalen's meeting Sharyland in the first tilt, followed by McAllen against Engelman Gardens.

Odessa Goes After Baseball Franchise

ODESSA, Tex.—(P)—Odessa baseball fans busily waged a campaign Saturday to bring the Big Spring West Texas-New Mexico baseball franchise to Odessa.

Tony Rego, Big Spring manager and owner of the franchise, indicated that the sale of 1,500 tickets to an "opening day game" June 26 would guarantee the transfer, subject to the approval of other league managers.

Odessa was a charter league member in 1937 but withdrew because the city was without lights for night play. Since that time, it has obtained a night plant.

ACCEPT CHALLENGE

EL PASO—(P)—Replying to a challenge issued by Babe Hunt last week, Babe Ritchie, Texas heavyweight champion, asserted Saturday night he is anxious for return match with Hunt that he will meet him on a "winner take all basis."

Richie and Tony Herrera, his trainer, said that thus far they have been unable to get Hunt to come to terms for a return match.

Chasing Rabbits Helps Miler To Break Records

MARSTON FITZSIMMONS

By JACK HEWINS
AP Feature Service

POMEROY, Wash.—Young Marston Fitzsimmons runs like a hare—which isn't so strange considering that he trains for the mile event by galloping over the hills where the packrabbits run out on his father's farm.

He has to train there because Pomero y High School has a track team but no track.

Marston, a slender, 19-year-old with tremendous leg power and virtually untested stamina, has been burning up other people's tracks since mid-way of last season.

That's when the Pomero y coach decided the school should have a track team. He took a group of boys up to the town baseball diamond, measured out a rough track and put his athlete to work.

Marston wanted to be a sprinter. His flair for finishing last in the dashes caused the coach to decide his protegee should be a miler—he certainly couldn't do any worse in that event.

A few weeks later Marston pushed the winner of the state scholastic championship mile to a new state record of 4:27.

This year Pomero y's track team found even the baseball diamond denied them. So they did their practice running anywhere they could. Marston chose the hills on his Dad's farm and guessed at the distance he was running.

In his first 1940 tussle with a stopwatch he turned in a 4:24 mile—and up to late May he had broken a record in every meet this spring. His goal is the 4:21.3 inter-scholastic mark set by Lou Zamperini.

Two Cleveland Players State Opinion Of Vitt

DES MOINES, Ia.—(P)—The Register Saturday night quoted First Baseman Hal Trosky as saying in a telephone interview that:

"The Cleveland baseball team needs a new manager."

Trosky added, the Register said, that, "Oscar Vitt has more nerve than any man I know in trying to stay in power when he realizes that every man on the club feels a change should be made."

Trosky, one of 12 players who asked President Alva Bradley for a change in managers, returned to Norway, Ia., to attend funeral services for his mother.

CLEVELAND—(P)—Pitcher Bob Feller, breaking his silence on the "Fire-Vitt" campaign of a dozen Cleveland Indians, said Saturday he had "nothing personally" against Pilot Oscar Vitt, but—

"Sometimes it seems he'll drive us all nuts. Maybe it's just his nervous condition."

Vitt himself already had admitted "nervousness" in the dugout, adding: "What do the fellows want? A manager who doesn't care whether they win or lose?"

The consensus: that club officials probably could do one of three things:

1. Dismiss the peppery pilot. 2. Get rid of the most rebellious players (not regarded as likely, because the club would have to employ sleight-of-hand speed to beat the league trading deadline at midnight Saturday night.)

3. Conduct a peace campaign to save the wounds of both players and pilot, keeping the services of all involved.

Should Vitt be discharged, Coach Luke Sewell, longtime Cleveland catcher who is the preference of players, probably would be named at least acting manager.

Player Trade

BOSTON—(P)—The Boston Bees announced Saturday night that infielder Tony Cuccinello would be sent immediately to the New York Giants in exchange for infielder Al Glosop and right-hand pitcher Manuel Salvo, now at Jersey City.

The class of 1925 is composed of two great pitchers, Bob Grove of Boston and Charley Ruffing of the Yankees, and that well known 300 hitter, Buddy Myer of Washington. Jimmy Foxx might also be included in that illustrious company as he pinch hit ten times for the Athletics in '25. Willis Hudlin was bought by Cleveland from Waco in 1926. Bumby Hadley, now with the Yankees, pitched one game for Washington in '26 but should be considered as belonging to the class of '27 along with Jack Hayes and Ralph Kress.

The twenty-eighters are Manager Joe Cronin of Boston, Catcher Bill Dickey of the Yankees, Mel Harder of Cleveland and Clint Brown of the White Sox, although Brown did not start to take his regular turn in the box with Cleveland until 1930.

Earl Averill, Rick Ferrell and Eric McNair compose the class of 1929.

Luke Appling, Tommy Bridges and Ben Chapman became regulars in making their American League debut in 1930 while Frank Higgins, Joe Kuhell and Bruce Campbell participated in a few games that season. Campbell and Kuhell became regulars the following year while Higgins was farmed out until 1933.

Gerald Walker, Vernon Gomez, Myril Hoag, Lou Finney and Marvin Owen made their debut in 1931 but Finney had to go to the minors until '33 while Marvin Owen was in the International league in 1932. Johnny Allen, Oral Hildebrand and Frank Crossotelli became American leaguers in 1933. Monte Pearson pitched eight innings for Cleveland that season but did not work regularly until 1934.

Valley Men Will Aid Regatta At Corpus Christi

Top U. S. Outboard Races Entered

CORPUS CHRISTI—(Spl.)—Six Valleyites arrived here late Saturday to help officiate at the Bucaoner Days regatta Sunday afternoon, which had been postponed a week because of inclement weather.

A score of nationally known outboard drivers will be on hand to pilot their hydroplanes along the bayfront at the opening gun Sunday at 2 p. m.

The Brownsville race officials are members of the Rio Grande Yacht Club.

Here from Brownsville are R. W. Pitts, who is race chairman, and representative of the National Outboard Association: Everett Easterly, chief timer; Ed Hinkly, clockman; Fred Hanchett, chief scorer; George Leonard, assistant pit manager; and Kenneth Clark, chief inspector.

Gar Wood, Jr., Worth Bogerman, Frank Vincent and Orlin Johnson, nationally known in the outboard racing fraternity, arrived here Saturday afternoon after a fishing trip at Eighth Pass, Mexico.

Other outboard stars to be here include Paul Sawyer, Jr., of New York, and Buddy Reuter of San Antonio.

Reynosa Cards 'Top' Bullfight

REYNOSA—Fermín Rivera, winner of the 1940 "golden ear" in Mexico, will be the matador at the bull fight here July 4 at 5 p. m.

Rivera was acclaimed the "best bullfighter" at the Mexico City ring recently and was presented the golden ear, highest honor a bullfighter can receive.

Appearing with him in Reynosa will be Julian Rodarte, who has been acclaimed widely in Mexico and who in 1939 won the "silver ear," likewise an outstanding trophy.

Both the matadors have fought frequently in Mexico and Spain.

One Seeded Player Wins In Tourney

CHICAGO—(P)—Helen Bernhard of New York, only seeded player in the women's or men's divisions to see action, advanced easily Saturday to the second round of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament at the River Forest Club.

Miss Bernhard, seeded second, defeated Helen Bartavis, Chicago, 6-1, 6-0.

Easy Fishing

PORT ARTHUR—(P)—No hook! No line! No bait!

Yet Scoutmaster Clem Hall and four of his Troop 74 Boy Scouts insist they caught 28 trout "from 10 to 14 inches in length."

While at their summer camp on Village Creek, near Silsbee, the fishermen relate, the four boys fished their boat up a small stream, swinging backwards, it chanced to corner a sizable school of trout in shallow water. Desperately attempting to get back in deep water, the fish jumped over and into the boat and upon the bank.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW LABOR CAMP

Lockhart, Nelson Win Harlingen Work

HARLINGEN—A distinct, self-contained community will be established a mile and a half south of Harlingen on the Rangerville road as a result of contracts let Saturday by the Farm Security Administration for a migratory farm labor camp.

Low Bids Listed

The Associated Press reported that construction contracts for the camp had been to the M. R. Nelson Company of Harlingen. Bids recently were opened in the Dallas FSA office and the McAllen firm was low on the general construction contract with a bid of $114,730. Lockhart was low on a contract to build 224 wooden shelters with a bid of $57,792.

The McAllen firm did the major construction work on the FSA migrant community camp at Weslaco, first one to be opened officially in the Valley, according to Karl Buse of Dallas, district engineer.

The camp, to be built on 120 acres east of the Rangerville road about a quarter of a mile from the Arroyo Colorado bridge, will accommodate 224 families. It will be a self-contained community in that it will have its own sewage disposal system, recreation grounds, laundries and other facilities. A public health nurse will be located there and all applicants suffering from communicable diseases will first be isolated in a special group of cottages. Sanitary as well as comfortable accommodations for migratory farm laborers having bona fide employment is the aim of the program.

Third In Valley

The Harlingen camp will be the third to be located in the Valley and the fifth in Texas. A second camp has been completed at Raymondville but although several families have moved in, it has not been officially opened.

Bids have been taken for a camp at McAllen where a controversy over the site has delayed its erection. Bids also have been taken on camps to be located at Crystal City in Zavala county. Land has been bought for a camp at Princeton, Collin county, in North Texas, and bids for its construction will be received June 21.

Bathing Beauty Revue Is Scheduled As Big Event For McAllen's July 4th.

Many Entries Are Already Signed Up For Fete

McALLEN—One hundred letters have been sent to Valley organizations inviting them to sponsor entrants in the bathing beauty revue during the McAllen Fourth of July Celebration, Revue Chairman Scott Crow, announced Saturday.

These were sent to chambers of commerce, American Legion posts, civic clubs, commercial and industrial firms, and individuals.

Entries Pour In

"Already entries are coming in," Crow said, "and we expect many more the following week."

First, second and third prizes will be $25, $15 and $10. Contestants will be judged 60 per cent on beauty and form, 30 per cent on grace and personal charm, and 10 per cent for most attractive costume.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Paul T. Vick-ers said arrangements for the old fiddlers and callers contest were nearing completion. The contest will be held at 3 p.m. July 4.

"Mr. J. M. Hall, Weslaco, is the first entry this year," Mrs. Vick-ers said, "the contest last year had the greatest number of participants of any contest held in McAllen."

Most of last year's entrants are expected to enter this year.

New Event Planned

A new feature this year is the women's calling and dance contest. Fifty dollars will be divided as prizes among all entrants.

P. H. Graning, show chairman, said there will be a large revue, featuring girls from nearly every Valley city, at the athletic field the night of the fourth.

Radio Station KTSA, San Antonio, will devote a 15-minute program to McAllen and the Fourth of July celebration June 29, beginning at 1:45 p.m.

ZAPATA PLANS HIGHWAY FETE

Hidalgo Citizens To Attend Affair

EDINBURG—Zapata county is expecting a record turnout of visitors for its Frontier Hilation July 20, celebrating completion of paving on the state highway through the county linking Laredo and the Rio Grande Valley. Hidalgo County Judge Oliver C. Aldrich said Saturday.

The date has been changed from July 6 to July 20, he said he was informed.

"I understand the folks at Zapata are getting ready to barbecue enough beef to feed 20,000 people," the judge commented.

He added that he expected to attend and predicted that a large number of Valley residents will be there.

Tentative plans have already been made at McAllen to send a delegation to the hilation. (The latter word is a shortened term meaning "high-way celebration.")

County Judges M. J. Raymond of Webb, M. B. Bravo of Zapata and H. Garza Jr. of Starr are joint chairmen of the celebration.

Exhibits Wanted

McAllen July 4 Fete Requests Autos

McALLEN—General Manager George Chappas Saturday urged that truck, auto and tractor dealers make their entries for the industrial parade of the McAllen Fourth of July Celebration.

The parade will be held the morning of July 3. There will be no entry fee, he said.

"We want to make this a big, successful feature of the celebration," Chappas said. "Free space will be provided for truck, auto and tractor exhibits."

Deadline for the industrial parade entries will be July 1. The parade will be conducted down Main street at McAllen, beginning at 10 a.m.

Huge New Tax Bill For Defense Costs Is Ok'd By Senate

WASHINGTON—(U)—A $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill carrying a requirement that President Roosevelt cut 10 per cent from all non-essential appropriations was approved Saturday by the Senate finance committee.

The bill would create 2,190,000 new income tax payers by lowering existing exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals.

It also would increase corporation and so-called "nuisance" taxes (levies on gasoline, theatre tickets, automobile taxes, etc.) would raise all personal income levies by a flat 10 per cent, and would increase the federal debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

CAMP MEETING SET FOR JUNE RELIEF DRIVE BRINGS $200

Church Of Nazarene Voluntary Donations Made At McAllen

HARLINGEN—The third annual camp meeting sponsored by the Rio Grande Valley Holiness Association will be held at the Church of the Nazarene at Tenth and Tyler streets, Harlingen, from June 20 to 30. Rev. J. M. Hames, evangelist of Greer, S. C., will preach, and special music and children's meetings are being arranged.

Reverend Hames is a widely known evangelist of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, the author of a number of spiritual books and a contributor to a number of religious papers and magazines. His messages are of the type that explore the deeper truths of the Bible, and his coming to Harlingen offers an unusual opportunity to the people of the Valley to hear these fundamental truths so plainly presented.

The meeting is Valley-wide and inter-denominational in character, and while the general public is cordially invited, pastors of all churches are especially invited to participate in these meetings.

Camping and sanitary facilities have been provided for those who have their trailers or other provisions and wish to camp on the grounds.

Besides the children's services, there will be two regular meetings daily, 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Fat Girls—Here's a Tip

Willacy Furnishes Biggest Surprise With Sheriff's Race; Celayay Race Looms

HARLINGEN—Willacy county kept its place at the head of the Valley political parade Saturday, furnishing the biggest event of the final day for filing by producing two new candidates in the sheriff's race, G. W. McDougald, the Raymondville city marshal, and Lonnie Stone, former deputy sheriff.

The filing by the two new candidates, a double-barrelled surprise for practically all Valley political observers, turned the Willacy sheriff's race into a five-man affair which will gain a large portion of interest in what is conceded one of that county's hottest election years in its history. The three other candidates are Sheriff Joe Turner, Mack Chrestman and Luther Snow, present tax assessor-collector and former Willacy county sheriff.

LINDY FEARS U. S. DRIFTING TOWARD WAR

Condemns Meddling With Europeans

WASHINGTON — (P) — Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh asserted Saturday night that the defense of the United States should be constructed with the "cooperation of all American countries," but that "we must insist upon military bases being placed wherever they are needed for our own safety, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

He embraced this idea of western hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery (NBC) in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend toward involvement in the European war and cease these gestures with an empty grin."

LINDY

Is Widely Criticized

Saturday night's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month. On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"—a speech which brought criticism from various members of Congress and praise from some others.

Saturday night he reiterated this viewpoint in these words:

"This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. . . . We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. . . . We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, to Finland, and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we cannot send."

He contended that it was "useless to talk of sending American troops to Europe now, for we would need months of preparation before we could train and equip even a small army."

If Germany wins, he argued, Europe will be a "prison house for the world."

Turkey Stays Neutral On Russia's Orders

ANKARA, Turkey — (P) — The government informed all foreign envoys Saturday night that Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged and that for the present she will continue her non-belligerent status. The notice was given after Soviet Russia, informed sources said, had made known to Ankara that Moscow would prefer that Turkey not enter the war on the grounds that extension of the war to the Balkans was "undesirable."

Drive Extended

Red Cross Total In Harlingen $707

HARLINGEN — The Red Cross drive to raise a quota of $930 will be extended through Monday, officials announced when Saturday, the third day of the campaign, fell approximately $200 short of the goal. The Harlingen total raised to date is $707.

San Benito meanwhile, climbed to $251.07, jumping from Friday's $75. (San Benito's quota is also $930.)

Red Cross officials in Harlingen are confident the additional $200 needed will be raised Monday, and will continue to keep a booth in the First National Bank.

FDR PLEDGES 'REDOUBLED' ALLIED AID

But Tells France She Must Fight On

Answers French Final Plea For Help

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Roosevelt, replying to the "last appeal" of Premier Reynaud for further aid for France, pledged redoubled efforts Saturday to supply munitions, but told him that only Congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

No Nazi Recognition

And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempt to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France."

It was after making this pledge that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the question of military aid.

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only the Congress can make such commitments."

It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Answers "Last Appeal"

Reynaud directed to the President last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal."

In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high place ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the premier's communication was not being given to reporters because it was the same as his radio address which had been published.

Confers With Envoys

Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count De St. Germain.

Officers Interrupt Pro-Allied Meeting At Rio De Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO — (P) — A demonstration of the steps of the Municipal Theater, which authorities had permitted on the grounds it would be purely a pro-United States manifestation, was interrupted by police Saturday when it turned into a pro-Allied demonstration. Brazil has remained neutral in the war and as a neutral has prohibited public manifestations for one side or the other.

Alien Registration Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON — (P) — Legislation requiring registration and fingerprinting of all aliens was passed by the Senate Saturday.

The bill is designed to tighten federal laws aimed at subversive elements. It now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate amendments.

Russia Invades Lithuania And President Flees To Germany; Verdun Falls Saturday

REDS CLAIM LITHUANIANS ATTACK THEM

Troops Moved Close To Nazi Border

BERLIN — (Sunday) — (P) — Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

The presumption in informed quarters was that he would be given the privilege of asylum should he appear in German territory.

"The German view is that the developments in Lithuania are a Russian-Lithuanian matter in which the Reich has no direct interest," said an authorized spokesman.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW — (P) — Soviet Russia gained her ultimatum Saturday "free passage" into Lithuania—the little country bordering Germany on East Prussia—of an unlimited number of troops of the Red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

To Moscow alone, however, was left the decision as to how many men would be sufficient.

Russia thus was left with a free hand to put a wall of troops as

MOSCOW — Soviet Russia sends tanks and more troops into Lithuania as Baltic nation bows to ultimatum.

STOCKHOLM — Foreign sources speculate that Russia also may move into Estonia and Latvia in fear of Germany's expanding power.

ROME — Italians claim their troops have pushed into France; fight off French naval attack on Genoa.

COTTON CROP SAME AS 1939

Latest 'First Bale' On Record Due

HARLINGEN — The Valley's first bale of cotton this season may be the latest in recent history as a result of weather conditions which delayed planting and cotton men were of the opinion that it might be July 1 before the first bale is harvested. The movement was not expected to get generally under way until about the middle of July, many weeks later than usual, according to Frost Bohner of the South Texas Cotton Oil Company.

Drought conditions delayed plantings considerably but rains came at an opportune time and most of the crop was planted during a short period so that harvesting is expected to be fairly uniform.

Rains of the past week have materially increased prospect for the cotton crop, according to Douglas Carroll of the Harlingen Cotton Oil Company. He said the acreage was about the same as last season and that the production should be nearly the same. The Valley produced 93,000 bales last season. He estimated that there would be scattered bales until about the middle of July when harvesting might become general. Cotton, however, is subject to many hazards and these conditions might change overnight.

Nazis Discount Aid From U. S. To Allies

BERLIN — (P) — The opinion of informed quarters in Berlin Sunday was that President Roosevelt's promise of further aid for the French and British held out "little prospect of effective help to the Allies."

It was pointed out here that the continuance of "un-Soldat Inconnu" was conditioned by the president on continued resistance by the Allies against Germany.

Windstorm Destroys Houses At Edinburg

EDINBURG — A short but violent windstorm struck about a mile and a half north of Edinburg Saturday afternoon, blowing down a string of cottages at the Rainbow Tourist Court, and some seven or eight telephone poles.

McAllen experienced a light shower Saturday afternoon, while heavier fall was reported at Rio Grande City.

RELIEF BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON — (P) — A relief bill, loaded with provisions for national defense and a varied assortment of other matters, slid through the Senate Saturday on a voice vote after five days debate.

Paris Is Ghost Town As Nazi Take Over Saturday

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

PLACE DE L'OPERA, Paris (By Courier Plane to Berlin) — (P) — The Swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated Saturday from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in this German-captured capital of France.

It is recalled that last January 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the Fuehrer twitted the Premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:

"Oh, Monsieur Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."

I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.

Only Austrian Vanguard In Paris

Only the Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.

(The cable was written at 9 a.m. Saturday.)

That Hitler himself is due here soon is taken for granted.

(The Tribune De Geneve, of Geneva, Switzerland, carried a special Paris dispatch Saturday night saying that German troops were busy "preparing the Palace of Versailles for the arrival of Chancellor Hitler.")

Paris, Almost Empty, Seems Dead

We arrived Friday night in this city that seems dead. I just do not recognize Paris again. Seventy per cent of its population has fled.

From the Hotel Crillon, where once President Wilson of the United States addressed French crowds, the Swastika is flying.

Before the tomb of "Un Soldat Inconnu" were standing old women, young women, bearded old men and boys in their teens. Many of the older women were sobbing softly.

Never could one forget that deeply touching scene.

Germans Pay Honor To French Dead

As we approached the tomb in company of our guides from the army their looks hardened for a moment. They appeared to relax somewhat, however, when the German officers removed their caps, stood still, then saluted the symbol of the brave French soldiery buried there.

To countless American tourists who know Paris it is probably as incomprehensible as it was to me that the old Paris was a ghost city when I entered.

Under arrangements made by Prof. Karl Boerner, chief of the foreign press department of the ministry of propaganda in Berlin—incidentally, a man who has travelled up and down the United States and Mexico and knows America well—we foreign newsmen reached the French capital on the same day the first German troops did. Vanguard of the German army had reached the city on Friday at 7 a.m.

Former Austrian Leads Nazi Troops

At their head was a former member of the Austrian cabinet, General Glatze-Horstenau, who generally is credited with having made the Nazis' entry into Vienna possible.

Judgment Of Solomon

Baby Switched During Raid, Mothers Sue

THE HAGUE — (P) — Two tearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Solomon" Saturday. The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out a window to a pedestrian, who took it to an air raid shelter.

She accused the defendant of taking possession of it there.

The defendant contended that the baby, now seven weeks old, was her own.

Cabinet Meets, Makes Vital Decision

BASEL, Switzerland — (P) — French efforts to flood the Germans out of the foothold they had secured on the French side of the Rhine, 40 miles north of Basel, were reported Saturday night to have failed.

By The Associated Press

Conquering German armies stormed through the Maginot Line Saturday to pierce France's vitals from the east. Down the center they drove 135 miles southeast of Nazi-occupied Paris behind the Maginot forts.

The Germans claimed Verdun, shrine of French World War valor.

French Staggering

The French army, staggering under these and other terrible blows, struggled on in anguished resolve with what remained of its strength.

Militarily, events seemed to have reached some final turning point. The British, declaring that the Allies' "consultation and agreement" still holds, hinted that Sunday would tell the story of the fight for France.

Politically and diplomatically, the portents of the sweep of German arms were felt around the world, and led President Roosevelt to assure the Allies that the United States would redouble its effort with speed guns, planes, munitions—"with no implications of military commitment"—so long as Allied resistance continued.

President Roosevelt's message went to Premier Reynaud of France, who had beseeched the United States for aid, with "clouds of planes" before it is too late.

FD Answers France

With Germany in possession of vast reaches of the best parts of France, the President gave Reynaud assurance that the United States

BORDEAUX IS NEW CAPITAL

French Admit Losses But Still Fight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. The following story however has been received by wireless from Associated Press men in Bordeaux.)

BORDEAUX — (P) — Germany's armies threw a battering ram across the Rhine and into Alsace Saturday night in the face of the guns of the Maginot Line.

Deep behind the Maginot other Nazi columns—more than 100 miles due west of the crossing of the Rhine—plunged over the Sene and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of German-occupied Paris.

French Fight Back

The French fought back with the fury of men in anguish.

The government met "somewhere in France." President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, Admiral Jean Darlan, the navy chief, and General Joseph Vuillemin, the air chief, were there.

In their grave position they dealt with the results of Reynaud's "final" pleas for American help, for "clouds of airplanes."

The semi-official Havas agency said there would be no separate

School Values Are Given Raise

McAlLEN — The joint McAllen city school board of equalization had completed about one-third of their work Saturday when they finished their study of the renditions of the "original townsite."

Chairman William Reis said all renditions had been studied on the part of the city south of Highway Avenue between South Tenth and South Eighteenth Streets. They began North McAllen study Saturday afternoon.

Lot values on school renditions for 15 pieces of property, situated in the 200 block of "South Main Street" were raised, Reis said, to put them on an equal basis with the city valuation. This raise represented the only "material change" in the valuations, according to the chairman.

A total of 29 pieces of property have been adjusted for school tax purposes to conform with the city assessment.

A large number of variations in the school and city valuations have been uncovered by the board, acting for the first time in a joint capacity. Several changes have been made, particularly in personal property values by the board, Reis said.

To date 73 property holders are listed for a hearing on school valuations and 70 for the city. Most of these represent places where values were rendered lower than those set last year.

A hearing will be held June 20 for property owners outside of the city limits in the school district.

Reis estimated it would take the board about two weeks or more to complete initial hearings which began last Monday.

Indefensible, and that there is no military hope now for France.

The Germans now are not only attacking the Maginot line, they are within it and behind it. Both statements were made while all of Germany still was hailing the capture of Paris and the high command's announcement that "the Reich's war flag is waving over the Palace of Versailles where in 1871 the German destiny was established and in 1919 the German shame sealed."

Take 200,000 Prisoners
In that earlier communique, the high command asserted the Germans had taken more than 200,000 prisoners in ten days of blitzkrieg and an "inestimable" amount of war materials.

Germans tried to take Verdun, secure behind its related forts, in February, 1916. By September Germany's offensive had failed. The French numbered their dead and wounded then at 350,000, the Germans at 330,000.

The storming of Verdun was a tremendous rear attack of a flank-turning movement against the line of steel and concrete fortifications which for long have been a symbol of French security—the Maginot Line they thought was impregnable. The other attack—south of Saarbrücken—was a frontal assault near the middle of the German-French frontier.

The Berlin newspaper "Nachrichten" commented on the German victories, outlined three tasks facing the French high command:

First, they must attempt to gather their "beaten" and "scattered" forces below Paris. At the same time they must greatly strengthen the Maginot Line unless they intend to carry out a "retreating fight" there. And third they must try to meet Italian pressure which the paper said, was naturally growing stronger daily on the Alpine border.

The German press, as well as officialdom, stressed the news of the German capture of Paris but gave no hint of whether Hitler intends to go to the French capital.

While the Germans were establishing themselves in Paris, German tanks were dive-bombing the steel and concrete forts of the Maginot Line and artillery was throwing tons of high explosives shells into the French defenses.

"The pursuit between the lower Seine and the Meuse everywhere is in full force," the morning communique said. "Dissolution of the defeated French armies is progressing. At several points the enemy troops have surrendered without fighting."

The communique noted that the French, in the past few days, had "hastily put up new divisions from remnants of defeated divisions and reserves," but added that yesterday "south of the Aronne forest the enemy was thrown southeastward and forced off the line of retreat."

With application of heavy pressure on the Maginot Line, it became increasingly apparent, the Germans were trying to repeat the strategy which successfully led to the envelopment of thousands of Allied troops in northwest France.

In the attack on the Saar front, bunkers, artillery and infantry positions, as well as columns of French troops were bombed and shelled by tanks and heavy artillery.

The high command said that this attack, opening Friday, resulted in the capture of numerous defenses, including a strong bunkers group at Saar-Alben west.

Air attacks in the region of Verdun, Metz and Belfort, preceded the capture of the fortified town of Verdun. In the world war it was mainly artillery and infantry, Saturday the Germans used their air force against troop concentrations and movements, against rail lines and roads.

Verdun lies about 135 miles east of Belgium.

In fact, the correspondents arrived even ahead of the officer appointed commandant for the occupied capital.

That meant no regulations had yet been issued for the conduct of citizens, for the hour of their retirement in the evening, or for a division of powers between local authorities and the occupation forces.

So at street corners the French people stood about rather uncertain just where they fitted into the picture.

VALLEY SECS ELECT CHIEF

Don Wallace Fills President Post

PORT ISABEL—Don Wallace of San Benito was elected president of the Valley Chamber of Commerce Secretaries Association at a meeting here Saturday night. Wallace succeeded S. M. Patterson, Mission, resigned.

The secretaries passed a resolution asking Valley towns to designate their various celebrations for certain dates to avoid conflicts between concurrent events.

Paul Vickers, McAllen, and Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes, submitted the matter of a Valley-wide observance of Memorial Day as a holiday. No action was taken since there has been no thorough canvass of sentiment in the various towns. Vickers also announced the annual Fourth of July celebration at McAllen. It was decided to enter a Valley Secretaries' float in the McAllen parade and upon the suggestion of President Patterson of the association the float will be built around the theme "God Bless America."

Blasig called attention to the Halloween celebration on October 31 and the Rio Grande Valley Livestock Show at Mercedes March 20 to 22. Jack Hager, Weslaco, reported that his town will again stage its annual fiesta this fall.

Colonel W. E. Talbot, Brownsville, a member of the Tollen parade, discussed the proposed aviation sites and other national defense projects particularly as they pertain to the valley. The secretaries voted to meet at McAllen on the evening of July 4 in connection with the annual celebration in that city.

Attending the meeting were S. M. Patterson, Mission; Paul Vickers, McAllen; Jack Hager, Weslaco; Carl A. Blasig, Mercedes; Colonel Bill Talbot, Brownsville; Harry Cook, Raymondville; and Keith Stone, Port Isabel.

Retreat "In Order"
Falling back "in the best of order" the French fought pitched battles with German forces in Champagne, but the Nazis crossed the Seine at Romilly, 65 miles southeast of Paris, and drove on between the Rhine and into Alsace, but the French insisted the Maginot Line was not pierced "at the point of resistance."

Through nearly-disrupted and meager communications came word from the French that the Nazis had gone through the capital itself, a German guard thudded at the grave of France's unknown soldier of the World War, and the Swastika flag flapped in the wind atop Eiffel Tower.

Nazi forces at Chaumont, between the Marne and the Suize, were advance guard.

It was apparent the French were holding back the offensive on the channel ports. Violent fighting raged west of Louviers, 50 miles southeast of German-held Le Havre.

The German high command, telling of more triumphs, claimed capture of famous, fortified Verdun, a feat the Kaiser's army could not accomplish in four years of war, and said the Nazis had gone through the Maginot Line on "a broad front."

No Peace Hopes
There is no chance now of a cessation of hostilities, declared a Nazi spokesman, "France and England wanted this war. Now they have it."

The Reynaud government was in session for three and one-half hours, "somewhere in France," presumably at or near Bordeaux, where the ministers considered their republic's grave position.

They are to meet again today, apparently to consider President Roosevelt's reply to the "Russi" appeal for help.

"Russi" European enigma, sent strong new Red army forces pouring into Lithuania following Lithuanian capitulation to an ultimatum.

Russia declared that Lithuania, counter to the mutual assistance pact of last October, had ill-treated Russian soldiers stationed there. Hence the Soviet garrison in Lithuania was being augmented.

The Lithuanian government was being changed. The German radio said 200 Soviet tanks had passed the capital of Lithuania, Kaunas.

Russia Moves West
Europe wondered at the implications of the Russian move. In any case, it meant Russia's armed power had moved considerably farther west.

A foreign informant in Stockholm theorized that Russia's new "free passage" into Lithuania might be a prelude to similar moves in Estonia and Latvia from whom Russia also wrestled military concessions last fall.

That was an unofficial speculation in Stockholm that Russia, economic partner of Germany, might harbor some regrets over her friendship with the Nazis, now that Germany has expanded into Scandinavia and is in military ascendance in France.

The foreign informant said Russia planned to garrison an army of a half-million men on her three little Baltic neighbors.

Italy felt the weight of naval war and declared her troops had driven across the Alpine frontier to occupy French territory.

The Italians said the French lost a destroyer at Genoa, where a single Italian torpedo boat and coastal batteries slaved an attack of nine French warships.

Italy On Move
Italy's military experts explained an Italian advance over the French frontier as a part of the plan for final conquest of France by Germany and Italy.

would not recognize conquest through military aggression, and would not consider valid the forceful infringement of French independence.

The first European reaction to the President's message came in London where British authorities bespoke the "sincere gratitude" of the British people.

Roosevelt's assurance that his promise had no military implications was described as being "fully understood and appreciated" in Britain.

The French front was the focal point of war's great and spreading kaleidoscope, stretching now from the Baltic—where Russia suddenly rushed a new army into Lithuania to the Gulf of Aden, where British clashed with Italians.

French Line Bends
France's fighting front was a wavering line, bending ever inward under the assaults of the Nazi storm of steel, explosives and men.

Through nearly-disrupted and meager communications came word from the French that the Nazis had gone through the capital itself, a German guard thudded at the grave of France's unknown soldier of the World War, and the Swastika flag flapped in the wind atop Eiffel Tower.

LINDY FEARS TREND TO WAR

rope would be dominated by "the strongest military nation the world has ever known" and if we entered the war we "must be prepared to attack that nation."

He charged that an "organized minority in this country is flooding our Congress and our press with propaganda for war," spending large sums, "pushing us closer and closer to the edge."

This nation, he said, "stands today where the road divides, at the signpost of war and peace."

Should it choose war, he added, it would mortgage "the lives of our children and grandchildren," and "every family in the land would have its wounded and its dead."

Now that we have become one of the world's greatest nations, shall we throw away the independence American destiny which our forefathers gave their lives to win?"

He asked, "Shall we submerge our future in the endless wars of the old world? Or shall we build our own defenses and leave European war to European countries?"

BROWNSVILLE FAVORS STAND TAKEN BY LINDY
BROWNSVILLE — Reaction to Col. Lindbergh's speech was 100 percent favorable, according to H. P. Langworthy who made a canvass immediately following the radio address.

"I questioned almost one hundred persons," he said, "and they were wholeheartedly with Lindbergh. I think we should notify Milton West by telegram and by letter that we want to stay out of war, and that we should do it NOW. I would suggest that someone in each Valley town make a canvass similar to mine, and have a prepared telegram or letter, asking everyone to sign it. Then they should mail or wire it to Representative West, showing him his section does not favor going to war."

and boys "who can throw a ball" with "hand grenades, bombs, pistols—anything."

Italian and British troops fought on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier. The British claimed capture of the Italian forts of Capuzzo and Maddalena. Royal air force attacks on Libyan and Italian East African positions continued.

Switzerland posted flaring, black-lettered warnings against parachute invasion. An increase in Switzerland's defense preparations indicated that the Swiss intelligence service had turned up disquieting information.

Europe wondered at the implications of the Russian move. In any case, it meant Russia's armed power had moved considerably farther west.

A foreign informant in Stockholm theorized that Russia's new "free passage" into Lithuania might be a prelude to similar moves in Estonia and Latvia from whom Russia also wrestled military concessions last fall.

That was an unofficial speculation in Stockholm that Russia, economic partner of Germany, might harbor some regrets over her friendship with the Nazis, now that Germany has expanded into Scandinavia and is in military ascendance in France.

The foreign informant said Russia planned to garrison an army of a half-million men on her three little Baltic neighbors.

Italy felt the weight of naval war and declared her troops had driven across the Alpine frontier to occupy French territory.

The Italians said the French lost a destroyer at Genoa, where a single Italian torpedo boat and coastal batteries slaved an attack of nine French warships.

Italy On Move
Italy's military experts explained an Italian advance over the French frontier as a part of the plan for final conquest of France by Germany and Italy.

Britain's fear of Nazi invasion led to the calling of a meeting of a Parliament group to consider arming everybody, even women

Workers Need Not Hire Representatives

BROWNSVILLE — Workers who wish to check the accuracy of their social security accounts for old-age and survivors insurance, or those past 65 who wish to file a claim for insurance payments, do not need to pay anyone to assist them. F. E. Wilson, Manager of the Social Security Field Office in Brownsville, pointed out Saturday. He said that procedures established by the Social Security Board furnish employees with every assistance in checking their accounts and in filing claims for insurance payments.

Recent inquiries received by the field office, Mr. Wilson said, indicate a belief on the part of some workers that they need to pay for the services of an outside person in order to be sure that their rights are protected. He explained that the Social Security Board has the duty of keeping accurate wage records and paying insurance benefits to all eligible persons and that it has established procedures to carry out these responsibilities fully. He added, however, that the Board's procedures do not prohibit the worker from being represented by an outside person if he so wishes.

Forms Available
In explanation of procedures established by the Board, Mr. Wilson stated that any worker who wishes to check the wages credited to him can get a self-addressed form for this purpose at the field office. If he fills this in and mails it, he will promptly receive a report from the Board's central wage-record office at Baltimore, which will show the wages reported by his employer and credited to his account. If he believes there is any error in the amount of wages credited to him, the field office will make every effort to clear up the matter. Mr. Wilson further explained that if the employee still questions the accuracy of the Board's record of his wages he has the privilege of having a hearing before the local regional referee, who is appointed by the Social Security Board but is independent of its Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Service Is Free
Some people, according to Mr. Wilson, have also indicated that they thought they should pay someone to represent them in filing claims for insurance payments. Mr. Wilson explained that the field office is prepared to give all claimants—workers past 65 and the families of workers who have died—all possible assistance in filing their claims for this insurance. This service is free.
He further stated that the board has established procedures by which anyone who questions the decision of the Bureau concerning his rights to insurance payments can ask for a hearing on his claim before a regional referee. If he is still dissatisfied after this review, he can appeal his case to the Appeals Council in Washington. Thereafter, he, of course, would still have recourse to the Federal District Court for his district.

Weather Bureau Maps Plan For New Storm Season

No Disturbances Are Likely Until After July

By A. D. HAWKINS

BROWNSVILLE—Rolling up its shirt sleeves, the Brownsville weather bureau staff Sunday girded itself for the most fickle of nature's destructive forces—the hurricane.

Hurricane season officially opened Sunday at 12:01 a. m., and will last until October 31, as far as the Brownsville weather bureau is concerned.

There is no need for alarm, however.

Coast Is Clear

The immediate Gulf of Mexico coast is "comparatively free" of the hurricane, according to a half century of records, but the Brownsville weathermen are to maintain a vigilance "just in case."

And, furthermore, the tropical disturbances in the Gulf of Mexico are not expected to get under way with much force until about mid-July.

The word "hurricane," signifying "big wind," is of Caribbean origin. It has come into general use as the name for tropical cyclones.

Just a Typhoon

In fact, it is identical with the typhoon of the China Sea, the bangui of the Philippines and the cyclone of the Bay of Bengal.

First line of defense is the teletype machine installed this past week at the Brownsville weather bureau.

This machine is linked with weather bureaus in Corpus Christi, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and Key West. There are "drops," or connections to the machines, at the Brownsville airport, Lake Charles and Tallahassee, Fla.

24-Hour Service

Over this network there is 24-hour service with all stations receiving reports simultaneously.

Brownsville, at the southwest tip of the network, will get a mass of information: four regular observations daily from regular U. S. stations; two to four observations from vessels in the Gulf, Caribbean and South Atlantic; reports from the Mexican meteorological service and Pan American Airways' meteorological bureau; government and PAA reports from the West Indies and observations from even the northern shores of South America.

When there is indication of the development of a disturbance, more frequent reports will be sent. When the disturbance shows signs of movement, advisories will be issued giving the storm's location, strength and direction.

Reports Are Charted

The reports are charted, and interpolated at the local weather office.

The men behind the scenes at the Brownsville weather bureau's city office are Meteorologist W. J. Schnurbusch, official in charge, and his assistants, Myron H. Carpenter and W. W. Smith.

What causes a hurricane?

Weathermen say that it is the result of an accumulation of heat in the doldrums. The air becomes super-heated, and an unbalanced condition occurs. There is a rush of light air upward, and circular air currents are developed.

Because the hurricane is erratic, the weather bureau takes no chances. The last great storms here were in August and September of 1933 when the Valley was hit twice.

Yucatan Is Bumper

The Yucatan peninsula, with its long arm protruding into the Gulf of Mexico, acts as sort of a bumper for the Valley area. That's why the coast near here is comparatively free of the menace.

The year 1933 was a big year for the hurricane, anyhow. There were 21 hurricanes that year in the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, the largest number recorded.

The general average is between six and seven of the hurricanes a year. In several years there were only two. Only about 50 per cent of these storms reach hurricane intensity, and only about one-fourth approach close enough to U. S. coasts to cause winds of hurricane force.

One of the first signs of the hurricane is the sea swell. The tide rises as the storm approaches. Cirrus, or high feathery clouds, appear and seem to converge often at a point on the horizon. There is a brilliant red sky at sunset or sunrise.

Rain Accompanies Storm

Rainfall generally deluges the hurricane-stricken area. The greatest amount on record is 23.11 inches which fell at Taylor, Texas, in September, 1921, within 24 hours.

The period from July 15 to September 15 appears to be most "satisfactory" for the hurricane in the western Gulf of Mexico area. This area is quite safe during the first month, or six weeks, after June 16 when the season opens.

If, and when, there should be another one headed this way, however, the weather bureau can generally tell within 24 to 36 hours where it will strike.

They Don't Change

There is talk that in the "old days," the hurricane was stronger. Weathermen as a rule doubt this. The hurricane is just about the same. The difference was that in the old days buildings were not quite so stable, and couldn't withstand the storms.

There Was More Destruction

And the difference between a hurricane and the Valley's winter northerners is, first, that northerners generally don't blow over the 40 mile per hour mark, and second, the wind of the norther is of short duration.

27,000 CARS ARE SHIPPED

Figures On Citrus Movement Listed

McALLEN—A total of 27,238 carloads of citrus fruit were shipped from the Valley during the 1939-40 season, exclusive of canned grapefruit. P. A. Hoidale of Harlingen, in charge of the federal fruit fly control project, announced in a communication received Saturday by the McAllen Chamber of Commerce.

Most of the shipments went by rail, a total of 14,082.4 cars being reported. Truck shipments were 11,973.2, boat 582.5 and express shipments were estimated at 600.

Grapefruit shipments by truck were 7,239, by rail 12,758.5, by boat 579.5, express 300, total 20,877. Orange shipments by truck were 4,734.2, by rail 1,323.9, by boat 3, by express 300, total 6,361.1.

The figures are based on 360-80 pound boxes, 576 bushels baskets and 28,800 pounds in bags as an equivalent carload.

Hoidale said his department was unable to secure the information of citrus canning production.

VALLEY TOM DEAL WANES

Canneries To Begin Operations Soon

HARLINGEN—The fresh tomato deal was waning in the Valley, although about 300 cars were moved out this week, and canneries were expected to be in general operation beginning Monday.

Railroads reported total shipments of around 300 cars from the Valley this week with Saturday's total around 39 cars, indicating that the fresh tomato deal was on the wane with Yoakum, East Texas, Mississippi, Florida and a number of other states shipping.

A few canneries began operating this week but operations did not get under way generally as plant owners waited for supplies of dead ripe tomatoes. The recent rains also delayed start of the canning deal.

The Harlingen canning company reported it planned to start canning Monday and a similar report came from the Schmidt Canning Company at San Benito and plants in Hidalgo county.

PLAN TO FORM DRILL SQUADS IS DISCUSSED

Edinburg Volunteer Corps Proposed

EDINBURG — Edinburg people are being asked to express their views on the proposal to organize volunteer drill squads of young men who would be prepared in fundamental military training in the event the nation orders compulsory army service, a group of war veterans revealed here Saturday.

Favorable reception to the plan has come from a number of sources, they said. Those in charge of the informal survey are members of the Edinburg American Legion post, of which Harry Wilcox, Hidalgo county surveyor, is commander.

The plans would be volunteer and the youths would be trained only in the manual of arms and in basic drill formations. By such a method, the drill squad members would be ready to join the nation's military forces without being classified as raw recruits, in the event a call was issued for their services.

War veterans in other Valley cities were also reported here to be interested in such work.

Under the tentative proposal here, one or more drillmasters, probably ex-service men, would be chosen to direct the volunteers and regular drill periods would be conducted daily or weekly at public parks or play-grounds.

MERCY DRIVE TO BE PUSHED

Quota Set At $3,520 Only $865 Raised

BROWNSVILLE — Making a final effort to open purse strings here, the Brownsville chapter of the American Red Cross will unleash an intensive drive Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to secure funds for European refugee work.

Of the chapter's quota of $3,520 only $865 has been raised to date after a month's effort to secure voluntary contributions.

D. B. Briggs, local Red Cross roll call chairman, declared Brownsville would initiate a "blitzkrieg" drive to get the much needed money.

"They haven't been coming through with voluntary contributions so we're going to solicit them personally," he said.

Briggs appealed to Brownsville women to join the menfolk in the drive, and asked for volunteers to assist.

The volunteers are to meet Tuesday at 5 p. m. at the office of C. C. Stewart, assistant postmaster, who is Red Cross chairman here.

Boxes to receive voluntary contributions are still located at the post office, Flagg's Wiggy store, First National Bank, Buckingham Service Station, White Kitchen and Den-Russ Pharmacy.

Of the contributions received to date, most have been of large donations. There have been four $100 contributions.

A Red Cross mercy ship was understood Saturday to be enroute to France with medical supplies, food and clothing.

Youths Jailed

Three Charged With Theft Of Auto

BROWNSVILLE — Three Galveston youths were in Cameron county jail Saturday after car theft charges had been filed in connection with the theft Wednesday night of a car owned by Sam Withnott of Brownsville.

The youths were Charles Paul Egly, 27, Ross Hernandez, 18, and Jesus Almodarez, 17, all of Galveston, according to Brownsville police.

The charge filed Thursday in Egly's court named Charles Egly, Rosendo Hernandez and Jesus Almodarez, all of Galveston.

The Withnott automobile was stolen from Elizabeth street in Brownsville early Wednesday night, and recovered by Laredo officers Thursday morning. Friday, Deputy Sheriff D. D. Norton and W. R. Smith went to Laredo to return the three youths, jailed there, to Brownsville.

Mexican Police Lay Blame For Fighting On Socialist Youth

MEXICO CITY — (P) — Police blamed members of a Socialist youth organization Saturday for a series of street clashes in which 56 persons, most of them law students, were injured Friday by bullets and stones.

The disorders started, authorities said, when members of the United Socialist Youth, which is affiliated with PRM, the administration party, began hurling stones at students of the National University of Mexico.

Allies Still Have Seven Billions Cash To Spend

'Quick Assets' Could Purchase War Supplies In America Officials Have Estimated

WASHINGTON — (P) — United States officials estimated Saturday that the British and French empires still have roughly $7,000,000,000 of "quick assets" with which they could purchase supplies immediately in the United States.

These assets include gold, cash deposits and American securities.

The officials, however, indicated that lack of materials to be bought quickly was much more of a problem to the Allies than the availability of cash for payment. They pointed out that in spite of pressing needs for airplanes ever since the war began, the Allies have had to sign some contracts for planes not expected to be ready for delivery until September, 1941.

War department officials said exhaustive surveys were being made to determine what additional surplus equipment was available for sale to the Allies.

They would give no indication

as to what such supplies might be, but emphasized that the department could not sell any equipment in the hands of troops or the national guard.

"We are not de-armoring the army," a spokesman said.

The department has already released for sale to the Allies 173 airplanes and more than $37,000,000 worth of varied equipment declared to be surplus. This material is understood to have included more than 500 75-millimeter field guns and 600,000 Lee-Enfield rifles of the World War period. In addition, the navy and marine corps have released 90 planes.

War department officials said exhaustive surveys were being made to determine what additional surplus equipment was available for sale to the Allies.

Upper Valley Leaders Agree On Aerial Plan

McAllen, Mission, Edinburg For Proposed Major Border Military Airport

McALLEN — Civic officials of Mission, Edinburg and McAllen were in perfect agreement Saturday on a plan to seek a major airport suitable for military purposes to be located equidistant from the three cities.

City and chamber of commerce officials of the three cities met here Friday afternoon to act upon the proposal at the suggestion of the Texas Aeronautics Advisory Committee. They pledged their hearty cooperation in seeking an airport to serve the three cities and forwarded to J. J. Hurlburt, committee chairman at Fort Worth, the pledge of agreement.

J. D. Courtney, Edinburg chamber manager, and Paul T. Vickers, McAllen chamber manager, both of whom attended the state meeting of the advisory committee at San Antonio, reported to the group that the proposed tri-city field would not interfere with local fields, and must be from six to seven miles from any one city.

Citizens of the three cities were asked to make their approval or disapproval of the proposed field known to their mayors.

No further action is expected from the three cities until advised by the Texas committee, which makes its recommendations to the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Instigators of the project hope the cost of the field will be borne by the federal government as a defense measure.

Friday's meeting was exclusively for the three cities to enter an harmonious agreement.

Edithson L. Chapman, Mayor Horace Etchison of McAllen was elected chairman of the session on the motion of D. F. Strickland of Mission and Mayor A. A. Aldrich of Edinburg was named secretary on motion of City Commissioner Norman Buescher of McAllen. Mayor Logan Duncan of Mission headed that city's delegation.

Those attending the meeting and signing the accord were: Etchison, Aldrich, Duncan, A. M. Tarbuttor, chairman of chamber of commerce air division, Edinburg; P. H. Longoria, Mission; Strickland, Bob Miller, president McAllen Junior Chamber of Commerce; Harry S. Merts, chamber of commerce airport committee, McAllen; Courtney, Buescher, Si Casady, chamber of commerce airport committee, McAllen; S. M. Patterson, manager Mission chamber of commerce, Grade Callaway, airport committee, Edinburg, and Vickers.

Florida Citrus Men Look Us Over

Three representatives of the Florida citrus industry looked over the Valley grapefruit and orange area three days this week before continuing to Arizona and California where they will make similar studies. They are pictured here with Texas state department of agriculture men. Left to right are C. E. McCormick, in charge of Texas shipper's bonding and licensing; Tom B. Swann of Winter Haven, vice president of the Florida Citrus Commission; Charles F. Chastain of Lakeland, secretary of the commission; and Edward G. Todd of Avon Park, chairman of the commission's better fruit committee; and L. E. Pratt, chief of Texas' citrus maturity division. (Staff Photo.)

Floridians Urge Area Publicity

HARLINGEN—Valley growers of citrus fruits are getting the benefit of Florida's advertising campaign and this area should engage in a similar publicity program to promote the use of grapefruit and oranges over the nation, a delegation of Florida men said here Friday.

In the group were Tom B. Swann, of Winter Haven, vice chairman of the Florida Citrus Commission; Edward G. Todd of Avon Park, chairman of the commission's better fruit committee; and Charles F. Chastain of Lakeland, secretary to the commission.

The Florida men arrived by plane in Brownsville Tuesday afternoon and made their headquarters at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen until their departure from Brownsville by plane Friday evening for Arizona and California.

"Florida and Texas should be as close together as the three citrus producing areas within the state of Florida," said Swann. "In fact, the ridge section of Florida may be closer to Texas than to the Florida East Coast producing area because it probably thinks more along the line of the Texas industry than any other," he said.

The Floridians conferred here with L. E. Pratt, chief of the citrus maturity division of the state department of agriculture; and C. E. McCormick, director of the shipper's bonding and licensing division. They were being taken to Brownsville by Herbert R. H. Rock of McAllen, soil analyst who formerly lived in Florida.

Small Craft Exempt From One Radio Law

BROWNSVILLE—Passenger craft of 15 gross tons and under, exempted until May 17, 1941, of complying with the federal communications act, U. S. customs announced here Saturday.

The exemption is for those small craft navigating not more than 20 nautical miles from shore, or more than 200 miles between ports.

It was understood to apply especially to fishing and sports craft. The act had specified that all passenger vessels operating on the open sea be equipped with radio transmission, and a licensed radio operator.

HARLINGEN—Dad, Pops, The Old Man, who valiantly drags home the bacon for the wife and kids some 50 weeks out of the year, will have his day Sunday—if he can find time.

Of course, he may have to get up and take the lots to Sunday school, and stay for church, and run down to the store "for a few minutes" after dinner, and maybe take the family to the beach after his nap, but the day is supposed to be his to do with as he pleases. It may be that he actually likes the ties, bedecked in white paper and red ribbons, which the girls carefully tie up and with which they proudly garnish his breakfast plate. It may be that the cigars are his favorite brand. It may be that he gets to take off his shoes and wiggle his sock-

McAllen Population Rise Lags Behind Other Marks

Births Increase Over Deaths; Electrical Connections, Postal Revenue Jumps

McALLEN—Within the last 10 years, everything has grown by leaps and bounds in McAllen except its population.

Time-honored methods of estimating the population of a city were thrown into the discard Saturday after the last enumerator prepared to call the 1940 census count completed.

McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials said the preliminary count of 11,824 would be increased—but not substantially—by the final check which closed at 5 p. m. Friday.

While the count represented an increase of 2,850 over the 1930 population of 8,974, it arbitrarily disproves the old methods of estimating the census by the scholastic population.

McAllen should have a population of 15,375—if the old rule of multiplying the school count by five held true. There are approximately 3,075 scholars in the McAllen metropolitan area.

CAA OFFICIAL VIEWS SITES

Three Upper Valley Cities Cooperate

McALLEN—Captain H. A. Smith, regional airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Saturday inspected available lands for a proposed airport in the vicinity of McAllen.

City and chamber of commerce airport committees met Saturday morning with Smith and received information regarding government airports, especially those similar to the proposed field to service Mission, Edinburg and McAllen.

John Boeye, chairman of the city airport committee, and others accompanied Smith on his tour of the suggested sites.

The CAA engineer had already submitted a plan at the chamber's request and came here on the director's invitation to give further advice.

Present were the city committee, N. E. Buescher, Robert Miller and Boeye and the chamber committee composed of Chairman H. H. Hensley, Harry Merts, S. L. Miller, Si Casady and Philip Boeye.

GUESTS OF PARENTS
SANTA ROSA — Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Miller of College Station, Texas are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Daniels of Santa Rosa. Mr. Miller is a student at Texas A. and M. College.

Since 1930, McAllen births have increased about 1,700 over its deaths for the same period, Registrar of Vital Statistics C. D. Martin said. There were 3,456 babies born here and 1,666 persons buried. Martin discounted those from other cities born here to arrive at his total.

Postal receipts have shown an increase of not quite 50 per cent, indicative of the city's growth, rising from $36,939 for 1930 to $54,193.57 for 1939.

Electrical connections by the Central Power and Light Company have illustrated a like increase within the past five years, jumping from approximately 969 in 1935 to 1,528 in 1940. The same holds true with connections made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, listing 1,133 in the McAllen area in 1931 with 1,940 for April 30, 1940.

McAllen's census count, however, still will not put the city into the 12,000 class, chamber officials disclosed.

'Flag Day' Program Stresses Patriotism

McALLEN—Criticizing severely the enemies of the United States flag, State Representative Homer Leonard pleaded Friday night for greater American loyalty when he addressed the throng filling Archer Park for the "Flag Day" program.

Republican Women To Gather Monday

SAN BENITO — The Republican Women's club of Cameron county will hold a luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel here.

Brownsville women can contact Mrs. R. Mathers for reservations, which should be placed before 10 a. m. Monday.

Leonard briefly gave a history of the flag, turned the tenor of his speech and flayed those who would destroy it. "Forces across the sea would end all of our democratic institutions, if they could," he said. "And it is the American duty and the American way to prevent its happening."

Frequently a cheering crowd interrupted Leonard as he voiced the stirring appeals for American loyalty to its nation.

The program, sponsored by the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, was calculated to stimulate patriotism and to permit residents to re-

Allied, United States Industries Can Build Beyond Hitler's Capacity, Is Belief

LONDON—(AP)—Official Britain coupled a prediction of an immediate German "peace offensive" with a declaration that Allied and United States industries would build up "a weight of armaments with which Hitler will be quite unable to compete."

Britain's determination to fight on despite the reverses in France was voiced by Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary secretary of the ministry of information, who declared:

PORT SLATES OIL SHIPMENT

Tanker Will Arrive To Cargo Thursday

BROWNSVILLE—Shipment of the first cargo of crude oil from the Port of Brownsville, originally scheduled for Sunday, will not be made until Thursday.

The SS Spencer Kellogg of the New York and Philippine Steamship Line, which is to load the oil, was reported Saturday to be in drydock at New Orleans.

The tanker is to load between 32,000 and 37,000 barrels of oil from the Davis and Company tank farm here, oil pumped from the Rincon field of Starr county.

Meanwhile, two additional 80,000 barrel tankers are under construction at the Davis tank farm. The company already has completed one 80,000 barrel tanker, and three of 55,000 barrel capacity.

The oil is being pumped from the Rincon field to Brownsville at the rate of about 8,000 barrels per day.

The SS Medina of the Clyde Mail Line is due Sunday at the Port of Brownsville to load general cargo for Boston, New York and Charleston. The freighter will sail late Monday. The Philen Shipping Company of Brownsville, is agent.

Youth Confesses

Statement Made In Hidalgo Slaying

Sanchez remains in the county jail here, and has not sought his release under bond.

Sanchez's statement, said Ross, revealed that the youth had quarreled over each other's attentions to the same girl and that ill-feeling had existed for several months. Escobedo died of bullet wounds in the back of the head and in the kidney.

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—(AP)—Rolling to seaward, proportions, a once comparatively minor CIO-AFL labor dispute resulted today in the tie-up of 13 American ships and trouble for foreign vessels Friday in Los Angeles harbor.

DEFENSE RUSH DELAYS BILL

Status Of West Plan Is Unchanged

EDINBURG—There is nothing private citizens or water leaders of the Rio Grande Valley can do at this time to hasten consideration of Congressman Milton West's proposed for a $54,000,000 federal irrigation and flood control project on the lower Rio Grande.

Such was the admonition voiced here Saturday by Oliver C. Aldrich, president of the Water Conservation association of the Valley.

Aldrich said he and A. L. Cramer of El Paso, both of whom spent two weeks at Washington recently enlisting support for the West measure, had been advised by the Valley congressman this week that the status of the bill is virtually the same as when they left the capital more than a week ago. Drafts of the measure have been placed before several government departments and bureaus for their approval before it is called up for a vote.

The association president also pointed out that the defense "rush" which had gripped Washington by the time he and Cramer arrived there recently is continuing at an even more breathless pace, and that until there is "some letup" in such activity, the Valley measure will have to await its turn. Aldrich described the haste with which activity is under way by explaining the difficulty the legislative emissaries had in reaching either Congressman West or Senator Morris Sheppard, senior Texan in the upper house.

"Mr. West remained on the house floor throughout each day," said Aldrich, "and the only way we could see him while congress was in session was to call him out. Even then, he left a page boy there so he could be informed the minute a vote on any matter was to be taken."

Aldrich said Senator Sheppard, as chairman of the important senate military affairs committee, is one of the busiest men in the capitol.

"We managed to get past several delegations into his office and then could only be allowed a few moments, because he is working on so many different military projects and at the same time taking part in every vote the senate considers."

In spite of such activity, Aldrich added, both West and Sheppard are spending extra hours in giving attention to the Valley measure. Another who is deeply interested in the bill is Summer Welles, assistant secretary of state, to whom the state department has assigned the task of heading negotiations for a Rio Grande water treaty between the United States and Mexico.

Why The Odor?

Pipe Breaks, Explains Mayor Ramsey

HARLINGEN—Complaints by citizens on the odor from the Southwest Packing Company abattoir southeast of the city, particularly noticeable Friday night, Saturday moved Mayor Hugh Ramsey to explain that an accident at the plant was responsible.

"A pipe leading from the cooler burst," Mayor Ramsey said. "The accident would not happen again in a long time. There was nothing to do but let the steam escape, and with little breeze, the odor settled over the town. The plant has been repaired."

Recently, officials at the abattoir have taken pains to virtually eliminate odor from the slaughtering of animals, and have been "very co-operative" with the city commission, Mayor Ramsey said. He urged that residents refrain from complaints as much as possible under such circumstances as the Friday night accident.

Commission Orders Oil Field Surveys Finished In Month

AUSTIN—(AP)—An estimate that it would take up to five months to complete a detailed survey of Texas' vast oil resources for national defense purposes Saturday brought an order from the railroad commission to "get the job done in one month."

Chairman Lon A. Smith and Ernest O. Thompson of the commission ordered John Taylor, oil and gas division director, to expand the proposed engineering staff "four or five times" if necessary to conduct the extensive survey promptly.

OIL LEASING DEAL STALLS

McAllen Owners Fail To Join Move Jaunt To Alaska

McALLEN—Although 27 of the 34 McAllen business and professional men having land in the McAllen-Pharr gas-distillate blocks have put their leases into the program, seven property owners, who are still holding their acreage out, may cause the whole program to fail, records of C. H. Swallow, in charge of the leasing program, showed Saturday.

The 27 McAllen landowners who have signed leases either feel that this is their last chance perhaps for many years to get development, or else they believe the community development, such as the approximate one million dollars to be spent in drilling and building recycling plants, and the probability of getting industrial plants to locate here to consume the gas, is of such great importance that they have signed the leases, Swallow said.

Most of these 27 are urging fellow citizens to sign at once. It was explained that the signing of leases by those who have not yet signed was of far more significance than the mere securing of the acreage.

Here We Go Again

It won't be long now until Joe Louis steps into the ring to defend his heavyweight boxing title against Arturo Godoy (Thursday night to be exact) for the second time.

When the two heavies met before, Louis got the decision and Godoy received a lot of glory and quite a wad of cash for staying with the Brown Bomber.

It was this "staying business" that possibly gave Godoy another shot at Louis' title. And along with this chance came quite a few boxing fans who climbed right on Godoy's bandwagon.

One thing is certain, the ballyhoo boys got busy. Many magazines have carried stories recently telling about how Godoy is going to take the crown from Louis. And even Jack Dempsey is helping to aid the crowd Thursday night by doing a bit of sparring with Arturo and telling how tough he is.

Of course Jack is helping himself at the same time for he is scheduled to meet Cowboy Luttrell, a welterweight, in a "krudge" match in Atlanta.

It may be that this is the time set aside for Joe Louis to step out of the fight picture. We do not think so but if it could, just get Jacob to give us the low-down we could pass the information right on to you. You can be sure that Mike (he is the big boss of the fight game as you know) knows who will win Thursday night.

We are stringing right with Louis Thursday night. Despite the fact that Godoy did stay with the champ, fails to excite us very much. Certainly Godoy did not fighting. It is true he was able, with his odd style, to keep away from Louis' haymaker, but it proved very little in our opinion. And we were pretty disgusted with Louis when the fight was over for we think that a champion should be able to solve the fighting style of any opponent in 15 rounds.

We note where the bookmakers have started out by making Louis a one to six favorite. That is customary and a champion usually starts out at about that figure, particularly such a champion as the Bomber. Between now and Thursday night, the odds will vary a little but it would not be surprising to see Joe a 1-8 favorite at ring-side. There will be some takers for many fans like the long odds and they have something to talk about for many months. We remember well that we happened to take Gene Tunney in his first fight with Dempsey. And were we proud of ourself as a picker in addition to a small financial gain.

One fellow in Harlingen (name on request) has yet to bet on Louis. He takes the long odds and feels confident that he will catch "Big going out" and will get even.

So in order to keep the records straight, we pick Louis to win over Godoy and we believe it will be with a knockout in the early rounds.

Real Action
If you haven't taken in any of the games at the La Feria girls softball tournament, you are missing something.

It makes little difference how far you have to drive, you will be well paid for your trip for the girls certainly do give you something to talk about. They play the game for all it is worth and there are several teams entered in the tournament that could give a man's team a fit.

This week the weaker teams will go out, leaving the top one to go after the title. This means the going will be tougher and the games harder fought.

We cannot help but pass on the tip to you to attend these games.

American League Chatter
During the last week, Pitchers Niggling and Gorsica won their first American League games while Trotter of the Browns was credited with his first 1940 victory. First defeats for the season were charged against Al Smith of Cleveland, Galehouse of Boston and Russo of the Yankees. . . . Steve Sundra is not as fortunate as effective this season as in 1939. A year ago, he won his first eleven games. This year, he lost his first three. . . . Elden Auker has looked good even when losing in his last four games for the Browns. He lost to Chicago and Cleveland, 3 to 2, to Chicago and Cleveland, 4 to 3, and to Philadelphia, 15 to 1. . . . In winning five games in a row, Marvin Breuer of the Yankees allowed only 28 hits and nine runs.

Between May 23 and June 7, Jack Knott of the White Sox lost three games by a one-run margin. . . . Walter Judnich, Brown outfielder, had a great day in the field, June 7, starting two double plays. . . . Although Marvin Breuer of the Yankees has been mighty effective this season, one Cleveland batsman considers him his "cousin," Hal Trosky gathering three home runs off the sensational youngster in two games. . . . Al Milnar, Cleveland southpaw, had pitched 24 scoreless innings prior to June 11, allowing only two runs in his last four games. In addition to pitching two consecutive shut-outs, Milnar has pitched three games this season in which his opponents have scored by one run.

Defeats Old Golf Rival In Finals

Gals See - Saw From First Hole

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Betty Jameson, women's National golf champion of San Antonio, burned up the Glen Echo course in 8 under par Saturday to defeat Patty Berg, the defending champion, 2 up in a thrilling 36-hole bout for the Trans-Mississippi championship.

It remained anybody's game to the seventeenth hole, where Betty won with a par 4 after Patty was forced to recover from a trap for a bogey 5. All the Texan had to do was halve the home green but Patty's resistance was then completely broke and she overrode the green with her third shot for another bogey 6, while her opponent was in nicely for a par.

The match saw-sawed all day and Betty was downhearted coming up to the fifteenth one down.

But here she cracked in the most spectacular shot of the day—a chip in from a foot off the green. She aimed for nearly two minutes then threaded the needle for a birdie three on the 33rd hole.

They halved the sixteenth with birdie fours, but Betty was on top to play.

The nip-and-tuck battle is best described by the fact the girls halved only 15 of the 36 holes. The other 21 were see-sawed back and forth.

Coffey Winner At River Crest

FORT WORTH—(AP)—State Champion Bill Coffey of Fort Worth won the 22nd annual River Crest Invitation Saturday, his second major title in the week.

He defeated Don Schumacher of Dallas 1 up in the 36-hole finals, drawing even at the 35th hole and winning with a screaming eagle three as against Schumacher's birdie on the 36th.

Last Sunday Coffey captured the state championship in the tourney at San Angelo.

Andrew Chilton, Fort Worth, Number 1 man on the University of Texas golf team, beat Norman Rowland, also of Fort Worth, 1 up on the 23rd in the championship consolation final.

Midget Autos Race At Mission Today
MISSION—Du Scott and Gordon Sibson will duel for racing honors Sunday afternoon when the summer season is opened at the Legion Speedway in Mission. Dark horse candidates for top place in the seven events will be three other Valley drivers, Joe Schreiner, Earnest Hocker and Bart Beach.

Twelve or more drivers will form the racing program, all Valley men. A strong racing ring will be built up from Valley drivers, members of the Mission Legion post announced, and a series of weekly or semi-weekly race programs scheduled.

More Valley interest will be created through an all-Valley program and, in addition, the heavy expense of bringing up-state drivers in will be eliminated.

The Mission track has been pronounced one of the best and fastest in South Texas by drivers who have raced all over the Southwest. A special oil base was used in constructing the regulation size oval last summer and the track has been pronounced excellent condition for the season.

For the Sunday afternoon event, 1,000 seats in the shade are available at 20 and 40 cents.

Mercedes, Weslaco Squads Will Clash
MERCEDES—The Mercedes Lions will play host Sunday afternoon at Lions Park to the Weslaco Panthers, with play beginning at 3:30 P. M.

Races Postponed
PORT ISABEL—Due to a number of sailboat pilots going to Corpus Christi to officiate at the Buceanier Days Regatta to be held Sunday, the Port Isabel Yacht Club sailboat races will not be held here Sunday as scheduled.

The races will be held Sunday, June 23, it was announced here Saturday.

Pinch hitter Silvestri of the White Sox was the first batsman to make a home run off Monte Pearson of the Yankees this season. . . . Not until June 5 did Boston lose a game by one run. They had won 10 by that margin, several of them by virtue of Jimmy Fox's ninth inning home runs. . . . Walter Masterson, Washington youth right hander, has had a peculiar record. In four innings of relief work against Boston, he allowed one hit and won. In two innings of relief, he allowed New York two hits and lost. Next, he pitched a complete seven-inning game against the Athletics and won, allowing three hits. Then, he tackled Cleveland and went the nine-inning route, allowing four hits, winning again. . . . Boston baseball writers say that although fans around the American League circuit delight in booing Manager Joe Cronin, the latter really thrives on their efforts. In fact, he is said to enjoy the razzing.

Vitt Caught Off Guard

WINNING GOLF

By LAWSON LITTLE
Your Follow-Through

My conception of the follow-through is that this part of the swing should be considered more as the result of a well-made swing than the cause of a good swing.

If a player stands to his ball in a position that allows him to swing the club without being tensed or strained, the chances are much better for him to finish the shot well. He will be relaxed so that the clubhead will be able to pull his body, arms, hands and feet into a good follow-through position.

It can be said of the follow-through that the body is permitted to give to the natural swinging of the clubhead. And as balance throughout the entire golf swing, is nothing more than the giving of the body to the swing of the club, the follow-through and the balance are very closely related.

For those students of the game who are more analytically minded, I will attempt to break down the follow-through and explain the actual positions of the various parts of the body when the player is in position.

First I will consider the feet. Hundreds of pictures show us that nearly all the good players have most of their weight on the left foot at the finish of the shot. A closer study of these pictures show us that most of this weight is on the heel of the left foot. The right foot supports very little of the player's weight and the right heel has been lifted off the ground by the turning to the left of the left side; so that only the point of the toe rests on "terra firma."

Working up from the feet, we come to the body. As a general rule the angle of the curvature of the body in the follow-through is the waist by the upper part of the legs and the upper part of the body is the same as it was at address. There has been no suggestion of straightening up.

The left hip has been advanced forward and turned well to the left so that the player's chest is practically facing the direction of play.

Next comes the hands and arms. For the upright swinger, the hands should finish quite high—I might say "fairly close to the player's head." The flat swinger should finish with his hands nearer his left shoulder than his head. The finish position is exactly opposite from the top of the backswing. The right arm should tend to be straight and the left elbow pointed toward the ground. Even at this stage of the swing, a firm grip on the club should be maintained particularly with the left hand.

Seldom is the follow-through given much concern by the average player. And this is probably because the follow-through naturally comes well after the ball has been struck. I cannot overemphasize the importance of the player, once in a while, checking up on his follow-through. Because, as the follow-through is the result of a good swing, many faults can be discovered by working backwards through an analysis of the follow-through. Many times in my own game I can cure a fault by making myself finish the swing correctly. In this, I know that I am contradicting myself, but when I also know that the faulty follow-through comes from the fault that occurs before the ball has been hit, I feel that the contradiction is sometimes justified.

Wanted—Angler To Catch First Sailfish Or Marlin

PORT ISABEL—Who will be the first to bring in a sailfish or marlin during the 1940 season? Commercial fishermen working near the snapper banks 18 to 20 miles off-shore report seeing many sailfish during the recent period of ideal fishing weather. Schools as large as eight to 10 have been sighted and many smaller groups were seen on several occasions—often coming within a few yards of their boats.

During the recent ideal weather conditions most local anglers devoted their time to catching barrels of king mackerel which like the wild pigeon in by gone days seemed inexhaustible. Many good catches of tarpon were made by up-state and out-of-state sportsmen. For several days tarpon fishing was at the peak of excellence.

The summer tourist should blow out by the weekend and ideal fishing conditions should be present again. Fish appetites should have been well satisfied from the recent enormous catches of kings. Fishing Rodeo dates are only six weeks hence and a few good catches of sail or marlin at this time would stimulate interest among the class of sportsmen who participate in the annual rodeo.

Large schools of menhaden are reported to be off shore now and when the menhaden are in fishing is always tops.

Black Wonders Play Black Aces Sunday
SAN BENITO—The San Benito Black Wonders will play the Corpus Christi Black Aces at Kiwanis Park here Sunday afternoon with the umpire calling "Play Ball" at 3:30 o'clock.

The game will bring together two of the best Negro teams in South Texas and a fast contest is predicted.

Net Tournament Plans Complete
McALLEN—Junior and boys tennis tournaments will be run off at the same time as the men's tourney on the clay courts here July 4-6, Chuck Wagner, court manager, announced Saturday.

Wagner has worked a third court into good playing condition in order to be able to take care of a large field. Up-state players have been invited to the tournament, although rankings will be given Valley nets men only. Trophies are being ordered this week.

Closing date for entering is June 28. Fees are 50 cents for boys' singles and $1 for boys' doubles. Tenants are $1.30 for junior singles and doubles, respectively, and $1 and $1.50 for seniors.

Boys' classification includes those 15 year old and under, junior 18 and under, and there is no limit for the men's division.

Louis Has Hopes Of Celebrating Thursday Night Godoy Will Face His Big Guns

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joe Louis is throwing a party in Yankee Stadium Thursday night to celebrate the end of the third year in his record reign as king of the fight world.

He'll have no cake to carve. So the Bomber figures he'll carve Arturo Godoy instead.

He meets the crouching Chilean for 15 rounds or less in his 11th defense of the world's heavyweight championship—an all-time total which already has doubled the "high" for successful title defenses by any of the 15 previous heavy-weight champions.

Joe tangled with Godoy last February and, although coming off with a 15-round split decision, he was subjected to considerable ridicule for the way Godoy's crouching, "squat-tag" boxing baffled him.

"He made me look bad," Louis has explained, and, hurt as always when his pride has been touched by an opponent's unorthodox tactics, the one-time Alabama cotton-picker has wheeled out his big guns.

Godoy probably is as confident a rival as Louis ever faced. The Chilean is convinced he took Joe's Sunday punches without getting his hair too mussed. So, now he is of the definite opinion Louis hasn't a chance to win.

The betting men, however, advised Arturo to take off those rose-colored glasses. They've installed the Brown Bomber a 1 to 6 choice.

Aggies Will Not Play At Tyler

TYLER—(AP)—The Texas Aggies gathered plenty of roses of their own last football season and for the first time in four years will not play in Tyler's Rose Festival game, October 5.

Rose Festival officials announced Saturday, however, they have prospects of a bang-up festival game anyway. The Hardin - Simmons Cowboys of Abilene, they said, will play the Arizona State College Bulldogs of Tempe.

Originally, the game was scheduled for Phoenix but has now been switched to Tyler to round out the annual all-day festival honoring one of the city's principal products—roses.

Dixie Howell, former Alabama University star who led the Crimson Tide to a Rose Bowl victory, coaches the Bulldogs. Frank Kimbro, brother of Texas A. and M.'s All-American John Kimbro, is Cowboy pilot.

The Rose Festival encounter will be the third game of the 1940 season for both teams. Previous to the engagement, the Cowboys will meet Daniel Baker and Centenary, The Tempe Bulldogs will meet the University of New Mexico and West Texas State before coming to Tyler.

Odessa Goes After Baseball Franchise
ODESSA, Tex.—(AP)—Odessa baseball fans busily waged a campaign Saturday to bring the Big Spring West Texas-New Mexico baseball franchise to Odessa.

Tony Rego, Big Spring manager and owner of the franchise, indicated that the sale of 1,500 tickets to an "opening day game" June 26 would guarantee the transfer, subject to the approval of other league managers.

Odessa was a charter league member in 1937 but withdrew because the city was without lights for night play. Since that time, it has obtained a night plant.

Chasing Rabbits Helps Miler To Break Records

MARSTON FITZSIMMONS

POMEROY, Wash.—Young Marston Fitzsimmons runs like a hare—which isn't so strange considering that he trains for the mile event by galloping over the hills where the packrabbits run out on his father's farm.

He has to train here because Pomeroy High School has a track team but no track.

Marston, a slender, 18-year-old with tremendous leg power and virtually untested stamina, has been burning up other people's tracks since mid-way of last season.

That's when the Pomeroy coach decided the school should have a track team. He took a group of boys up to the town baseball diamond, measured out a rough track and put his athlete to work.

Marston wanted to be a sprinter. His flair for finishing last in the dashes caused the coach to decide his protégé should be a miler—he certainly couldn't do any worse in that event.

A few weeks later Marston pushed the winner of the state scholastic championship mile to a new state record of 4:27.

This year Pomeroy's track team found even the baseball diamond denied them. So they did their practice running anywhere they could. Marston chose the hills on his Dad's farm and guessed at the distance he was running.

In his first 1940 tussle with a stopwatch he turned in a 4:24 mile—and up to late May he had broken a record in every meet this spring. His goal is the 4:21.3 inter-scholastic mark set by Lou Zamperini.

Two Cleveland Players State Opinion Of Vitt

DES MOINES, Ia.—(AP)—The Register Saturday night quoted First Baseman Hal Trosky as saying in a telephone interview that:

"The Cleveland baseball team needs a new manager."

Trosky added, the Register said, that, "Oscar Vitt has more nerve than any man I know in trying to stay in power when he realizes that every man on the club feels a change should be made."

Trosky, one of 12 players who asked President Alva Bradley for a change in managers, returned to Norway, Ia., to attend funeral services for his mother.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Pitcher Bob Feller, breaking his silence on the "Fire-Vitt" campaign of a dozen Cleveland Indians, said Saturday he had "nothing personally" against Pilot Oscar Vitt, but—

"Sometimes it seems he'll drive us all nuts. Maybe it's just his nervous condition."

Vitt himself already had admitted "nervousness" in the dugout, adding: "What do the fellows want? A manager who doesn't care whether they win or lose?"

The consensus: that club officials probably could do one of three things:

1. Dismiss the peppery pilot.
2. Get rid of the most rebellious players (not regarded as likely, because the club would have to employ sleight-of-hand speed to beat the league trading deadline at midnight Saturday night.)
3. Conduct a peace campaign to save the wounds of both players and pilot, keeping the services of all involved.

Should Vitt be discharged, Coach Luke Sewell, longtime Cleveland catcher who is the preference of players, probably would be named at least acting manager.

Easy Fishing
PORT ARTHUR—(AP)—No hook No line! No bait!

Yet Scoutmaster Clem Hall and four of his Troop 74 Boy Scouts insist they caught 28 trout "from 10 to 14 inches in length."

While at their summer camp on Village Creek, near Silsbee, the fishermen relate, the four boys pulled their boat up a small stream, swinging backwards, it chanced to corner a sizable school of trout in shallow water. Desperately attempting to get back in deep water, the fish jumped over and into the boat and upon the bank.

Player Trade

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Grider And Thomas C. Barber, Jr.

BROWNSVILLE—A beautiful candlelight ceremony, attended only by relatives, united in marriage Miss Laurita Celaya Grider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Starr Grider, and Thomas Caldwell Barber, Jr., son of Mr. Barber Sr., of Mesa City, Arizona, and Brownsville, and the late Mrs. Barber. The rites were read in the bride's family home at 7:15 o'clock Saturday evening by the Rev. Father Francisco Balzola, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church.

A setting of great beauty had been created for the rites with baskets and vases of pink and white gladioli being used throughout the downstairs rooms. White tapers were used in many-branched candelabra, and in floor standards, furnishing illumination. Suspended high in the space made by the circular stairs was a basket of the chosen flowers, and the balustrade of the stairs was entwined with fern, with bouquets of the chosen blooms placed at intervals.

The bride descended the stairs with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was especially lovely in a gown following the old-fashioned trend, of silk net worn over bodice was adorned with rows of lace incertion, with Val lace ruffling extending from the shoulder to form a deep V below the waistline. The same ruffling was used on either side of the row of tiny pearl buttons from the collar to the waistline, and as a finishing for the short, puffed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of row upon row of lace-edged ruffles, which cascaded at the back into a billowy train. She wore long mitts of white lace, and her three-tiered fingertip veil was caught to the head with a tiny, flat cluster of stephanotis. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink camellias and stephanotis, finished with a ruffle of real lace. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch, a gold sunburst with diamond center.

Maid of honor to her sister was Miss Lucile Starr Grider, whose gown of sheer symphony blue silk marquisette, was worn over taffeta. The shirred bodice, with square neckline, had short puffed sleeves. The full skirt and the sleeves were ornamented with entwined circles in graduated sizes, of matching lace. In her hair, just above the curls on the nape of her neck, Miss Grider wore a half-circlet of blue agapanthus lilies, tied with daffodil yellow. Her bouquet was an old-fashioned affair in the pastel shades, centered with a yellow rose, and tied with yellow ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Browne and Miss Inez Brulay, wore frocks similar to Miss Grider's, in daffodil yellow. Their bouquets were centered with the blue agapanthus and tied with blue satin.

Best man to the groom was his brother, Bill Barber.

Mrs. E. E. Sadler, at the Hammond organ, played the accompaniment for the nuptial solos, Thine, Alone, and Gounod's Ave Maria. The bride and groom were accompanied by Hugh R. Lamb. She played singing by the choir of Wagner's Lohengrin for the processional and during the ceremony. Evening Star from Wagner's Tannhauser.

The rites were read at one end of the long room, in the bay formed by three windows. Wrought iron floor candelabra held white tapers, lighting a bank of pink and white gladioli. Two tall, white cathedral tapers flanked the satin-covered prie-dieu at which the couple knelt.

Immediately following the ceremony, there was a large reception. Guesting guests at the door were Mrs. Jesse Dennett and the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Augustine Celaya, Sr.

In the dining room, on a table laid with a handsome cloth of cut-work linen was the bride's cake, a huge, round, four-tiered confection, embossed in floral design, and topped with a bride's bouquet encased in a silver foil. In front of the cake, either side were crystal candelabra holding white tapers, and gardenias in crystal containers long, low arrangement. Elsewhere about the room were the pink and white gladioli in crystal containers, and white tapers.

Presiding at the cake, after the bride cut the traditional first slice, was her aunt, Mrs. Augustine Celaya, Jr. Serving the punch, set on a table on the porch were Miss Ann Strain of San Antonio and Miss Jane Strain of San Antonio.

Others assisting about the home were Mesdames Ben M. Freudenstein, R. B. Creager, Wayne James Dunn of Fort Knox, Kentucky, James L. Renfro, Rodolpho Barreda, Bill Barber, Charles Eracht, J. B. Secret, of Galveston, Joe Celaya, Joe Scanlan Celaya of Mexico City, Herbert L. Stokely, O. King Mason, J. J. Young, John McCoy, Lucy Starr Grider, A. Albert Browne, Louis Brulay, R. A. Grubbs of Dallas, J. D. Williamson of Waco, and Miss Lucille Marshall of Waco. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Barber departed for a honeymoon trip. They plan to be away two weeks, and upon their return, will be at home in Brownsville.

Mrs. Barber is traveling in a chic frock of navy blue and white plaid silk jersey, with the bias skirt and the full bodice being gathered at the waist to an inserted

This 'N' That

By Minnie Gilbert

WORTHY Of imitation by voters everywhere is the individual charge accepted by women attending the Flag Day breakfast held by the four Valley D.A.R. chapters in Harlingen Friday.

Each is to write individual letters to congressmen and senators in Washington urging particular awareness in the handling of two measures now pending.

The letters will strongly urge defeat of the pending measure to require registration of all firearms in the United States, it being readily apparent that lawless and subversive elements will not voluntarily surrender or report weapons, and enforcement of such a measure might cripple possible need for home defense.

The second point to be urged upon representatives in congress is to compel revision of the present proposal for universal conscription to avoid any racial problems arising from billeting Negroes with youths of different racial background.

Mrs. Walter C. Weaver, Donna, who made both issues clearly important in an intelligent and informing talk, pointed to the fact that many boys from the Southland have fled CCC camps because their inherited attitude toward the Negro race was disregarded.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Weaver was making stirring talks about the menace of communism and other isms in this country as long ago as 15 years or more.

ANOTHER DONNA woman, Mrs. Beatrice Drake Frase, drew attention to the failure of most motion picture audiences to stand when the flag is shown on the screen or when the national anthem is played.

In Mexico, for example, she said failure of any person to rise to his feet when the Mexican flag is shown in a film makes one liable to severe questioning if not punishment.

Mrs. Frase, incidentally, is one of the few women from the Valley who will attend the national republican convention to select nominees for the presidency and vice presidency.

She is looking forward to the convention with lively interest.

EVERYONE, NOWADAYS, feels the need to express in action some way the tremendous urge to give assistance to the sorely pressed rear guard of democracy in Europe. But, far too many are overlooking the obvious act—contributions to the Red Cross to alleviate the staggering burden of caring for war refugees.

Don't wait to be asked to give to the Red Cross; take your share to the local headquarters and ask if there is any help needed there that you can lend.

HATS FOR FALL, millinery makers are announcing portentously, are going to look like hats. They're really going to fit the head and will be adjusted to expose both eyes of the wearer.

No, it's not any great epidemic of going sensible or anything like that.

It's because the pompadour is likely to be the prevailing hair style by then.

And the pompadour, incidentally, was revived by smart Parisiennes because there were no longer hairdressers to keep coiffures in their previously intricate patterns.

THERE'S NO letdown quite so upsetting for the minute—as assuring your very conservative friends that you actually enjoyed that walk with driving rain pelting hard—

And feeling quite superior in the face of their adroitness of getting hair or clothing wet—

And then facing a mirror triumphant to discover that your dress of some synthetic linen or silk has shrunk exposing from two to three inches of white slip.

OLD-FASHIONED square dancing gives promise of displacing Scottische and "Put Your Little Foot," judging from the unexpected way it's catching on in a number of cities.

They even have experts from university or other centers to serve as callers so the dancers will know what they are to do; of course the dancers soon learn the call rhymes themselves and one or two men learn to give the rousing chants.

Some persons have claimed the trend to more exuberant dancing is just another outlet for people's pent-up nervousness about troubled times.

Be that as it may, there is no need for the Valley to hunt for experts to call off the figures for old-fashioned square dances.

One of the best known in the old days of country dancing was Ben Kysor of San Benito. Jim Holton Sr. of the same town could give some pointers as well as his wife. Wait until some of the oldtimers catch their kids trying out the "new" square dances. That will be one time when they can show the youngsters how something is done.

Girl Pilots Find Bars Are Relaxed

They are making room for women in aviation—at last.

In June, 935 American girls will get flying licenses. When these licenses are stamped, signed, sealed and delivered, the pioneer days of lady pilots will be over.

Some of these new girl pilots confidently expect careers in aviation. Most consider flying merely a pleasant accomplishment, just another subject they studied at school. This summer, if they are so minded, they can fly a hundred miles to attend a bridge party, and fly home again in time for dinner. Nothing to it.

These girls owe their flying freedom to the Civil Aeronautics Authority course given in cooperation with 435 colleges and universities. The price to the student is $40, about one-tenth of the actual cost of training.

The course provides instruction for nine times as many men as girls. There always have been plenty of men flyers, but until now only 600 women have managed to get licenses.

The $40 covers insurance, and it's a feather in the cap of the CAA that insurance for this course is cheap. Figures just released by insurance companies show they consider CAA students 1,000 per cent better risks than other aviation students.

It's a stiff course—harder, probably, than Economics 202, or Biology 4. Ground instruction covers history of aviation, civil air regulations, navigation, meteorology, theory and construction of parachutes, engines, radio. Then, at last, the student gets her hands on the stick of a plane. If she piles up 35 hours of flying time to make herself eligible for a private pilot's license, she can take up passengers, though not for hire. All students get a minimum of 35, a maximum of 50 flying hours.

The purpose of the CAA is to encourage civilian flying, and the purpose certainly should be accomplished. The course will be continued for at least another two years, which means that 2,000 more girls will take to the skies for the pure joy of flying.

The CAA fixed its rate of men to girls after a Federal Education Bureau survey showed that was the ratio in high school aviation clubs and private flying schools. In another survey, high school girls listed aviation as their second choice in careers, topped only by movie stardom. Maybe that touched the hearts of the CAA.

What are a girl-pilot's chances for a paying career in aviation?

Zero, if she aspires to be a transport pilot. It isn't done. Slight, if she hopes to be a stewardess. That's a narrow field. One company, Eastern Airlines, is using men as stewards.

But many related fields are open to girls. The course itself gives employment to a number of women flyers; they're hired to teach flying to boys and girls.

Earl Southern, in charge of the eastern territory of the CAA, says the girl pilot can be a charter pilot, an aerial photographer, a meteorologist, a designer of airplanes—all excellent opportunities in expanding fields.

She can do publicity for an airline, or work in a traffic department. Ruth Haviland, expert flyer, director of the Women's Department of United Airlines, Mildred Johnson conducts an air shopping service. Mary Nicholson, another fine flyer, is secretary to Jacqueline Cochran, and Miss Cochran uses her plane to speed up the business of her cosmetics house. There are a few women navigators, a few women radio operators, and four or five women with degrees in aeronautical engineering.

Airplane and aircraft engine companies have orders for more than $700,000,000 worth of business. Aviation will double its activity within a year. The air-struck girl has a reasonably good chance to get her name added to the lengthening pay rolls.

Flag Day Observance By D. A. R. Chapters Stresses World Crisis

HARLINGEN—Recognition of internal dangers threatening democracy in the United States and reaffirmation of cardinal patriotic precepts on which the organization is based gave a deeply serious note to the fifth annual Flag Day breakfast and program held by the four Valley chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution Friday at the Madison Hotel. Mrs. Beatrice Drake Frase, Donna, was presiding officer.

Mrs. Frase, who is newly elected corresponding secretary for the Texas chapter, D. A. R., was presented gifts from the chapters. "The D. A. R.'s were first in urging national defense, in warning against isms, and in proper observance of the flag code," Mrs. Frase stated and suggested that it was now the duty of members to "keep their feet on the ground" and not get caught in hysteria and propaganda.

She introduced several members who have made outstanding contributions in D. A. R. activity. Included were Mrs. R. M. Winn, Mercedes, leader in Mercedes Flag Day ceremonies; Mrs. Leon Brown, Mission, for her work in Texas with approved schools; Mrs. H. C. Groom, Brownsville, state chairman for Ellis Island; and Mrs. D. P. Germane, McAllen, new chairman for national defense for Texas.

Miss Mildred Gonsner heightened the patriotic theme of the meeting with her thrilling song, "The Americans Come." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Virginia Perry.

Speakers for the day were Mrs. J. C. McCreary, Alamo, regent for Rio Grande chapter, and Mrs. Walter G. Weaver, Donna. Mrs. McCreary gave an inspiring tribute to the flag.

Mrs. Weaver's talk, based upon personal experiences and information obtained through D. A. R. channels, included startling facts regarding undercover activities of fifth column groups in the United States. She minimized the threat represented by religious fanatics and uneducated groups, but declaring that serious work of undermining the government is under way in high places. She strongly advocated rifle training for youths

Mrs. Sanders has chosen "You Are Guiding Me," written in sonnet form and the lines are being hand-lettered by Marion Price, well-known Valley artist who has just moved from Alamo to Harlingen. The frame of native mesquite is being made by C. C. Hatchett famous for his skill in woodcarving.

The biographical sketch will be excerpts from the foreword of Mrs. Sanders' book of poems, "Jewels of Personality," written by Mrs. Maxwell Thomas of Carlsbad, a sorority sister of the Harlingen woman.

Wallace Beery Appears In Epic Of Early West

'20 Mule Team' Saga Of Death Valley

Combining all the action and thrills of the best adventure films with the uniquely picturesque background of Death Valley and three sterling performances by a trio of the screen's most capable veterans, Wallace Beery, Leo Carrillo and Marjorie Rambeau in "20 Mule Team" emerges on the screen as one of the most thoroughly entertaining pictures of the year.

Saga of the pioneers who braved the Valley's treacherous heat to wrest a fortune from the borax mines, "20 Mule Team" presents Beery in his element as Muleskinner Bill Bragg, his most colorful and thoroughgoing characterization since "Viva Villa." As his Indian "swampy," Pete, Carrillo scores as outstandingly as he did in that previous picture, while Marjorie Rambeau proves such a sure-fire feminine teammate for Beery as saloon-owner Josie Johnson that she promises almost at once to step into a new niche of fame. The three are ideally cast together.

"20 Mule Team," is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The March of Time is booked for showing Sunday and Monday at Capitol Theatre, Brownsville, Ritz Theatre, Weslaco and State Theatre, Mercedes and Palace Theatre, McAllen, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Anna Neagle Stars In Musical Comedy

"Irene" one of the most popular musical comedies of all time, comes to the screen with the lovely British star, Anna Neagle, in the title-role and Ray Milland co-starred as a New York playboy who falls in love with the peppery heroine.

Running for almost two years on Broadway, and having half a dozen road companies covering the nation at the time it made its appearance, "Irene" scored an unqualified hit with audiences the country over.

"Irene" is booked for showing Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito, Friday and Saturday.

CURRENT FILMS

ROBERT TAYLOR and Vivien Leigh are perfectly teamed in "Waterloo Bridge," which is booked for showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito; Tuesday and Wednesday at the State Theatre in Mercedes and at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Balancing a tender love story against a powerfully dramatic war background, the picture has everything in the way of brilliant performances, an absorbing romance, spectacular settings, exciting action and unusual photography.

Excellent supporting performances are contributed by Lucille Watson, Virginia Field, Maria Ouspenskaya and C. Aubrey Smith.

POPULAR COMEDY SEEN IN NEW FILM

RE-UNITED for the first time since their appearance together in the memorable comedy hit "The Awful Truth," Irene Dunne and Cary Grant are co-starring in "My Favorite Wife," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

'DOCTOR TAKES A WIFE' IS COMEDY HIT

LORETTA YOUNG and Ray Milland share co-starring honors in the screen's romantic comedy hit "The Doctor Takes a Wife," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Miss Young is seen as a young author who writes books in praise of spinsterhood; Milland, as a young doctor who thinks women are the closest things to poison a medical mind can find. And, in order to advance their respective careers, this delightfully matched couple are required to pose as man and wife, to bill and coo in public and to save their batlings for the privacy of their "love nest."

The featured supporting cast to Miss Young and Milland in "The Doctor Takes a Wife" includes Reginald Gardiner, Gail Patrick and Edmund Gwenn.

SPENCER TRACY SEEN AS THOMAS EDISON

BRINGING movie-goers another amazing proof that lives of great men are inspirational, dramatic, human and entertaining is Spencer Tracy's new starring picture "Edison the Man," which is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco.

Spencer Tracy has always been described as "superb" in every performance. It is difficult to picture him as topping his past amazing performances, yet, as Thomas Edison, he does. His portrayal is as human as your next door neighbor and as genuine as though he himself had lived the remarkable events of the film.

Supporting the star in this picture are players who give outstanding performances, among them Rita Johnson, Lynne Overman, Charles Coburn, Gene Lockhart, Henry Travers, and Felix Bressart.

YES, MISS ABBIE, AND, AFTER I PROMISED NOT TO SCREAM-- HE WAS REALLY NICE-- IN HIS OWN ODD WAY

HE EXPLAINED--IT WAS THE ONLY WAY--HE COULD GET HOME TO CRABTREE CORNERS TO SEE HIS MOTHER

MOMMA ROMERO--WAS HERE WHEN HE CAME. I HIRE HER TO HELP WITH MY HEAVY HOUSE WORK. I NEVER SAW A WOMAN SO HARPY. IT IS A HAPPY THING--TO HAVE A BOY COME HOME--

MIKE ROMERO'S SO BITTER--SO SURE THERE'S NOTHING GOOD OR HONEST IN THE WORLD--AND YET--THERE'S A WORLD--OF GOODNESS--AND HONESTY--IN HIS OWN EYES

HIS MOTHER SHOWED ME SOME PAINTINGS MIKE DID A COUPLE OF YEARS AGO. HE HAS REAL TALENT. SHE WANTS HIM--TO STAY HERE--AND PAINT AND MEBBE BECOME A GREAT ARTIST

OH, MIKE, YOU WON'T LEAVE YOUR MOMMA AGAIN, WILL YOU? YOU WILL STAY HERE--AND PAINT BEAUTIFUL PICTURES--LIKE I ALWAYS DREAMED YOU WOULD?

SURE I WILL, MOM!

SEE, I HAVE BOUGHT YOU THE FINEST PAINTS--AND BRUSHES--AND CANVAS--AND AN EASEL-- YOU LIKE THEM, MIKE?

GEE, MOM!--THAT'S EXPENSIVE STUFF!!

MOM--YOU MUST HAVE WORKED VERY HARD TO EARN ENOUGH--TO BUY ALL THIS--FOR ME--

TUSH!! WHAT ELSE IS THERE FOR A MOMMA TO DO--BUT TO MAKE HER SON HAPPY? OH, MIKE-- YOU WILL USE THESE THINGS--AND PAINT--AND THAT WILL MAKE ME SO HAPPY--

MIKE ROMERO!!!

WE SORTA HEARD YOUR YEN FOR SWELL AUTOMOBILES GOTCHA INTO TROUBLE! TWO YEARS IN THE PEN IS WHAT WE HEARD, MIKE.

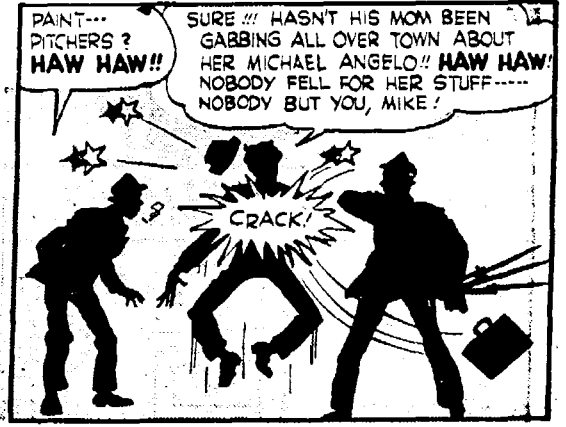

YEH! YOU HEARD RIGHT!

DIDJA KEEP IN TRAINING THERE, MIKE?

BEFORE YOU WENT AWAY--FOLKS AROUND HERE WERE SAYIN' YOU COULD GO PLACES--ONCE YOU ENTERED THE PROFESSIONAL RING, MIKE

I'M ALL THRU WITH THAT STUFF. ME--I'M GOING TO PAINT--
